BILLINGS MAY CONFESS TO UNIONIST PLOT

German Offer Too Low

FRANCE REFUSES TO REDUCE MINIMUM OF FIXED REPARATIONS

[EXCLUSIVE WIRELESS DISPATCH.]

PARIS, April 25.—Germany's new reparations proposals are considered unacceptable to the French government.

Through confidential agents in Berlin and Washington, Quai d'Orsay early this morning was informed that Foreign Minister Simons of Germany is below the 226,000,000,000 gold marks (roughly $56,500,000,000) stipulated in Paris' demand, and which Premier Briand has stated was a minimum which could not be reduced.

If President Harding communicates the proposals—and it is inferred he will in order to start negotiations—the French will consent to discuss the offer at Saturday's Supreme Council conference.

FRANCE RESERVES RIGHTS.

Premier Briand will reserve the right to occupy the Ruhr basin immediately if no solution appears probable during the conference.

The French are willing to reopen pourparlers, but they intend to apply the sanctions first in order to impress the Berlin government that France is in earnest and will permit no trifling.

The French expect upper Silesia to be revealed as a joker in the new proposals, the Germans explaining afterward if an agreement is reached, that their figures were based on their keeping the entire plebiscite region.

Diplomatic circles here are cynical over the fact that Germany does not offer to assume the Allied war debts to the United States as reparations, asserting that Dr. Simons had been warned this would be distasteful to America.

WASHINGTON SILENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—No official announcement was authorized by officials of the Washington government tonight relative to the exact character of the new counter reparations proposition made by the Berlin government in response to the strong intimation of the American government that Germany formulate new proposals as a proper basis for discussion with the Allied powers.

At a late hour it was authoritatively stated at the State Department that the text of the Berlin government's reply to the Hughes memorandum of April 21 had not reached Washington. But it is no doubted that officials here are aware of the exact character of the new German terms and believed that some information has reached the State Department regarding the general character of the new proposals, even if the exact text of the communication may not yet have been received by Secretary Hughes.

REASONS OF STATE.

High officials of the department were silent on the subject of German reparations today, and their reticence inspired a belief that for reasons of state it was to official desire that the new German terms should be kept secret for the pres-

SHIP TIE-UP IMPENDING.

175,000 Union Men to Strike.

Engineers, Firemen and Seamen Refuse to Accept Wage Reduction.

Overseas and Coastwise Shipping Affected by Proposed Walkout.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—Lines tending toward a nation-wide strike on May 1 of more than 175,000 unionized marine engineers, firemen and seamen were closely drawn here today, when the unions refused to consider a new contract proposed by the owners carrying wage cuts averaging 25 to 35 per cent.

The engineers, through their national president, William R. Ryan, followed their refusal by issuing a strike order effective that date if the cut is put into effect. The firemen and seamen, through Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's Union, said their men had voted and they too would quit work if the wage cut was effective. Overseas and coastwise American flag ships on the Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and Pacific will be involved unless the differences are adjusted.

At the close of the conferences today, it was announced Admiral Benson, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, had called a conference of representatives of the owners and unions next Wednesday at Washington. It was indicated Federal influence will be used to bring about an agreement and prevent a strike.

The conferences today were the culmination of a series of meetings between representatives of the unions and the owners.

WILL NOT ACCEPT CUT.

The engineers last week announced a wage cut would not be accepted and today the declaration was reiterated. At previous conferences, the firemen and seamen insisted that wage questions be made secondary to enforcement of alleged violations of the La Follette law, abolishment of the Shipping Board's sea service bureau, and preference in employment of union men. The answer of the owners today was that the La Follette seamen's law was a Federal statute, and the sea service bureau was a government agency. It was further stated this bureau was furnishing American ships with seamen, 80 per cent of whom were American citizens, while the seamen's unions were furnishing a negligible percentage of Americans. Preference in employment of

FAIR PLAY FOR NEGRO.

Georgia Governor Takes Action.

Report Reeking with Atrocities Against Blacks Laid Before People.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ATLANTA, April 25.—Gov. Dorsey has started a movement against mistreatment of negroes in Georgia which is regarded as of tremendous importance to the entire South. His initial move is the report he has laid before the people of the State, in which 135 cases of lynching murder and mistreatment of negroes by white people are recounted, and drastic remedies are proposed.

"If conditions indicated by these charges should continue, both God and man would justly condemn Georgia more severely than man and God have condemned Belgium and Leopold for the Congo atrocities," he said. "In some counties the negro is being driven out, as though he were a wild beast. In others he is being held a slave. In others no negroes remain."

ONLY TWO ASSAULTS.

Calling attention to the fact that in only two of the 135 cases was the usual crime against white women involved, he listed in his report instances in which negroes had been beaten, wounded and murdered by individual white men or mobs, in which the negro land owners were intimidated or persecuted until they were forced to sacrifice their lifetime savings and move elsewhere, and numerous cases of peonage. The recently disclosed Jasper county murders are referred to as one of the cases.

Nation-wide attention was attracted to Georgia when it was charged that John S. Williams, wealthy plantation owner, and his three sons, were responsible for the murder of eighteen negroes to prevent them from escaping from the farm where they were being held in peonage.

OTHER ATROCITIES.

The Governor's report revealed that many other atrocities equally horrible, though none on the same wholesale scale, had been committed. In one instance a negro was killed when he attempted to protect a negro woman from attack by a white man, in another a negro and his family had aided a poor white family, all the members of which were suffering from tuberculosis. The white neighbors charged immoral relations between the two

TO SELL MILLER LANDS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The remains of the vast empire of the late Henry Miller, cattle baron, who rose from a butcher boy to the largest individual land owner in the United States, are for sale, according to announcement here tonight by David Brown, secretary of Miller & Lux, a holding corporation. The lands are valued at $40,000,000.

Robbery of Mail Must and Will be Stopped—Hays.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Mail robbers got away with approximately $6,000,000 last year, of which some $2,000,000 has been recovered, Postmaster-General Hays said today in discussing steps taken to remedy this "absolutely intolerable" condition.

"It must and will be stopped," he said, adding that in addition to the distribution of arms to postal employees, the standing reward of $5000 to any employee of the department, who brought in a mail robber had been widened to include the general public.

DIARY FEATURES TRIAL.

Mrs. Stokes Refreshes Memory as to May, 1914, from Little Black Book.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—A little black book was much in evidence today in the Stokes trial. It was Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes's intimate diary for the year 1914—one of a series of volumes—because it has been her habit since girlhood to keep a journal.

Against the repeated objections of Mr. Stokes's counsel, Justice Finch permitted Mrs. Stokes to refresh her memory from the diary, as to her comings, goings and whereabouts during the month of May, 1914.

The introduction of the diary was obviously for the purpose of offsetting the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Matteoslan, witnesses for the r-ch and old hotel man, who testified that late one afternoon, toward the end of May, 1914, they had seen Mrs. Stokes in the bedroom of Edgar T. Wallace, a western oil and mining engineer.

EXPECTED CHILD.

It was during this month, according to Mrs. Stokes's testimony, that she was very much at home as she was expecting the birth of a child early in the September following.

She recalled a shopping journey on May 18. "But I bought nothing as Mr. Stokes, never let me have any money," she explained.

Mrs. Stokes was questioned concerning the portrait of her by S. M. Roosevelt; the painter, now dead, which was exhibited in the last few minutes of the Friday afternoon session of the trial.

CONVICTED BOMBER BELIEVES HE HAS BEEN MADE GOAT BY PALS; NOT ALLOWED TO TALK

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, April 25.—Having concluded that he has been tricked by union labor into a "fool's martyrdom," according to a remarkable report circulated here tonight, Warren K. Billings, who, with Thomas J. Mooney, is serving a sentence of life imprisonment for perpetrating the San Francisco Preparedness Day outrage that killed ten persons, is said to be ready to "squawk" relative to his activities in union sabotage.

Billings, who was convicted as the man who left the suit case bomb in front of 721 Market street, and who contented himself with a general denial that he was near that spot on the day of the explosion, now is said to have admitted that he did have a suit case in his possession, but for a far different, although sinister purpose.

CLAIMED HE HAD ACID.

According to the story credited to the convicted agitator, he was transporting in a suit case a quantity of acid, destined to be poured into the mechanism of San Francisco street cars and upon automobiles rebuilt by nonunion workers. When he was apprehended and later tried for complicity in the bomb explosion, which occurred July 22, 1916, he is said to claim, members of the machinists' union that is alleged to have employed him, approached him and begged him in the interests of union labor to remain quiet.

Billings is an inmate of Folsom prison, eighteen miles northeast of Sacramento, where he has been immured for several months under an official incommunicado order that blankets the prison in a fog of silence.

Permission to see Billings was denied tonight by Charles L. Neufmiller, president of the prison board, and by C. E. McLaughlin, a member of the board, who resides in Sacramento.

PRISON BOARD'S RULE.

In each instance the statement was made that the prison board has adopted a rule, applicable to all prisoners, that no person, other than a relative or an attorney, may converse with a prisoner.

Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of Thomas J. Mooney, who has made, it is said, frequent and urgent applications for permission to talk to Billings, has been included in this order, but with a promise, according to those acquainted with the situation, that she will be immediately apprised of any order permitting an outsider to talk with her convicted husband's criminal companion.

It is said also that Mrs. Mooney has been promised that she will be among the first to see Billings if the official order of silence is lifted.

UNION PAID FIXED RATES TO SLUGGERS

Chicago Prosecutor Tells of Violence Conspiracy in the Recent Strike.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 25.—A black eye, a "busted" nose and a few skull dents—$10.

Intimidation, following up and "risky" work—$50.

Dynamiting and general sabotage —rates on application.

Words to this effect were told to the jury in Judge Taylor's court, where evidence of charges of conspiracy to commit acts of violence by alleged union-labor sluggers is being heard, by Edwin J. Raber, special prosecutor for the State.

It was in his opening address today that Raber said sluggers, who went out during the upholsterers' strike from August, 1916, to April, 1920, were paid the smaller amount for plain and fancy sluggings and higher rates for the dynamiting.

REDS SCORE HAYWOOD.

Traitor, Coward, I.W.W. Declare.

Yellow Streak Seen Before by Old Comrades, Say the Faithful Ones.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 25.—If Russo-American telepathic connections are good—the left ear of "Big Bill" Haywood, present address Moscow, Russia, burned today as his classmen moved toward Leavenworth prison without him.

Virulence usually reserved for the bourgeoisie and "the system" was expended on Haywood by his comrades.

"Traitor," "double-crosser," "coward," "yellow neck"—these are printable samples of the epithets attached to the man who once was secretary-treasurer and hero-in-chief of the I.W.W., but now a fugitive from the American government and the wrath of his fellows.

"MARTYRS" TO CAUSE.

Without exception, according to reports from all parts of the country, the forty-five I.W.W. whom Haywood was to have accompanied to prison today, reported to the Federal authorities. They regard their imprisonment for obstruction of the government's war program as a contribution to the revolutionary cause.

By fleeing to Russia to avoid imprisonment, Haywood has turned traitor to his organization, the I.W.W. asserted.

Eleven of the wobblies left tonight from Chicago for the penitentiary in a special car, accompanied by four Deputy United States Marshals. These men, with their sentences, follow: James Rowan, twenty years; John Baldazzi, ten years; Bagner Johnson, ten years; Sigfried Stemberg, ten years; Dan Buckley, ten years; William Tanner, five years; Clyde Hough, five years; Harry Lloyd, five years; Charles Fluhs, five years; Frank Westerlund, five years; Pietro Nigri, eighteen months.

The remaining members of the organization under sentence, with the exception of William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, are expected to report at the penitentiary within the next five days.

Three men surrendered to Federal authorities at St. Paul at noon, one was reported in custody at Fort Worth, Tex., and several were under arrest in Washington towns.

Although no replies have yet been received from telegrams of inquiry sent to Russia after Haywood's disappearance had been noted, neither the government nor I.W.W. officials doubt that the runaway has sought the protection of the Bolshevists.

Haywood's defection was not unexpected by his comrades, according to spokesmen for the Red organization. Many I.W.W. have long doubted Haywood's loyalty to the syndicalist program of their one big union. He has been, his enemies say, a Communist at heart. An anti-Haywood group succeeded last October in ousting the secretary-treasurer and installing George Hardy in his place. After that Haywood's desertion was looked for.

Hardy was in Russia conferring with Red officials there when Haywood fled from this country. It was predicted that either Hardy or Haywood would be bumped off when they met. That event is not possible, however, for Hardy now is on his way back to the United States, according to other I.W.W. leaders.

FIND SLAIN BOYS' BODIES.

Insane Father Admits Killing Children so They Could be With Mother.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN RAFAEL, April 25.—A three-hour search of the Marin county hills that began when John Cornyn, recently released from the State hospital at Agnew, walked into San Francisco police headquarters and declared that he had shot his two sons, Arthur and Andrew, 7 and 9 years old, respectively, to death yesterday, ended with the finding of the two bodies late today, side by side on the grassy summit of a high hill in Chapman Park, one mile south of Corte Madera.

The father was held tonight in the County Jail. According to the police, he expressed no remorse for his confessed act and gave as a reason that he had been "in communication" with his wife, who died a year ago, and that she "had asked him to send all of their five children to her."

TRIED TO GET OTHERS.

According to the police, a purported attempt of the father to obtain possession of two of the remaining three children after the shooting yesterday afternoon was frustrated. The police said the father went to St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, in San Francisco, where his 2½-year-old daughter Ruth lives, and requested the girl. The orphanage officials refused his request because of his disheveled appearance. The police said that the father had told another son, Paul, aged 13, to meet him at the orphanage.

The bodies of the boys were discovered by George Mayhood, resident of the Chapman Park district, while Cornyn, who had offered in San Francisco to lead police to the place where he had shot his sons, was directing officers to a spot approximately two miles away. When the news that the bodies had been found was carried to the party Cornyn was directing, he became sullen and surly and refused to answer further questions, the police said. He offered no explanation for apparently misdirecting the officers.

HAD COURT ORDER.

AVIATORS HUNTING BALLOON.

Escaped "Captive" Dragging Steel Cable Endangers Arizona Buildings, Irrigation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHOENIX, April 25. — Lieut. George R. Pond, United States Naval Air Service, arrived here today on his search over the deserts of Arizona and near-by States for an escaped captive balloon that is trailing a 600-foot steel cable, threatening serious damage to buildings and irrigation systems.

According to Lieut. Pond, the balloon escaped from the Pacific Fleet last week while target practice was being held.

Later a report was received from Imperial Valley, California, that the cable had caught a gate in an irrigation system and torn it loose. Still later a report was received from Yuma, Ariz., that the balloon had come down and was resting near there. Before naval aviators could reach it, however, the sun next morning expanded the gas in the bag, causing the balloon to soar again.

Lieut. Pond said he had flown 3000 miles over the southwestern deserts in search of the bag.

VETERAN NEWSPAPER WOMAN PASSES AWAY.

PLACERVILLE, April 25.—Miss Dore Ingham, veteran newspaper woman of this city, died here yesterday after a brief illness.

In partnership with Miss Mollie Carpenter, Miss Ingham was owner and publisher of the Mountain Democrat, the oldest newspaper in Eldorado county. She was actively associated with the paper for thirty years. She was a native of Kankakee, Ill. A brother, George H. Ingham, resides in San Francisco, another brother, Harry, in Sacramento, and a third, Max S., in Tucson, Ariz.

DR. SIMONS WILL RESIGN.

Whole German Cabinet Expected to Fall as Result of Foreign Tangle.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, April 25.—The early retirement of Chancellor Ferenbach may be regarded as certain and Dr. Simons, Foreign Minister, has indicated his determination to resign at the earliest opportune moment, according to official circles here.

The resignation of these two leading figures in the ministry, as well as other members of the Cabinet, is believed to be near because of the undercurrent of severe criticism of the delay in handling the foreign situation. The internal situation of Germany, however, is an important element in the forthcoming changes in the government.

SITUATION STRAINED.

The situation is extremely strained, and a crisis has been averted thus far only because of a desire not to complicate the already serious foreign situation.

Although the contents of the German reparations proposal to the United States is still held here ostensibly at the request of the United States in order to give Washington an opportunity to digest the note and sound out the Allies thoroughly all Germany is anxiously awaiting the outcome of the latest move. Both the German government and the people feel that the fate of Germany now rests in the hands of President Harding.

The only cheering news Germany was able to find today regarding her foreign and domestic problems came from the returns from the plebiscite in the Tyrol to determine whether or not the people wished to unite with Germany, which resulted, according to the Foreign Office, in 115,000 out of 150,000 votes favoring Germany.

PEACE MEASURES FILED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Progress on the initial administration policy—to end the state of war by resolution of Congress—was made today in both branches of the Congress. In the Senate the Knox peace resolution, revised in minor detail, was reported favorably by the Foreign Relations Committee, and announcement was made by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, that it would be called up tomorrow. A final vote this week was regarded as possible.

Two similar resolutions, dealing separately with Germany and Austria, were introduced in the House by Chairman Porter of the Foreign Affairs Committee, who announced they would not be taken up until after the Senate acts on the Knox measure.

Although the Senate is to begin formal consideration tomorrow of the Knox resolution, it was not certain tonight that actual debate would start before Wednesday.

An informal conference tomorrow between Senator Underwood of Alabama, Democratic leader, and minority members of the Foreign Relations Committee, with a few other prominent Democratic Senators, was planned to discuss a course of procedure.

Senator Underwood said he expected Democratic action would be similar to that with regard to the first Knox resolution, which was vetoed by former President Wilson.

The final draft of the Knox resolution reported today differed little from Senator Knox's original measure. It would repeal the resolutions declaring a state of war with Germany and Austria, reserve all American rights and privileges under the treaties of Versailles and Trianon, and hold, subject to future disposition, the property of enemy aliens.

The committee vote on reporting the Knox resolution was ninety to two, all Republicans present favoring, and the only two Democrats present opposing it. Other Democratic committee members were given the privilege of recording their opposition.

As distinguished from the Senate measure, the Porter resolutions would declare the state of war at an end, but without repeal of the war resolutions. Representative Porter explained it was unnecessary and perhaps unwise to repeal the war resolutions because such action might be construed as a disavowal of the war.

HOW DOES BRITAIN DO IT?

Revenue Surplus 230,500,000 Pounds During Year, but Country Not Yet Dry.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 25.—Austen Chamberlain, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, taking the place of the present chancellor, Sir Robert S. Horne, presented the budget in the House of Commons today.

Its leading features, removal of the excess profits duty, was announced some time ago. The Chancellor's estimates of revenue and expenditure of a year ago have been borne out with remarkable accuracy, a surplus of £230,500,000, only about £4,000,000 less than the estimated surplus, being recorded.

No additional taxation is proposed and there will be no further reduction of taxation in the current year. The chief points are removal of the surtax on cigars and replacement of the existing fixed duty of 7 shillings and an ad valorem duty of 33 1-3 per cent on sparkling wines by a specific duty of 15 shillings per gallon.

The corporation profits tax proved to be a disappointment, but the Chancellor hoped the tax would justify itself the coming year.

The Chancellor characterized the past year as one of the most remarkable in England's financial history, and declared the financial results were satisfactory.

The House was chiefly interested in details concerning debt reductions, especially the announcement that the debt to the United States had been reduced by £75,000,000 the past year and that interest on the war debt to the United States must be provided for next year.

The debt to Canada had been reduced by £20,000,000 in the year, while all debts to Japan, Spain, Argentina, Uruguay and Holland had been wiped out. He announced that "TEACHERAGE" BILL PASSED.

Assembly Reconsiders and It Goes to Governor.

Senate Skirmish Over Moving Cemeteries in Cities.

Committee Planning Night Sessions to Gain Time.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 25.—Senator Slater's teacherage bill, which was defeated in the Assembly Saturday night, was reconsidered and passed today. Mrs. Saylor made a plea for it, and explained that it did not require country school districts to erect homes for teachers, but permitted them to do so if a majority of the people in the district voted for such a move. The bill now goes to Gov. Stephens.

Another bill to pass the Assembly was Rush's dog-collar bill, which has appeared at every Legislature session since sheep and dogs began to run at large.

It has always met defeat heretofore, and this session it was vigorously opposed, but won through. It provides that dog licenses shall be issued by counties and that much the same regulations shall exist as are applied in towns and cities. The object, it was explained, was not so much to create revenue as to fix responsibility of depredations by sheep and stock-killing dogs.

DIVORCE COMPLAINTS.

Senate bills to make divorce complaints public, instead of placing them on secret file, and to require an accounting for campaign funds received and expended in campaign for or against initiative and referendum measures, were passed at the morning session.

The Assembly passed twenty-six Senate bills today, but held no evening session, the speaker and the floor managers having decided that more speed could be had by devoting the night to committee work on Senate bills. A typical announcement was that of T. M. Wright, chairman, who said the Ways and Means Committee would meet "from 7 o'clock to daylight." Chairman Bromley of the Judiciary Committee also announced that his committee would work until it got through, and other large committees planned similar sessions.

There will be three sessions daily henceforth until final adjournment, it was announced today.

CEMETERIES IN CITIES.

Assemblyman Morris's bill authorizing the abandonment of cemeteries in cities having a popuation of not less than 100,000 passed the Senate today and was ordered to the Governor.

The measure, designed particularly to meet a situation in San Francisco, brought a hot debate, during which Irwin charged it would permit "real estate sharks to kick burial grounds around like footballs." Scott, who led the fight for the bill, read a communication from Matt I. Sullivan, president of the San Francisco Planning Commission, advocating passage of the measure.

The Senate also passed slightly amended and sent to the Governor, Greene's bill to require Japanese pupils to attend special schools where such are provided for them.

ASSEMBLY BILLS PASSED.

Other Assembly bills passed by the Senate include those by:

Ross—Making citizenship and a years' residence in the county qualifications for the holding of office by deputy Sheriffs. Chamberlin gave notice of a motion to reconsider.

Beal—Permitting county officials to act for irrigation districts in the assessment and collection of taxes.

Windrem—Validating organization of the Madera, Medano and Merced irrigation districts.

Of the 329 Assembly bills on the Senate files today, a score and a half were passed and sent to the Governor before the night session began.

Final committee meetings were held this evening in order to bring to the floor if possible 100 or more measures sent over from the lower House. Tomorrow's file will probably include 400 or more bills upon which action must be had before the Legislature adjourns.

LITTLE DEBATE.

Except in the cemetery abandonment controversy, members of the Senate showed little disposition to debate issues today. This was particularly apparent when the upper House went to a roll call without discussion and passed the T. M. Wright State prohibition enforcement bill. It was sent back to the Assembly. That body will be asked to concur in a Senate amendment eliminating a section which would require a vote of the people on the measure.

The Legislature today adopted a concurrent resolution suggesting to Gov. Stephens that he issue a proclamation calling for a general display of flags, and for other proper observance of "Mothers' Day," which falls on Sunday, May 14.

DISTRICT JUDGES FULLY EXONERATED.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE FINDS CHARGES AGAINST SACRAMENTO MEN UNFOUNDED.

SACRAMENTO, April 25.—Exoneration of the slightest taint of wrongdoing was accorded Justices Hart and Burnett of the Third District Court of Appeal here today, when a subcommittee of the Assembly Committee on Judiciary returned its report on charges preferred against the two judges by A. H. Carpenter, an attorney of Stockton.

The report recites that at the complainant's suggestion, inquiry was confined to the files in certain cases complained of, and no oral testimony taken. It states that the record discloses that the whole trouble is that the complainant lost his cases and was dissatisfied with the decisions. "If such charges are true," it says, "the proper relief for any individual injured thereby would be by petition for rehearing before the Supreme Court. The present complaint is the first time this subcommittee has heard it suggested that impeachment be had because the judge of a court holds a different legal opinion from that of the unsuccessful and disgruntled counsel."

The report concludes with the statement that, although the charges were given the widest publicity, the committee had "heard from no one who was in accord with the complainant or his views," but had received numerous communications "commending the integrity, ability, and faithful public service of the judges named."

The subcommittee had five members, all of whom signed the report. All are practicing attorneys. They were J. E. Manning of San Anselmo, Frank L. Coombs of Napa, Homer R. Spence of Alameda, Albert A. Rosenshine of San Francisco and Arthur A. Weber of Santa Monica.

WANT TIGHTER LID ON LIQUOR.

tonics, but that are being sold and purchased for beverage uses because of the alcohol they contain. It requires that alcohol shall as far as practical be medicated before it is removed from the distillery or bonded warehouse. Large quantities of alcohol have been in the past withdrawn ostensibly for the purpose of being used in the manufacture of drugs, but in fact for sale as bootleg whisky. This section applies only to those who sell or manufacture liquor, or manufacturers of medicinal preparations.

Section 4 requires that the Attorney-General shall have notice of all applications for permits to sell or manufacture liquor or alcohlic medical preparations, and that a public notice of the application shall be posted so that the Attorney-General or any person, who may have knowledge of any violations on the part of the applicant may object to the permit being granted.

USUAL PRACTICE.

"This is in line with the usual practice under the license system," said Mr. Volstead. "At present these permits are granted without any notice to the Attorney-General and he has no opportunity to object to the issuance. Approximately 75,000 permits were issued last year, of which about 10,000 have since been revoked or applications for renewals have been denied. In the confusion that grew out of the attempt to establish the system, the permits served to license rather than limit the use of liquor. Public notice, as well as notice to the Attorney-General, it is believed, will serve as a salutory check upon any reckless issue of permits, and will give aid to the commissioner in sifting out dishonest applications."

Section 5 gives the Attorney-General power to cancel permits for the same reason that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is authorized to cancel.

"Doubtless the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has power under existing law to do practically everything provided for in this bill, but as there are certain parties interested in violating the law who claim that there is no such power, it is thought best to embody these provisions in a specific statute rather than wait to have that question determined by litigation, because pending such litigation violations will continue," Mr. Volstead explained.

ASSEMBLYMEN GIVEN SOME BIRTHDAY CAKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 25.—Little "Jack" Pettis, son of the floor leader, had a birthday today. He was 5 years old. His mother offered to get him a cake.

"I want a big cake, so I can give all my friends some," said Jack, so when the noon recess was taken, everybody remained seated at the Speakers' suggestion, and Jack headed the procession of sergeants-at-arms, bearing aloft enough cake to give eighty Assemblymen and as many attaches each a portion.

GERMAN OFFER UNACCEPTABLE.

ent, pending the decisions as to whether they could be regarded by the Allied governments as constituting a suitable basis for a resumption of negotiations.

The text of the German communication is understood to have been given to Hugh Wilson, acting head of the American commission in Berlin, about 11 o'clock last night, Berlin time, and allowing for the usual twelve hours for cable transmission, the document should have been in the hands of the cipher translators of the American State Department by daylight this morning.

DRESEL AT COBLENZ.

But late tonight it was insisted that the communication had not been received, and no attempt was made by officials to explain why there should have been such a delay in transmission. Whether there is any importance in the fact that Loring Dresel, American commissioner in Berlin, left that city Saturday for Coblenz to consult with Maj.-Gen. Henry T. Allen, commanding the American forces of occupation in that section of the Rhine country, could not be learned.

"The German proposals were expected to be delivered to the British and French diplomatic representatives in Berlin, for the information of their respective governments, and unless there was a change in this program the terms should now be in possession of the Allied governments. There were some indications today that the announcement of the decision of the Allied governments concerning the reopening of the negotiations over reparations with Germany, in response to the latest German effort to head off the application of additional penalties for nonfulfillment of the terms of the treaty of Versailles, would come from Paris and London rather than from Washington.

SHORT OF DEMANDS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, April 25.—The ultimate total indemnity which Germany agrees to pay the Allies is two hundred billion gold marks, as against 226,000,000,000 demanded by the Allies in their Paris terms.

This is positively stated by those close to the government, although the German counter-proposals have not been made public here.

Dr. Simons, the Foreign Secretary, did not present the new proposals to the Reichstag today because of an understanding with the American Embassy and for the additional reason that the note to President Harding suggests that he feel free to query back for further information or the elucidation of any point not clear, before submitting the note to the Entente.

FLEXIBLE ANNUITIES.

The Germans suggest making the annuities in payment of the reparation flexible dependent upon the recovery of German issues. An international loan is suggested to be floated immediately, to place ready cash at the disposal of the Entente, but no sum is named.

Germany expresses her willingness to pledge the customs revenues as guarantees and further offers to deliver manufactured articles to the Allies with the understanding that Germany will pay the producers and get credit on the indemnities. Germany also offers immediate participation in the work of restoration in the devastated areas; labor and materials to be supplied by Germany and credited against the indemnities.

No suggestion is made of Germany's willingness to assume the indebtedness of the Allied powers to the United States.

DEMAND BILLION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 25.—The Allied Reparations Commission today sent a note to the German War Burdens Commission demanding that 1,000,000,000 gold marks be deposited in the Bank of France on or before April 30.

The commission's note, after citing the results of the previous demand and Germany's failure to transfer the Reichsbank gold reserve to the Rhineland, concludes:

"In view of the attitude the German government has seen fit to adopt in the matter and in view of its failure to fulfill the obligations arising from Article 235, the Reparations Commission is obliged to exercise the powers conferred upon it by the treaty and to demand that 1,000,000,000 marks in gold be placed at the disposal of the Reparations Commission in the vaults of the Bank of France on or before April 30.

"The Reparations Commission does not consider it necessary to discuss at this juncture the relations of the commonwealth government with the Reichsbank, since it is assured that the commonwealth government has in any case the means of complying with the demands of the Reparations Commission, if it wishes to employ them."

DIARY FEATURE OF STOKES CASE

shown in the portrait. A preceding witness had testified that he saw Mrs. Stokes in the Roosevelt studio in West Seventy-seventh street in a kimono, and that opposite her was a half-finished sketch of a nude in oil.

NEVER SMOKED.

Mrs. Stokes denied she ever smoked or took a drink.

When she came to May 5 in her diary, Mrs. Stokes spoke of a visit of her father to New York.

"He didn't stop at the Ansonia (owned by Stokes) because he didn't care to go there, but at a nearby hotel," explained Mrs. Stokes. "Mr. Stokes had never treated me right, and my father used to come to see me every now and then to talk things over with me and adjust my affairs."

The testimony of Mrs. Stokes showed that practically every night Mr. Stokes either had some of his friends in the apartment, or went out and left her alone.

FORESTER REFUSES PRESIDENCY OF UNION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI, April 25.—J. J. Forester, grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, at a meeting of the organization's directors today, stated that he would decline to serve, allowing Acting President E. E. Fitzgerald to continue as head. Mr. Forester recently retired, after a year of service, as one of the union labor members of the Railway Labor Board.

General chairmen or the organization will formally discuss the wage question with officials of the American Railway Express Company next Wednesday.

UNIVERSITY IS PRESIDENTLESS.

Valparaiso Head Resigns in Face of Squabble.

Former Service Men Demand His Resignation.

"Bolshevism," Says Hodgdon in His Letter.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 25.—Student "insurgents" at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., have won their fight. President Daniel Russell Hodgdon sent his resignation to the board of trustees today.

"The university is a hotbed of Bolshevism, Communism and other cults," Dr. Hodgdon said, "and nothing we could do to thwart their propaganda has been of any avail because of sinister inside influences.

"The stream of propaganda can be traced to the very heart of the Federal government, so firmly are its protagonists entrenched."

By this last remark, Dr. Hodgdon evidently meant the more than 100 former soldiers sent to the university by the government Board of Vocational Education.

AGITATION IS BEGUN.

It was one of these men, Jack Pierce, who began the agitation to oust the president. He charged that the administration was trying to make the poor man's Harvard a regular Harvard by payments to students who were prominent in athletics, and trying to introduce a lot of new ideas that do not jibe with the traditions of the university.

Pierce was head of the student council, which passed a resolution demanding the resignation of the university head. The faculty held a hurried meeting and dissolved the council.

The students split into two camps, the Federal Board men backing Pierce solidly and threatening to leave college if he were expelled.

PREPARE FOR FIGHT.

The loyal students prepared for trouble, held a parade, threatened to attack one of the "Bolsheviste," and a riot loomed. Dr. W. O. Winkler, dean of men, rang the chapel bell and, with the students who had responded, stood in the open and prayed for five minutes.

The trouble, however, did not die out. The hostility between the factions increased. The loyal students placed guards aboard their fraternity houses. The other faction announced they had no intention of fighting their fellow students.

Dr. Hodgdon, when he went to Valparaiso, was head of the Newark College of Technology, Newark, N. J., and was formerly president of the Hahnemann Medical College of Chicago.

CONDEMNED NEGRO CONFESSES MURDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DALLAS (Tex.) April 25.—Sentenced to death for attacking a 14-year-old white girl near Paris, Virgil Sampson, negro, brought to Dallas last night from Paris to avoid possible mob violence, today confessed that he murdered Mrs. Blanche Wadford and her 6-year-old daughter near Bairdstown, Tex., more than a year ago, according to local officers.

WHO DOES UNDERSTAND EINSTEIN'S THEORY?

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The theory af relativity of matter which got into the Senate debate recently with assertions by Senators Penrose, John Sharp Williams and others that they did not understand it, also has vanquished President Harding.

Its originator, Dr. Albert Einstein, noted scientist, called on Mr. Harding today with a delegation from the National Academy of Sciences. The President smilingly confessed that he, too, failed to grasp the relativity idea.

MURDERED BOYS' BODIES FOUND.

here on a court order. His story to the San Francisco police when he gave himself up was that he had boarded a train with the boys in the expectation of taking them to visit relatives. At Corte Madera he decided to take them off the train and kill them.

"They begged for their lives" he told a priest at the San Francisco jail, "but they looked so handsome that I had to shoot them. I shot Andrew first. Arthur started to cry. He didn't know what to do. I shot him then and placed their bodies side by side."

After making the statement he collapsed but was revived and was brought here by San Francisco detectives to search for the bodies. With Marin county officials, the searching party set out under Cornyn's directions on their fruitless search that ended with the news of the finding of the bodies two miles away.

PREVIOUS ATTEMPTS.

According to the police, Cornyn, who had been a newspaper solicitor and a lodge collector in San Francisco, was committed to the Agnew institution soon after his wife died a year ago, after he had made an attempt on the lives of his children. On this occasion, Paul Cornyn had reported to the police that his father was attempting to murder the family. Police found that Arthur and Andrew were in a stupor from gas fumes. On another occasion, Cornyn was accused by the police of having given his children poisoned candy.

Cornyn also was quoted as having told the Juvenile Court of San Francisco, previous to his commitment to Agnew, that the whole family would be better off if they were with their dead mother.

Police said that Cornyn had seemed to improve rapidly under treatment at Agnew and that he had been discharged as cured after a few months at the hospital.

Dist.-Atty. Henry Greer said that an investigation into Cornyn's sanity would be made. If a commission deems him sane, a charge of murder will be placed against the man, he said.

LETTER FROM CHILD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The revolver with which John Cornyn killed his two sons yesterday in Marin county, across San Francisco Bay, was found late today by the police in a rooming-house here where Cornyn had stayed last night.

A letter from Andrew, one of the dead boys, also was found. Written from St. Vincent's Orphanage, San Rafael, April 5, it said:

"Dear Father: I have not received a letter from you lately. As I am going to be confirmed in May, I am always hoping to be good. I went to communion this morning and I was trying to be good so I can go tomorrow. Now don't forget to send me a ball and some candy. How is Ruth and Paul?

"Your loving son, Andrew."

John C. Coryn, the oldest son, who lives with his aunt here, said his father had been morose and melancholy for some time.

HUGE SURPLUS DURING YEAR

in two years the external debt had been reduced by £203,000,000 and said the remaining 6½ per cent five-year notes maturing at New York in November amounting to $11,000,000 would be paid off.

TO PAY UNITED STATES DEBTS.

Mr. Chamberlain indicated the government was planning for payment of interest on the debt to the United States.

In dealing with the subject of the national debt, he said, interest on the debt amounting to more than £40,000,000 annually was among the new items to be provided for next year.

The actual receipts for last year, Chamberlain said, were £1,425,900,000, while the national expenditure was £1,195,428,000. The total amount applied to reduction of the national debt was £259,500,000. The foreign debt was reduced by £117,000,000 to £1,161,660,000 on March 31.

The ordinary expenditure for 1921-22, Chamberlain declared, would be £974,023,000, while ordinary receipts, with dropping of the excess profits duty and two other small changes, would be £1,058,150,000 leaving a surplus of £84,127,000.

Chamberlain announced there would be no change in direct taxation and that large sums will be collected in excess profits arrears.

The House leader said the total debt on March 31 was £7,573,000,000. He estimated the total sum available for debt redemption from the surplus this year would be £193,000,000.

Legislation would be required to terminate the excess profits duty.

Who Paid for the Brooklyn Bridge?

About 200,000 people each morning paid 2¢ to be ferried across a river and each night 2¢ to return,—4¢ a day, nearly $15.00 a year per person for over-river transportation.

Then the Brooklyn Bridge was built and the street cars carried these 200,000 people right across the water without wait or additional expense.

The bridge cost $18,000,000. Who paid for it?

Perhaps the 200,000 people who saved some $3,000,000 annual ferry costs know the answer to this question in economics.

Good advertising is an economical method of selling goods nationally.

With good advertising as with a good bridge, the cost is absorbed in the economies it effects.

Even the Oldest Super-Sixes Today Speak Hudson's Worth

It is not just a matter of idle comment that Hudsons two, three and four years old, are constantly mistaken for cars of recent production.

On the contrary, there is a very clear connection between the way these older Super-Sixes hold their new appearance and smoothness of performance, year after year, and the fact that Hudson for more than five years has held the leadership among fine cars.

And of all its more than 100,000 owners none give such convincing endorsement as those who drive the oldest Super-Sizes and find them still essentially modern in looks and still giving fine, reliable performance.

NAVY'S BILL OF GREAT PROMISE.

Greatest Sea Power on Earth, Kelly's View.

Offer of Reductions Can be Made at Completion.

"Meet Refusal to Disarm with Greater Force."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Disarmament discussion sidetracked consideration of the naval appropriation bill in the House today, when Representative Kelly, Republican, of Michigan, brought forward the committee proposals to provide $396,000,000 for the Navy's next fiscal year, of which $90,000,000 would be used toward completion of the 1916 building program. The expansion program, Mr. Kelly asserted, would help to lift the load now on the shoulders of the world for armament construction and maintenance.

"When these ships we are building have been completed," he said, "the United States will equal in sea power any nation in the world, and will be in a position to offer proportionate reduction in armaments."

Theodore Burton, Republican, of Ohio, former Senator, supported the committee spokesman in his declaration for an adequate Navy, and also urged that these be the nucleus of a large Army for the United States. He declared, however, the "time has come for an international conference for the sake of stopping this maddening competition for the construction of armadas."

TALKS TAXATION.

This view was indorsed by Representative Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, who, turning to taxation features involved in military programs, said Congress this year would appropriate $5,500,000,000, or $50 a head for each citizen of the United States.

Representative W. Bourke Cockran, Democrat, New York, introduced a resolution to authorize the President, in view of "dreadful economic conditions which can be remedied only by immediate and active employment of all human hands and capital in productive industry," to offer, on behalf of the United States to disarm, and in case of refusal to meet "great military forces, established anywhere, resolutely by creation of greater forces on land and sea."

BRINGS BACK FIRE.

Representative Black, Democrat, Texas, mentioned the covenant of the League of Nations as the proper instrumentality for the United States to adopt for disarmament, and encountered instant objection from Representative Madden, Republican, Illinois, who observed that former President Wilson's administration had recommended an Army of 500,000 and a greatly enlarged Navy for the United States if it joined the League.

Representative Mondell, Republican leader, discussed the bill, remarking that the Senate had proposed to increase the amount $100,000,000 beyond the House proposals as made at the last session, but arguing that the increases for airplane carriers and a larger personnel should be considered matters of legislation to be provided for later if committees expressly charged with naval affairs should indorse such plans.

TAHITI IMMIGRANTS SADLY DISAPPOINTED.

REPORTS OF CHEAP COCOANUT GROVES AND EASY LIVING ERRONEOUS.

PAPEETE (Tahiti, Society Islands) April 25.—Many recent arrivals at the Tahiti and Marquesas islands from other countries were attracted here by the erroneous reports that have gone abroad that great tracts of rich cocoanut lands can be had at low prices and that only a small amount of capital and patience are necessary for one to come into possession of property that will pay good dividends for a lifetime.

Disappointments and hardships have been met by the newcomers for there is no truth in the reports they received. In the first place, island lands here are not for sale, as the native will sell everything else he owns before he parts from his lands. He considers himself a trustee of his acres, bound to pass the property unimpaired on to his descendents. What lands have passed from possession of the natives are in strong hands and for sale only at figures beyond their value.

A second reason why the reports are untrue is, that it takes about twelve years to bring a cocoanut tree into profitable bearing. The plantations require constant clearing and care, work which white men cannot do and retain their health. Plantation owners must depend upon native or Chinese labor and in these days it is hard to get help, for the natives, being landowners, have sufficient for their own needs and the Chinese are engaged in trade or attending to their own gardens. The idea of importing labor was proposed but later abandoned.

At present Tahiti is very quiet, due to the absence of any market for the large stocks of pearl shell held here, the depression in the copra market and the drop in prices of merchandise.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BUTTE, April 25.—Edward Hickey, one of the locators of the Anaconda lode, died at his home in Butte today at the age of 80.

He was born in St. Lawrence county, New York, and came to Montana in 1866. He assisted in locating the Anaconda on New Year's Eve, 1875, and located the St. Lawrence, Rock Island and Diamond lode claims, mining properties of great value, located on Anaconda Hill.

At the time of his death he was president of the Tuolumne Mining Company and was prominent in the Pilot Butte, Butte and Main Range Copper companies and the Stewart Lead and Silver Mining Company.

FAIR PLAY FOR NEGRO, DEMAND.

families and one of the negroes was lured from his home and shot.

In another case a drunken County Sheriff while riding along a country road met a negro, who had the reputation of being peaceable and law-abiding. The Sheriff asked the negro for a drink of water and then apparently without reason beat the negro, forced him into the car and while he was lying wounded on the floor kicked him many times, completely destroying one of his eyes. The negro was then stripped of his clothes and beaten again, after which he was left naked and wounded on the road. The Sheriff was indicted for assault to murder and was acquitted.

FEW CONVICTIONS.

In only a few of the cases was there any prosecution of white men guilty of attacking negroes. Acquittal or light fines was the usual result of the trials.

The Governor's report was presented to a meeting of sixty ministers and prominent men from all parts of the State and was adopted in its entirety. Remedies suggested included a Statewide investigation with full publicity and enactment of laws for State investigation of lynchings, with removal of county officers guilty of permitting lynchings to take place. It was also proposed that a heavy fine be paid to the State by any county in which a lynching takes place. Plans were made to start the campaign at once.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR PACKING CONCERN.

SKINNER COMPANY STOCKHOLDERS' REQUEST GRANTED BY OMAHA JUDGE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OMAHA, April 25.—Former Gov. Neville of Nebraska today was appointed by Federal Judge Woodrough receiver for the Skinner Packing Company, a Maine corporation.

Application for a receiver was made recently by stockholders who alleged gross mismanagement. The company, in its answer, denied this allegation and asserted the charge was being circulated to destroy the company's credit.

The answer requested appointment of a receiver to take possession of the company's property until further order of court so that "it's credit may be restored and protected." Tangible assets of the concern, the answer said, are more than $6,500,000, with liabilities of about $300,000.

The company has a packing plant here, now being operated under lease by the Dold Packing Company, and also owns a cold storage plant.

DUAL FOREIGN TRADE SERVICE.

Automobile Men Pledge Their Support to Hoover.

Committee Will Co-operate with Secretary.

Production Costs Abroad and Other Data Planned.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 25.—Assurance of hearty co-operation in his plan for closer contact between the Department of Commerce and business was given Secretary Hoover by representatives of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce upon their visit to Washington.

To that end a committee from the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce is to be appointed, which will co-operate with the Department of Commerce in devising plans for the effective promotion of foreign trade in United States motor vehicles.

DUAL TRADE SERVICE.

The co-operation will result in a foreign trade service of two kinds, promotive and intelligence. Before starting promotive work for the sale of motor vehicles abroad, the committee will confer with experts of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce familiar with the particular countries in which the campaign is to be launched. Through these conferences the promotive work could be made to conform to the actual requirements of the various countries.

The "intelligence" service is to consist of world-wide surveys to ascertain foreign demand for motor vehicles and collation of specific trade information.

The surveys, by including data and information on costs of foreign products as compared with American, export trade of competitor nations, production and consumption, would enable the manufacturer to decide on a broad policy for foreign trade.

DISTRIBUTE INFORMATION.

What specific information is essential to the American manufacturer would be ascertained by the "committee" which thereupon would confer with the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce regarding means for securing it.

The information, when received, would be distributed through the "committee" among American motor vehicle manufacturers, to whom it should prove invaluable when gauging foreign markets for their products.

Not only directly is this co-operative arrangement advantageous to the automobile industry, but these joint efforts may be made beneficial also indirectly in the solution of general problems affecting United States export trade, was the belief expressed by the representatives.

HEARINGS ARE BEGUN ON GRAIN EXCHANGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The House Agriculture Committee started public hearings today on bills for the regulation of grain exchanges which permit trading in futures.

IS THERE LOCAL BARBARY COAST?

Jane Frederickson to Give Opinion of Charge in Sunday "Times."

Where is the Latin Quarter, the Greenwich Village or the Barbary Coast of Los Angeles? Where do women smoke as they saunter down the avenues and wear smocks and sandals and—and everything? Where, oh, where can it be?

A magazine writer thinks he has discovered it. But isn't his description of it farfetched? And still another fancy-free writer has let loose on Los Angeles, describing downtown scenes that, well—

Jane Frederickson has looked into the matter and will give her opinion in an article in The Times Sunday. She will quote from the articles in question so that everybody may judge for himself.

RACER EQUALS WORLD'S MARK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LEXINGTON (Ky.) April 25 — Leonardo II, E. F. Simms's unbeaten son of Sweep and Ethel Pace, and a Kentucky derby candidate, today ran the fastest mile and one-sixteenth ever seen on a Kentucky race track. This time was 1m. 42 4-5s., a fraction of a second slower than the world's record of 1m. 42 3-5s. set by Celesta in 1914 at Syracuse. The mile was run in 1m. 34 4-5s., equaling Man O'War's American race record.

GASTINE TAKES ON DUNDEE.

Lightweights to Feature Excellent Card at Jack Doyle's Arena Tonight.

Jimmy Dundee of Oakland, who has fought and won many bouts in the local ring, will be Henry Gastine's opponent in the main event at the Vernon Arena tonight. Gastine gave Joe Coffey a great fight a week ago and Dundee turned the same trick a couple of weeks before. The two appear evenly matched, but Dundee is favored to win, due to his flashy boxing.

Bob Grant, light-heavyweight champion of the navy, will meet Harlan Bunker in the semi-wind-up. The two will box at catchweights. Both big fellows are good hitters.

Tommy Cello is matched with Ernie Goozeman. Sailor Constantine was matched with Goozeman but a bad hand kept him from going through with the match. Cello has class and boxes well. He punches hard with his right hand while Goozeman is in the midst of a winning streak and is hitting harder than ever before.

Tommy Richards will give away about fifteen pounds in weight and take on George Lavigne. Richards beat the welterweight several weeks ago and believes he can turn the trick again.

Kid Mende and Eddie Macy, a pair of 118-pound sluggers, are matched and Jack Darcy will take on Young Cumpston at 128 pounds. Soldier Graham is matched with Sailor Vincent in the curtain-raiser. The boys are 145-pounders.

TURNS IN A GRAND SCORE.

Miss Kavanagh Triumphs in North Golf Tourney.

Miss Cameron is the Runner-up to the Winner.

Southern Performances Result of Excellent Play.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Doreen Kavanagh of the Los Angeles Country Club and Coronado was the heroine of one of the most remarkable medal scores on record today while playing in the qualifying round of the California women's championship on the Beresford Country Club's course.

On Miss Kavanagh's card were some very horrid holes, figured by an awful 9, two ghastly 8's and a terrifying 7; but the rest of the tally showed exceptional golf, including five 3's, completing a capital total of 86. As a match play card it was simply wonderful and, even as a medal score was two strokes better than any other performers.

LITTLE SOLACE.

There was not much solace in the day's returns for the northerners, for Miss Margaret Cameron, the Northern California and Del Monte champion, but a member of the Annandale Golf Club of Pasadena, was runner-up to Miss Kavanagh, with a snappy and steady 88.

The performances of both the southerners were the result of fine golf. Mrs. S. T. Banter of Oakland, Mrs. Hubert Law, oft crowned champion, tied for third place; but Mrs. Law is not able to proceed in the match play. There was a spirited contest for the last position in the championship fight with seven players tied. In the play-off, Mrs. Max Rothschild and Mrs. H. F. Anderson were eliminated on the first hole and Mrs. Strassburger won the place on the second.

ONE BEHIND.

The net trophy in Class A was captured by Mrs. Ezra Stimson with a capital card of 100-12-87, just one stroke behind the medalists' class scratch score. Class B honors were cleverly taken by Mrs. Leon Roos of the home club, who registered 111-25-86.

In tomorrow's match play in the championship fight, Miss Kavanagh is pitted against Mrs. Milton Bernard, while Miss Cameron meets Mrs. Prole. Otherwise Wednesday's matches in the second round promise to be considerably more interesting.

The Beresford Country Club is noted for its hospitality and besides the three score competitors, many visitors today enjoyed the beauty of the links and the comforts of the clubhouse.

The returns in the qualifying round were as follows:

KENTUCKY TRACKS READY FOR RACES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) April 25.—Lexington, Douglas Park and Churchill Downs, the latter two tracks at Louisville, are alive with trainers and jockeys in preparation for the Kentucky Derby on May 7. The Lexington meeting usually gives a good line on the various candidates and demonstrates how the various stables are rounding into form.

The Lexington stables, the home of thoroughbreds, also is the home of the famous Idle Hour Farm of Col. Edward R. Bradley. He is greatly interested in the forty-seventh running of the Derby, for he has two good colts that have more than an outside chance to win the big event—Black Servant and Behave Yourself.

The two youngsters are rounding into form at the Lexington track, and the colonel thinks they are a likely pair.

TEAM JOINS LEAGUE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TERRA BELLA, April 25.—The Terra Bella baseball team has joined the Orange Belt League, which includes Ducor, Tipton, Strathmore, Lindsay, Lemon Cove and Woodlake. The local team has leased ten acres of land east of the Terra Bella schoolhouse and the first game will be played on the home grounds on Sunday between Strathmore and the Terra Bella teams. The game will be called at 3 p.m.

ANNANDALE TOURNEY ON.

Play Qualifying Round in Annual Golf Meet Today; Course in Fine Shape.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

It is hardly necessary to dish out the reminder that this is the day on which the qualifying round over eighteen holes of the annual Annandale invitation golf tourney will be played. This is a tourney which attracts the cleek athletes like bees are drawn to honeysuckle blossoms. It needs no advance heralding.

Last year a record-breaking throng of 222 players turned out for the frolic and overworked the tournament committee to death. Such a massive entry list is not expected this year, for the 1920 meet was held much earlier in the season and included many winter tourists from the East.

BIG ENTRY LIST.

But, judging by the number of names chalked up on the bulletin board yesterday afternoon, there will be in the neighborhood of 175 entrants. Jack Williams, a member of the tournament committee, counted 120 on the sheet at 3 p.m., and there was a large assortment of players out practicing on the links who had not marked up their starting times.

The course was open Sunday and

Santa Barbara Draws the Rich Yachting Plum.

Event to be Greatest Ever Held in California.

Aquatic Body Holds Dinner with Members Present.

Meaning to work on the plans for the occasion on the same basis as Pasadena goes about holding its annual Tournament of Roses and to make the big celebration as similarly successful as the Santa Barbara Horse Show, the members of the Santa Barbara Yacht Club turned out in a mass Saturday night as hosts to the officers and representatives of the Southern California Yachting Association.

A dinner was held at one of the popular Channel City cafes with seventy members of the Yacht Club present and the following officers of the association: Admiral Albert Solland, Newport Harbor Yacht Club; Port Commander Ray Thomas, Los Angeles Motorboat Club; Hubert Morrow, Los Angeles Yacht Club; Commodore Putnam, Newport Harbor Yacht Club; Shirley Meeve, Newport Harbor Yacht Club, and Thomas C. Hammond, San Diego Yacht Club.

HOLD REGATTA.

The officers gathered with the Santa Barbarans to definitely reach an agreement for the holding of the association's first annual regatta at the Channel City's harbor. This was unanimously agreed upon by the many members at the gathering, which included representatives of the various civic bodies of Santa Barbara.

Tentative plans were outlined for the holding of the regatta during the week of August 6. During that week the races will be run off and a regular water carnival staged.

A committee will be appointed to work out the exact dates for the racing.

The whole town of Santa Barbara will be behind the regatta and will make a gala week out of it. This will include parades through the streets and other events, which have made a similar happenings successful.

The representatives of the various yacht clubs present pledged themselves to see that from seventy-five to 100 yachts and other pleasure crafts from the five Southern California clubs would be anchored off Santa Barbara during the week of August 6.

After several months of negotiations, plans, meetings and hard work, the definite announcement of the holding of the regatta at Santa Barbara is the fruit the association wanted to see blossom.

A NEW BODY.

The Southern California Yachting Association is a new body, the result of the shot fired in that direction shortly after the first of the year by the visiting here of Daniel L. Pratt of the Seattle Yacht Club. Pratt started the ball rolling and Admiral Solland has been giving it many a hard push ever since with the united assistance of his officers.

The association will act as a central body to the clubs affiliated. The regatta at Santa Barbara should and no doubt will outdo anything of its kind ever held before in Southern Pacific waters.

Matt S. Cohen to be Judge at Horse Show.

Hon. Matt S. Cohen of Phoenix, Aris., former head of the Kentucky State Agricultural Department, has been named to judge the saddle and light harness classes at the Pasadena horse show, which will open at the Flintridge Country Club Friday afternoon. Carleton F. Burke will be judge of polo ponies.

"There is no greater authority on saddle horses than Mr. Cohen," said Col. William J. Hogan, president of the Pasadena Horse Show Association, yesterday. "And Mr. Burke is one of the best judges of polo ponies in the country. We are gratified at being able to secure these two men."

Horses are beginning to arrive in Pasadena for the two-day event. Three carloads came in from Santa Barbara yesterday. With a total of over 100 entries the coming event will be one of the best ever held in Southern California.

Much interest attaches to the paper chase that is to be held over the Flintridge bridle paths Saturday morning, the second day of the show. It will be followed by a hunt breakfast in the clubhouse. Saturday evening there will be a horse show ball at Hotel Vista del Arroyo.

TO ERECT BIG FIGHT ARENA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—The arena for the Dempsey-Carpentier bout to be staged in Jersey City on July 2 will be erected on a plot known as "Boyle's Thirty Acres," situated just south of Montgomery Park. Prompter Tex Rickard, who will have sole charge of the heavyweight championship contest, officially announced the site here this afternoon.

The work of leveling the plot for the erection of the 50,000 seats in the arena will begin at once. It is Rickard's intention that the mammoth boxing stadium may be finished in time to permit the staging of one or more bouts of importance before the heavyweight contest.

MRS. DOBELL GOLF WINNER.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BROOKWOOD (Eng.) April 25.—Mrs. Temple Dobell, former British woman champion, won the scratch prize in the golf match for women on the Westhill course today with a score of 82 for the eighteen holes.

Miss Alexa Stirling, American woman champion, was tied for ninth place.

Miss Stirling made the eighteen holes in 89.

Miss Stirling's 42 at the end of the ninth hole was the product of a sound game. On the homeward journey Miss Stirling began to pull her drives occasionally. Her card read: Out, 6, 4, 5, 4, 5, 5, 5, 5, 5—42. In, 6, 5, 4, 5, 6, 4, 5, 6, 7—47—89.

HALSTEAD TO RACE AT BIKE STADIUM.

Paced by one of the motorcycles which competed in Sunday's events at the speedway, Al Halstead of New York, famous six-day racer and motor-paced rider, will give a five-mile exhibition on next Friday night in conjunction with the sixteen events on the card at the bike stadium.

Halstead has been for years one of the most noted pace-followers in the world, winning big events in Europe and Australia. He declares he can cover a mile in nearly twice as great speed as the unpaced riders show. Motor-paced races will soon become a prominent factor in the stadium's programs.

A number of San Francisco riders are due this week to remain here for the racing season.

"DAD" MEEK'S BOWLERS WILL PLAY TONIGHT.

"Dad" Meek will take his Gene Murphy southpaws to the Eldorado alleys tonight, where a practice tournament for the high class teams of the city will be held. It will be the last chance for the slicker teams to get in practice before the Coast championships start at Fresno next week.

The Gene Murphy team has been bowling good scores this season, despite all members of the team being of the left-hand variety. An average of 920 has been bowled in practice consistently.

Killefer's Lads Should Have Tough Week's Work.

San Francisco Team's Infield Looks Very Good.

Seven-Game Series to Begin This Afternoon.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

With step melancholy and slow, and with a rectified idea of the presumed lowliness of the Oaks, the Angels traipsed into Los Angeles yesterday morning, defeated but not humiliated.

Del Howard's morning glories threw it into Killefer's henchmen something like five games to two, thereby causing a lot of worry to hundreds of Angelic admirers, who had hoped that the Cherubs, headed by the optimistic "Boots" Weber, would send the peaky Commuters to the cleaners last week.

GEORGE'S WORD.

We have it on the word of George Putnam, advance agent for the latest obesity cure, that the Oaks are not so lowly as they are wont to be painted, and that they have a much-improved organization over that of last year. Putnam has the reputation of not having been right since Jim Morley broke into the Pacific Coast League, but then this year it may be a case of the boy and the wolf, with George.

Be that as it may, Del Howard's prospects look pretty rosy, figuring on their showing last week. They take on the retrogressing Tykes this week for a seven-game series, and unless Essick's heavers smart up a bit, and show that form they figure to show, the frisky Bengals are more than fated to invade the Far North later on with their tails a-drop.

A MAN'S JOB.

And now for our festive Cherubs. They flesh their mettle in the next six days against Charley Graham's league leaders, and from last week's performance it really looks as if Killefer is destined to take on a man's job. The Seals boast a lot of speed and sure can lumber the pumpkin. Young Max O'Connell, who hangs around the initial sack, bids fair to be a whale of a slugger, and here is where we have to kow-tow to George Putnam's judgment. The lad has a peculiar belated practice of touching the ball after the ball has sloshed into his

FRENCHMAN TO TRAIN SECRETLY

Carpentier Will do Work Behind Closed Doors.

Selects Long Island as Place for His Prepping.

Dempsey to Get in Conditions at Atlantic City.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—With definite selection today of Boyle's thirty acres, adjoining Montgomery Park in Jersey City, as the site of the arena for the Denmsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship bout July 2, training plans of the contestant tonight were being laid accordingly.

It is generally understood that the champion will select Atlantic City, while the Frenchman will train on Long Island, probably at Manhasset.

TRAIN IN SECRET.

According to present indications, Carpentier's training will be conducted along much more secret lines than Dempsey's. Those in close touch with Carpentier's representatives in this country state that his manager, Francois Descamps, plans to have him follow much the same line of training adopted when in England preparing for his bouts with Beckett and Wells.

Little of Carpentier's training will be done in public. Daily boxing matches with his sparring partners may also be staged for the benefit of the newspaper reporters assigned to cover the training of Carpentier, but serious preparation will be conducted behind closed doors, if present plans are followed.

So far as is known, Dempsey will not follow any such training campaign. Wherever his camp is located the public will be admitted to witness the training at a nominal charge, as has always been his custom.

ATHLETES GO NORTH.

Vernon Blenkiron and Albert Mealey left here last night for San Francisco, accompanied by Coach Neace and trainer, where they will take part in the State meet. Blenkiron will be the favorite in the 100 and 220-yard dash, while Mealey looks good in the high jump and hurdles.

PIRATES ARE THERE.

ST. LOUIS, April 25.—Pittsburg finished fast today and, aided by errors by Hornsby and Fournier, defeated St. Louis 6 to 5 in ten innings in the opening game of the series. Tierney's single in the ninth with one out started the visitors towards the tying run and his single in the tenth drove in Cutshaw with the run that proved the winner.

Clemons was ordered out of the game in the tenth by Umpire Moran for disputing a decision. The score:

SPEAKER TRIUMPHS.

CLEVELAND, April 25.—Cleveland defeated Detroit today, 5 to 3. Manager Cobb tried to outguess Tris Speaker by starting Sutherland, a right-handed pitcher, causing Speaker to use his left-hand batting shift. After Sutherland pitched to one batter, Cobb replaced him with Oldham, a left-hander, whereupon Speaker substituted his right-hand hitters. After the shift, Cobb sent in Middleton, a right-handed pitcher, but the game was already won. The score:

BOSTON, April 25.—Two bases on balls off Harris and hits by McInnis and Menosky, gave Boston two runs in the seventh, enabling them to defeat Philadelphia, 3 to 2 today. Jones was hit freely early in the game but was given brilliant support, particularly by McInnis and Collins.

JENKISSON TIPS AD GEYER AGAIN

colder than a cucumber and a society pet succumbed with the same blow. It required about the same length of time to revive both parties.

Francis Matthews and Bobby Matthews put on a fleaweight contest that was a pip, with the edge in favor of the chubbier Bobby.

Society note: Miss Lillian Peat observed the proceedings with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Peat and Raymond J. Schirm.

Another notst Pat Higgins's friends — Frank Tatum, George Cline and Doc Jim White—sat in the press row all dolled up in their soup and fish and debated the advisability of using a mahsie or a niblick in a broadsword contest.

TENNIS FANS GET A BIG EYEFUL.

According to tennis fans who watched the finals in the annual Ojai tennis tourney the match between Bates and Levy of the University of California and Jimmy Davies and Phil Neer of Stanford was one of the most spectacular ever played. Bates and Levy won after three hard sets in which the spectators did the rare thing, at a tennis tourney, of indulging in a session of continuous cheering over the many fine shots pulled off. The scores were 3-6, 6-4, 13-11. Davies beat Neer in the men's singles 6-3, 6-4, and Bates defeated Davies in the intercollegiate singles, 6-4, 6-4. Davies played almost continuously the last day, and was the outstanding star.

SEALS TACKLE OUR SERAPHS.

mitts, thereby making his plays a sort of double-jointed movement. Later on he will probably get over this stunt, where the fractional part of a second plays a paramount part in nabbing a runner to first.

Morry Rath looks all over the class of the league at second base. He pulled off a stunt last week back of first on the dead run, murdering a sure base hit and grabbing his man at first that was really unearthly. Rath, however, is but a mediocre hitter, judging from his work here last week, but the high class he brings to the keystone sack should make amends for any lack in the swatting line.

AN ODD PLAYER.

Caveney performs peculiarly at short. A butter finger worthy of a sand-lot league will follow instanter with a stop that electrifies all present. Taking him all in all, however, he should dovetail in most beautifully with Rath at second and form a combination in that section that should be difficult to match.

Kamm at third is steady and reliable, making the Seals infield one that should cause much complimentary chatter before the season is half over. Kelly in the left garden looks pretty good. He may not be the best fielder in the world.

OH, THAT MUFF.

When he muffed that fly last Sunday afternoon that gave the Tigers a lucky victory, it looked for a moment as if the appendix had been cut out of that $11,000 beauty price paid for him, but then it must be remembered that a malignoon his slip can be pardoned. Kelly, nevertheless has a faculty of boring down on the bermuda at times and when he does, that same old bermuda surely takes on a fit of T.N.T.

Chick is still the fast, clever player he has always been since Los Angeles in a blinded moment let him slip through her hands. And then there is Justin Fitzgerald, mend him who can, the ladies call him sweet, and so do the bleacherites. Fitz still retains his old-time popularity and the raising he gets when he fails to make a hit is nothing more or less than paeans of admiration from hundreds of bleacherites. Fitz is still crafty and resourceful and is always a dangerous element when he swings the bludgeon.

COAST RUTH.

Agnew bids fair to be the Babe Ruth of the Coast, if his two homers last Sunday can be taken as a criterion. Sam and Stanage form the backstopping finesse of the Coast and their peers would be difficult to find. Sam still riots in the doubtful practice of shooting 'em sharply to first on any and all occasions when a runner is at that bag. Up to the time, however, of going to press, Samuel has not flivvered any of these throws, but is liable to ball one up before the week is over.

As long as we live we shall never forget the manner in which he trapped Truck Hannah off second last Sunday. He pulled off the old vaudeville stuff of giving the highsign to the pitcher when Truck was parked in cheerful serenity near Rath. O'Doul and Agnew held a few words of the old bushwa and then Sam strolled back to the plate with wisdom leaking out all over him.

TRUCK TRAPPED.

Hannah, in an unguarded moment, took about a three-inch lead off second, when suddenly—zowie—O'Doul turned, pegged the pill to Rath, and the horrible deed was done in broad daylight. We have thus dwelt by and large on the Seals' prowess simply because they look to be a dangerous factor for the pennant this year.

Now lads, make no mistake about our Angels. They may not have looked good last week up north, but just watch them this week. Back in their own habitat, they will more than likely take on renewed life and play the Seals off their pins before next Sunday crawls around.

The game this afternoon will begin at 2:10 o'clock sharp. Killefer will probably set his hopes in Crandall, while Charley Graham will about shoot "Death Valley" Scott at the Cherub sluggers.

Vernon takes on Oakland this week—Salt Lake runs up and entertains the Suds at Seattle, and the Senators hike to Portland to fatten on the Beavers.

MERMEN TO COMPETE.

The national A.A.U. championship for the 150-yard back-stroke swimming race will be decided in the Los Angeles Athletic Club pool tomorrow night. Norman Ross, world's premier paddler, and Ray Kegeris are the principal contenders for the crown.

Fred Cady, swimming instructor at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, believes his man will give Ross plenty of competition, and will not be a surprised man if Kegeris wins the race.

There will be three other contestants—Kenneth Carraher of the L.A.C., Francis Theiner of San Diego and Holmes Bowers of L. A. High.

Besides the 150-yard race, for which a new record is expected, there will be six other interesting events, including races for high school boys, club juniors, 100-yard dash for women, diving for women and a novelty event for men. The meet is open to the public.

ASK ROWING QUARTERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—The Intercollegiate Rowing Association today received a request that quarters be obtained at Poughkeepsie for the University of California rowing squad, which will compete in the intercollegiate championships on the Hudson River June 22.

Accommodations were requested for at least thirteen men and their equipment. The association's board of stewards delegated a representative of the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce to seek available quarters along the river within range of the regatta course.

It is understood that the California oarsmen will occupy the Poughkeepsie camp for at least two weeks before the championships. They probably will go direct to Princeton on their arrival in the East and after the race against the Tiger eight on June 4, move to Poughkeepsie.

COAST BATTING AVERAGES.

Charlie Pick, third baseman of the Sacramento club, is the real leader of the Pacific Coast League season to date, batting .412 in 21 games. Of his 34 hits, only 4 have been for extra bases.

Sam Agnew is in second place, batting .392 in 20 games. Agnew advanced last week from .298, getting 7 hits in 8 times up against Vernon pitchers. Of his 21 hits to date, 3 have been home runs, 1 a three-bagger and 7 two-baggers.

McAuley heads the Los Angeles players, with an average of .333. McAuley advanced during the week from .294, getting 5 hits in 11 times at bat. Killefer brought up his average from .250 to .287. Killefer made 11 hits in 31 times up. Niehoff advanced from .214 to .275, making 19 hits in 74 trips to the plate. Sam Crawford continued to hit the ball hard, and today has an average of .316.

The averages, which include all games played to date, as compiled by Leo Moriarty follow:

BOY RECEIVES MEDICAL AID.

Mother Who Insists on Faith Cure Under Observation.

Minister's Son Shoots Craps in Gospel Mission.

French and German Views of European Conditions.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 25.—Richard Bailey, the 17-year-old Pasadena lad with the broken kneecap received in a collision with a Santa Fe train, went to the Pasadena Hospital today to have the knee set, while his mother, Mrs. Anna H. Bailey, 429 North Hill avenue, who refused to have medical attention for the youth and declared that faith in the Lord alone could heal him, went to the psycopathic ward of the County Hospital for observation as to her sanity.

These developments resulted from the intervention in the case of the injured lad's sister, Mrs. Carolyn E. McIntosh of Glendora, who caused an insanity complaint against her mother to be issued by Judge Raymond G. Thompson in Justice Court today.

Mrs. Bailey offered no resistance to Constable J. C. Bosey and Deputy Eugene Gougar when they took her to the psycopathic ward, though she said her daughter was making a great mistake and that she still believed divine healing was all that could cure her son.

Mrs. Bailey's insistence on the faith cure was upheld by her husband, F. R. Bailey, who was quite indignant when he returned home from work today to find Mrs. Bailey taken to the psycopathic ward and Richard taken to the operating ward of the local hospital.

"Mrs. Bailey is absolutely right," he said. "We both believe in divine healing and the boy will come out all right if left alone. Improper influences have been brought to bear in the matter."

It was at the suggestion of Mrs. McIntosh that her brother was taken to the hospital, after her mother's removal to the psycopathic ward. At Mrs. McIntosh's solicitation, Judge Thompson asked Dr. J. Severy Hibben, City Physician and Health Officer, to act in the matter.

The boy was injured several days ago when his motorcycle collided with a Santa Fe passenger train. Surgeons here say that if the broken kneecap is not set within ten days he may be a cripple for life. Dr. Hibben said the knee would be operated upon tomorrow morning.

SHOOT CRAPS IN CHURCH.

Charles Waterman, aged 23 years, and Harold Oxman, aged 18 years, were in Police Court today on a charge of shooting craps in the Gospel Mission Church on North Fair Oaks avenue, near Mary street, of which Waterman's father, Rev. Charles C. Waterman, is the pastor and evangelist. Rev. Waterman is absent on a visit.

Waterman admitted he and his companion were rolling the bones in the mission. "But what difference does it make; it was our money?" he said. The court remonstrated with him for his conduct, which he characterized as particularly reprehensible in a mission conducted by the young man's father. "Oh, father didn't get converted until he was 40, and I don't intend to either," said young Waterman.

Judge F. C. Dunham sentenced him to ten days in jail for gambling. Later he relented and suspended the sentence. The minor arrested with Waterman he ordered to report in court again on Saturday.

TWO VIEWS OF IT.

Pasadena today had its first visitor in many a long day registering from Berlin, Germany. He is Herr Paul Gottschalk, a collector and dealer in rare editions, who came here to see the Henry E. Huntington library in San Marino. He is stopping at the Maryland.

Herr Gottschalk does not believe there will be any resumption of war in Europe. He believes that the republican form of government in Germany will endure and that the ambitions of the people are not for war. "The working and middle classes of Germany feel that they are entitled to some consideration now," he said. "That is why I do not think the monarchy will ever come back again, though perhaps 7 per cent of the population favor it, and they are of a class with money and influence. But the German people are awakened to the opportunities of the common people in democracies like France, and they want similar opportunity. But they do not want more war. If they are taxed too much to pay war claims they will strike, quit work. They want a chance for themselves."

The visitor from Berlin says the biggest surprise the German people got in the war was the failure of their submarines to keep the American Army from getting to France. "The militarists said the Americans could never get past the submarine and the people believed it," he said, "so they were highly surprised to learn that there was then seven or eight hundred thousand American soldiers in France."

Although Herr Gottschalk does not believe there will be any more warfare in Europe, this view is not shared by Mlle. Felice Bourdaise of Paris, a young French war nurse, who has been resting here this winter. She is preparing to return to France, to be ready with her services if her country needs them again.

"The Germans are getting ready for war right now," said Mlle. Bourdaise here today. "That is one reason they are protesting so against paying the indemnity demanded of them. They know that if all their money is taken from them they will not be in a position to fight again."

MUNICIPAL FEUD.

Organizations at Venice Call Each Other Names.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, April 25.—The Venice Chamber of Commerce and the Venice Improvement Association today clashed in what it is believed will be a spirited civic duel, in deciding whether or not a municipal library shall be erected.

The chamber is forwarding the plan. The improvers are bitterly opposing it and in resolutions they have indorsed accuse the chamber of being "a political organization, which is calling for a special election of $175,000—obviously to erect a building to be known as the Venice Chamber of Commerce to be ruled, used and domiciled as a warming nest to hatch further and more of their self-aggrandising political schemes."

The $175,000, the chamber declares, is to be used to erect a library to be second only to the city school system as an educational agent. Because the present quarters are inadequate, the chamber says, it wishes to build in addition to the library an auditorium and Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 25.—William F. Durr, local architect, was seriously injured in an automobile accident on Harbor Boulevard near Gardena this morning. Durr's auto was struck by a machine driven by a woman, and was completely wrecked. Durr was taken to a Los Angeles hospital, where it was stated he is suffering from a possible fracture of the skull.

SHOCK CAUSE OF SERIOUS ILLNESS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, April 25.—Shock resulting from the death of her baby in a fire, which burned him to death this morning, Mrs. John Thomson of 2104 Walnut avenue, Venice, is seriously ill this afternoon and is under the care of a physician. As she was horribly blistered by the flames, which surrounded the child, who had lighted the bedclothes of a bed in a tent in which he was playing, and from which she tried to lift him, Mrs. Thomson's condition is greatly aggravated, according to her physician.

The child, who was 3 years old, had crossed the street from the Walnut-avenue home and evidently had a box of matches in a tent used by small boys in the neighborhood as a camping ground. When his mother heard the cries the tent was blazing. She rushed the boy to St. Catherine's Hospital, where he died two hours later.

PHYSICIAN DIES FROM INFECTION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, April 25.—Following an illness of more than a year, Dr. F. E. Walker, prominent surgeon of this city, died today at his home, 321 East Ocean Boulevard. Dr. Walker, who was 49 years old, was accidentally pricked on a finger with an instrument while performing a delicate operation at a local hospital about a year ago. The surgeon completed the operation before attending to his own injury. Infection set in, and for several months the doctor's life was despaired of. A few months ago, however, he improved, and had resumed his practice on a small scale, when he contracted a skin disease while in a barber chair. This aggravated the old infection, and Dr. Walker's condition took a turn for the worse. He became unconscious a week ago.

ENFORCE FIRE LAW.

Forest Officials Announce Opening of Active Campaign.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTERVILLE, April 25.—First conviction of the season for neglect of camp fires has been reported from the forest supervisors' headquarters at Porterville. Charles Acterberg, W. F. Acterberg, H. C. Smith and A. Hansen, local fishermen encamped at Coffee Camp on the Tule River above Springville, emptied the contents of their coffee pot on the fire and were on their way. Not so far but what an officer discovering the smouldering coals followed them and swore out a joint complaint before Judge W. C. Talbot at Springville. Charles Acterberg assumed responsibility for the fire and paid the fine of $50, which was imposed. Maximum punishment in such cases is $500 fine and ninety days in the County Jail. Fire control plans for this season are to be most drastic.

WORKMEN UNEARTH INTERESTING RELIC.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 25.—The jawbone of an animal that may have been a sea monster was unearthed yesterday in a gravel pit on the Palos Verdes hills, near Lomita, by workmen in the employ of Faulkner & Cripe, local contractors.

The bone is about two feet long, and has a setting of teeth, some of which are missing, while others are broken. Fishermen who viewed the fossil stated they believed it to be the jawbone of a fish that weighed at least fifty tons when alive.

Numerous other fossil remains have been dug up in the Palos Verdes gravel pits recently. A bone was found which was declared by scientists to have been from the leg of an elephant larger than any living elephant of the present time. Remains of many animals both large and small, which are now completely extinct, have been dug up at Lomita from time to time.

BARRIE AND DE MILLE.

CHARM OF POPULAR PLAY IS SUPERBLY RETAINED.

By Edwin Schallert.

Be she rich or poor, pretty or ordinary, charming or lusterless, any woman in her home may a master diplomat be. Provided she has brains.

That is what Barrie would have the world acknowledge in his play of clever purpose, "What Every-Woman Knows." And that is what William De Mille has made resplendently apparent in his remarkable screen version of the comedy-drama success this week at Grauman's Theater.

By a single stroke of superlative craft has this student and director of the photoplay risen high above his previous stature of skill and feeling. By an adroit power of observation, and a high sense of stage and pictorial art, has he caught and held the elusive spirit of the dramatist—that few if any have previously succeeded in translating.

For once I did not feel the aggravation of tediousness—even though "What Every Woman Knows" is a sufficiently long picture—for once I felt that no damage had been done to the original emotion, and the thought behind it, and in front of it, and all about it, as is the way with Barrie, and this I ascribe to no other one thing so much as a devout adherence to the original. Perhaps it would not be well in every case to be so faithful. But with "What Every Woman Knows" it would have been folly to be otherwise.

The lines in the Barrie play are gems of the highest purity, and to neglect their essential beauty would have wrecked the screen version. And throughout his film feature, I believe, Mr. De Mille has kept the most priceless jewels of the dialogue, just as he has deviated not at all from the action.

He has the Scotch feeling, too, although this is perhaps the least of the picture's graces. Still the canniness the thrift, the shrewed ambition of the Scot are proclaimed in the earlier scenes, and if they are not the living image of national traits, they are at least not a dead one. Most stage presentations can say little more.

Of the cast, Conrad Nagel's portrait is the most excellently sketched in its general outlines; that of Lois Wilson's the best in its intimate details. Neither is perfection, but both are enriched with effort and sincerity. It would be hard to imagine any other screen players as more successful in the mere matter of acting in the two vital roles, one the man who believed his success came from himself alone, and the other, the woman whom he married out of a sense of duty, but who helped to make his fame and at the same time recognized that every man who climbs to the top is happier for believing he did it all himself, and whose most expressive line is that "Eve was not made from Adam's rib, but from his funny bone."

The characters are bits of rare delight, with Charles Ogle, Fred Huntley and Guy Oliver convincingly thrifty Scots all of them.

Winter Hall, Lillian Tucker as Sybil, the siren of romance, and Claire MacDowell all should be mentioned favorably.

I wish, in addition, that I had more space to devote to the children's revue. The kiddies at Grauman's Theater are nearly always wonder children, and this time they're seemingly more clever than usual. Popular fancy would dictate giving them more space, but not poetic justice demanded so much for the De Mille feature.

OLGA STECK IS HIT AT PANTAGES.

Honors are about equally divided between Olga Steck and Britt Wood, who with Paul Keist, make up the high lights in this week's offering at Pantages. Miss Steck is one of the best little singers and dancers there is, and she scored a decided hit yesterday afternoon. Her singing first captivates you, and her costumes make a wonderful hit, while the little lady herself is most pleasing to look at. She is extremely demure and girlish.

Paul Keist has something new to offer vaudeville goers. His act is one of the kind that must be seen. It cannot be explained, except to say there are ships, airplanes, fireworks and many optical illusions, all of which furnish entertainment.

Britt Wood does a monologue and plays a harmonica. He is billed as a boob with a harmonica, and while one would scarcely accuse him of being a boob" either in looks or actions, everyone who hears him this week will admit that he is really "there" with the tunes.

The Molera Revue is a collection of men and women who sing real music. Their voices are all good, and they proved very popular with the audience. Some of their selections are a little highbrow, but were well received.

White Brothers, gymnastic jokesters, opened the show with a good pantomime act. George Rinkel and Kitty Mae have a song number that is fair. The man in the act really has a wonderful basso-profundo, and he sings several songs, which are pleasing. Permane and Shelly do a nut turn during which they make some really good music on a violin and an accordion.

The "Servant in the House," directed by Jack Conway, with an excellent cast, is the picture.

DIZZY BILL AT THE ORPHEUM.

Whether you like plain, fancy, dressed or undressed hokum you're going to get your fill and your thrill from all varieties this week at the Orpheum, and if one judges by the way the mirth rambled around the theater yesterday, and came back for a new start, it's the plain kind that gets over best. At least, its simpleness seems to thrive as a virtue—even if it is the simpleness of the intelligent feeble-minded.

Whatever else Herbert Williams may be, he is a nut. There's no question about it. Nobody ever doubted it; nobody ever will. His face made him one in the first place; and his talents make him one in the second, and his act makes him one in the fourth. I've already started skipping places, you see, because there are so many things causing Williams to be a nut that he ought to get up in a tree and stay there. Only, if he did, vaudeville would lose its nuttiest nut act, and the hard heads in the Monday afternoon audience would die for want of something to laugh at. Hilda Wolfus is still with Herbert, and lives—though how she manages to season after season with Herbert ever present is vast an unfathomable mystery.

By rights, I suppose that Harriet Rempel, being a highbrow headliner and everything, should have come first in this review. But I always try to follow the crowd at the Orpheum. Miss Rempel's "The Story of a Picture" provides the fancy hokum on the bill, I'm not wild about the garnishings myself, but I suppose a lot of people like to find out that a man is sometimes a failure because he didn't follow a woman's advice. A lot of women would, anyway. Miss Rempel's act is described as a romantic fantasy, and is attractively set. She, herself, is delightful, and very light and charming in her comedy, but her leading man, Mr. Higgins, drives in low most of the time.

The whole of Moss and Frye's act is their title "How High is Up? How Come?" and their singing. One of the pair is real black, and the other is much blacker, but not so real. One of their best lines is "Who Killed the Dead Sea?" But it's pretty much of a one-string fiddle affair, this act, though that string is good while it lasts.

More nuttiness is purveyed by Harry Holmes and Florrie la Vere, who also do some smart singing and dancing. Everest's novelty circus is. It's all monkeys and no trainer in sight, so if you're an old-timer you know it.

Alice Lloyd finally gets to "Splash Me" through the diligent encoring of the audience, which was very diligent yesterday afternoon, for Miss Lloyd went over quite splendidly. Bobby O'Neil is still on deck with his very pleasing divertissement.

Otherwise all things are equal. And it's a good show.

A Howl from Hades.

"Hell" as presented by Bob Albright's Follies at the Broadway Pantages, is a domain of red subterranean caverns in close touch with the world above by wireless and a chute through which mortals are dispatched from above after Satan has given his consent to their hell-bent expedition. Frank Samuels has used the story of the vampire who found hell so congenial that Satan made her queen of the inferno, for the skeleton of his lurid musical comedy.

Henry Sherr is the mortal who was so enamored of the vampire that he followed her to hades. The comedian of the Follies is not so much at home in "Hell" as he has been in others of the Albright playlets, but manages to find opportunity for the twisted language that has made him a favorite at the Broadway Pan.

Clarence Hodder as his majesty of the lower world, is a strictly conventional follower of John Griffith in his portrayal. Satan is the only person who takes the Albright "Hell" seriously. If Hodder would remember that he is doing a Samuel's devil, not a Faust Mephisto, "Hell" would be the better.

A further improvement would be to mask the white lights with which "Spot," the Devil's intimate, toys sportively in her moments of inaction, and save the eyes of the audience from the arc-like glare.

Outside of that "Hell" is innocently amusing.

"When We Were Twenty-One," the screen version of Nat C. Goodwin's stage success, is presented. "A Woolen Yarn," showing the progress of the textile from sheep to clothing, and "Home Rule," a Billy Franey comedy, complete the picture program.

Neilan Returns Next Week.

Telegraphic advices from New York last evening brought the news that Marshall Neilan plans to leave for Los Angeles with his staff within the next few days.

Mr. Neilan will shortly start the most elaborate production of his career here, it is announced. This picture will take six months to produce, according to Mr. Neilan's West Coast representative and will involve extensive travel for his company.

The interiors will be made here and then the entire producing organization will journey to different localities throughout the country.

The production of this film is prompted by the success of "Bob Hampton of Placer," the first spectacular film Mr. Neilan has ever staged and which has met with favor.

In his announcement Mr. Neilan states that Associated First National Exhibitors will distribute the new ogering and that the nature of the story will be made public in the near future.

For the past two months the producer has been working on "The Lotus Eater," starring John Barrymore, with Colleen Moore, Anna Q. Neilson and other notables in the cast. He confirms the report that he personally directed the picture.

Lois Weber Returns.

Lois Weber has returned to Los Angeles after four days at Yosemite Park. Ever since coming back from New York she has been trying to find time to write the scenario of her forthcoming picture. She was so harassed with studio business matters, however, that she finally threw up her hands in despair, engaged a cottage at Yosemite by wire, and left Los Angeles behind her. She returned Saturday with the completed manuscript of her next photoplay tucked under her arm.

The principal players who are appearing, work having begun yesterday, are Claire Windsor and Louis Calhern, who have been playing in all Miss Weber's recent productions.

Betty Blythe Sees It.

Betty Blythe, star of "The Queen of Sheba," visited a performance of the feature at the Lyric Theater in New York last Saturday on arriving in the metropolis, according to word just received from there.

Miss Blythe was disguised in her clothes, and so wasn't recognized by the audience, but later, at her hotel, she explained that just five years ago she was walking up and down Broadway wearing out shoe leather in quest of a job.

FLASHES.

"SINBAD" HAS MAGIC.

THRONGS GREET AL JOLSON AT PHILHARMONIC.

By Grace Kingsley.

Magic of the Arabian Nights, plus the magic of Al Jolson—that's "Sinbad," which packed Philharmonic Auditorium from pit to shelf last night, and which brought forth all the elfish echoes of laughter and applause that ever had resounded through the vast place. All movieland was present in the audience to greet the star, beginning with Charles Ray's saying hello to him out in the lobby before the performance began.

It was Jolson, doubtless, who originated that clubby, reach-down-and-gather-me-up style of song. And that magic charm of voice and personality are greater than ever—or is it only that they seem greater because it's been so long since they have visited us? Just as caressingly, with as vibrant a magnetism as of yore, Jolson sings to us about "Mammy" and "Cairo"—oh, well, what matters it what he sings about? Any old thing will do.

Then, beside, he's kidding and telling his funny yarns about golf or whatnot, with that unctuous grin and inflection that pages the laughs almost before he begins. Somebody tells him of a king's orders, and he says, "Ha, so kings are getting nasty again!" and the house howls.

Or it's his greeting to the crowd in front that wins: "I know lots of folks out in front here—'course not so many as back in New York at the Winter Garden. Why, there I can call every man by his first name—'Abie!'" And of course there are one or two slightly tinted jokes.

There are some mighty clever burlesque scenes, especially those where Jolson as Inbad, the Porter, meets Sinbad, the Sailor, in the Bagdad palace.

The joy stuff of Jolson's singing and humor alternates with some gorgeously arranged and beautiful spectacles and dance numbers. The girls are lovely and so are the costumes and stage settings. There are eleven scenes and two acts, with some of the most fanciful the Grotto in the Valley of Diamonds, the Bagdad palace scene, and others. There's a wondrous butterfly ballet, in which the girls wear tights—with every reason in the world.

Of course, the last thing one mentions about a musical comedy is the music, but that of "Sinbad," written by Romberg and others, has so far preceded the production that you don't have to be told it's good. It's full of haunting harmony as well as pep.

There are the "Bagdad" song, the "I Hail from Cairo," the "Bedalumbo" and others. And there are a number of excellent voices—another unusual thing in a musical comedy.

The come-on scenes at the opening are rather slow, strange to say, but the show begins to boom to a swift getaway the minute Jolson appears and doesn't let up thereafter. Mabel Wilbur proves a very pleasing and lovely prima donna, and was in excellent voice last night; Sue Creighton is a little package of pep and personality, another Kitty Doner, cute in boy's clothes, and dances like a bit of thistledown; Helen Eley was a very lovely and sweet warbling slave girl; Forrest Huff and Charles Brown sing Sinbad and the King, respectively, very nicely indeed, and the scores of others were all round pegs in round holes.

BARRYMORE TO PLAY MEPHISTO.

When D. W. Griffith's film version of "Faust" is unfolded to the world, it will be no less magnificent an actor than John Barrymore, who will be seen as Mephistopheles. This interesting announcement reached us last night, and will doubtless be a source of eager anticipation to the many admirers of both Griffith and Barrymore.

Lillian Gish, you remember, is to play the lovely, wronged, Marguerite, and it would appear that with the combination of director, actor and actress, the film may be expected to set another new pace.

"THE SMART SEX" LURE AT SUPERBA.

Nobody in "The Smart Sex," which is the play showing at the Superba, is smart enough to justify his or her sex being blanket-labeled that way. The heroine makes some reasonable deductions from obvious facts, that's all. But after all, if any human being in any picture ever shows a glimmering of good sense, probably that's reason enough for special mention in the title!

Eva Novak is the young lady who makes the bright discoveries which lead to the identification of the robber in the burglary mystery forming a big part of the story. Nobody else had the common sense to realize that the ink-sprinkled bag in which the diamonds were brought to the diamond dealer was not the bag which the thief left, and on which hung his identification.

"The Smart Sex" is an entertaining story. Its love interest is presented in an especially fresh and appealing way, with the young man leaving his home because his father objected to his card-playing, and going into the vegetable delivery business, and thus meeting the lovely young heroine.

She had been a cabaret singer, but sought the simple life on the farm; and though the hero's mother objected to the match, whispering to her daughter that her son would soon find the girl didn't "fit in with our set," it seems the young lady knew all about the proper forks, so she's accepted. Probably she exercised her observational powers when she danced in the cafe.

A Century comedy adds to the gayety of nations.

Will Play Jail Story.

A story is being written for Bebe Daniels, in which she will play the role of a young girl who goes to jail. Part of this will, of course, be built around her recent experiences at Santa Ana. Elmer Harris is writing the play.

Jean Acker Bitten by Dog.

With a mangled hand chewed by her pet bull dog, Jean Acker, film actress, is confined to her home in Hollywood. It was while playing with the animal the other day and teasing it that the accident occurred.

Miss Acker's dog is a bull terrier, and was known to be rather cross with strangers, but had always been considered entirely gentle with members of Miss Acker's family. By some chance he became enraged while Miss Acker was playing with him, and sunk his teeth in her hand, again and again, before she could loosen the member.

A physician was at once sent for, and the wound cauterized. It is not considered that the animal was suffering from rabies, but nothing was left to chance.

Chaplin Highbrowed.

Charlie Chaplin declares he is receiving all kinds of high-brow letters concerning "The Kid." Some of the writers of these read deeper meanings in the picture than he, in his wildest flights of fancy, ever meant to convey.

"I can see deep allegorical significance in your picture," declared one gushing lady suffering from the high-brow disorder.

"And then," exclaimed the comedian, "Ouch! She went on, 'You have the deep heart of motherhood!'"

And Charlie says he didn't know there was anything like that the matter with him, and that he doesn't know what to do about it.

Old Minstrel Story It.

There's a big heart story concealed in the song, "The Sun Shines On My Old Virginia Home," given by Arthur P. Currier during the progress of the Elks' minstrel show last night at the Mason. The people who applauded the beautiful song never dreamed of the ache in the heart of the man who wrote it, nor of his present plight.

James Green is the author. He is an old minstrel man, and was once a star member of the Primrose and Lew Dockstader's. But thirty-five years ago he was stricken with paralysis, and has been a sufferer from the disease ever since.

All he has to live on is the $6 per week, which the Actors' Fund allows him, and he occupies a tiny room down on East Fourth street, at 123 East Fourth street, to be exact. But for a long time, despite his suffering, a song has been singing itself in his heart—"The Sun Shines On My Old Virginia Home."

The song is proving a hit with the Elks, and now all that remains is for some song publisher to plug it. It's quite sure to be a success, for it has a haunting, lovely melody.

More Eminent Authors.

The Goldwyn studio is just all cluttered up with eminent authors. And now two more are to be added.

A cablegram from Kathleen Norris announces that she and Maj. Norris have sailed for the United States. After a holiday in Europe both authors will return to literary work. Mrs. Norris is due at the Culver City studios soon after her arrival in this country.

CROWS' BOARD PROVED COSTLY.

Loss in Oklahoma More Than Million Annually.

Migrate from Other States During Winter.

Heavy Burden is Lifted from Neighbors.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STILL WATER (Okla.) April 25. Oklahoma's board bill for crows from its sister States—north, east, south and west—is $1,200,000 annually. These pests of the air, who migrate to Oklahoma for the winter holidays, are costly visitors.

According to a report made here today by C. E. Sandborn, professor of entomology at the Oklahoma A. & M. College, crows cause a loss of more than this sum to farmers each year, chiefly through their consumption of grain. The figure was arrived at on an estimate of 10,000,000 crows consuming $10,000 worth of grain per day for 120 days, the average period of their sojourn in the winter.

A GOOD REFUGE.

"Oklahoma boards the crow during the winter and thus raises a heavy burden from the Northern and Eastern States," the report says, "where it appears to be more of a summer resident than a winter pest. They have acquired the habit of decoying others and returning here until it appears the annual crop of crows from adjoining States winter here. The nature of the farm crops at this time of the year and the timber lands make a good refuge for them."

Compared with his report, Prof. Sandborn quoted statistics from four community councils of Logan county, which estimated that the crows did $71,200 damage in the county alone. The roosting places and food ranges of the crow are such, he said, that at least twenty counties were ravaged last year equal to Logan county, therefore making a total estimate of $1,424,000 for Oklahoma's board bill to crows.

HORDES OF THEM.

"A proper description during the winter in Oklahoma would appear fictitious to persons who have not seen some proof of the crows' presence in the State," the entomologist declares. "Persons who do not travel over Oklahoma much, but have noticed hordes of crows hovering over certain sections of the State, might think that all of the crows in the country were bivouacking in that particular locality.

"The most serious complaints relative to crop damage indicate that Indian corn, kafir, sorghum, maize, darso, peanuts, pecans, melons and cotton are the products usually seriously damaged by the crows. They also injure germinating corn and oats.

"Their damage to crops, purloining of eggs and destruction of wild animal life are not only tremendous, but their habit of carrion eating makes of them disseminators of live-stock diseases. This latter damage is potential in character and practically incomputable."

SHIPPING TIE-UP IS IMPENDING.

union men was declared to be discrimination against Americans and the demands were refused.

As a result of the refusal, Mr. Furuseth and his associates left the meeting and declared the men would refuse to work after May 1, if the wage reduction was made effective.

LAKES NOT AFFECTED.

Ships on the Great Lakes and tugs, barges and other craft employed in harbor transportation would not be affected by the strike, union leaders said, as they are under separate contracts. A tie-up of deep sea and coastwise ships would be felt by several hundred thousand men.

Recent reports of American shipping show that the United States Shipping Board owns 1773 ocean-going ships of 7,790,736 gross tons, the majority in the hands of private operators. In addition there are 1917 ships of 5,125,273 gross tons owned by private companies. Of these approximately 50 per cent of the Shipping Board tonnage and 25 per cent of the privately owned ships are now tied up, due, the owners and operators said, to a lack of cargo. American flag passenger vessels which possibly would be affected by a strike include those of the International Mercantile Marine, Hamburg and Antwerp service; the United States Mail Steamship Company and the United American lines in the European trade and all coastwise lines operated on the Atlantic and Pacific Coast and between ports on the Atlantic and Gulf Coast.

UNION REQUEST DENIED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Despite requests from the International Seamen's Union for stricter enforcement of the language test provisions of the Seamen's Act, Secretary Hoover said today the existing interpretation of the Bureau of Navigation would remain unchanged.

Mr. Hoover said the union's request that provisions which require seamen on American ships to understand orders from American officers be construed that the seamen understood English brought up the question of Chinese crews on American ships in the Pacific and the general use there of pidgin English. The American shipping situation in the Pacific is already desperate as a result of Japanese competition, he added, and if American ships were forced to dispense with Chinese crews all hope of the upbuilding of the American merchant marine in that ocean would have to be abandoned.

TO TIE UP WEST COAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Breaking of wage negotiations between the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and the American Steamship Owners' Association in New York carries the possibility of a tie-up of Pacific Coast shipping, which will involve between 25,000 and 30,000 workers, it was said today by officials of the engineers' association. The tie-up is scheduled for May 1.

"The proposed 20 per cent cut is too drastic, and is not justified by the existing conditions," it was said in a statement from the engineers' local. "We are awaiting the return of our representatives from New York and will take action at that time."

SITUATION IS CRITICAL.

"All marine workers' organizations in every city on the Coast are affected. The present wage ranges from $337.50 for chief engineers on first-class vessels to a figure much lower than that for unskilled help."

The local of the engineers' association received a circular letter today from its representatives in the New York conference, stating that the situation was critical. Preliminary arrangements for the strike were begun at once.

The strike order, if operative, will affect all but inside, or harbor, river and bay, shipping. Railroad ferryboats will not be affected.

No effort will be made under the Seamen's Act to break the tie-up, representatives of the American Shipowners' Association said, as the act demands that the workers in the more vital employments must be certified and experienced. The ships simply would remain within the harbors, they said, until such time as the tie-up was called off.

FRANCE MAY LOWER BAR TO OIL IMPORTS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 25.—Restrictions on importation on petroleum would be removed and freedom of imports without governmental supervision would be restored by a bill introduced in the Chamber of Deputies here today. The measure, if passed by Parliament, would be effective on May 1.

Under the terms of the bill, importers must pay a tax of 15 francs per hectoliter of imported petroleum to the government. They also must allow consumers the benefit of all price decreases accepted by the state.

EUROPE PRAISES AMERICAN ARMY

Troops in Germany Said to be Finest in World.

Every Branch Complete and Ready to Act.

Foreign Observers Studying Methods, Equipment.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

COBLENZ, April 25.—A complete outfit, a miniature army equipped with all necessary services, capable of taking the field at twenty-four hours' notice without the assistance of any outside elements and one of the best military units every organized in the world's history of armies—such is the description that military men, Allied, neutral and former enemies apply to the American Army of Occupation as it is constituted today.

EUROPE STUDIES METHODS.

That the efficiency of the training system of the American forces in Germany, the excellence of their equipment and their faultless military bearing are generally recognized throughout Europe is shown by the fact that missions from various countries have either visited Coblenz during the past few months or have applied for permission to come to this base and get first-hand knowledge of how it is done.

A few weeks ago the Chief of Staff of the Swiss army, accompanied by several officers, spent a week in Coblenz as the guest of Gen. Allen, the American commander, attended inspections, visited the barracks, reviewed the troops and returned to Berne to tell the officers of the Swiss army that the American Army on the Rhine was "the most up-to-date, the best equipped and the best looking military outfit of all the armies of the world."

DUTCH IMPRESSED.

A commission from The Netherlands made a similar visit and was equally favorably impressed and now the Finnish government has asked permission to send a commission to Coblenz.

Should circumstances require the American Army on the Rhine to move against an enemy or to occupy further territory, 10,000 infantrymen composed of the First and Second brigades would furnish the bulk of the fighting force.

Their advance would be guarded against surprises and ambush by 300 cavalry and eighteen airplanes, which would do the scouting before the moving infantry. Three trained pilots are available for each plane in case of airmen meeting with accidents.

THOUSAND ARTILLERYMEN.

One thousand artillery men, serving eight batteries of field guns, would be on hand to supply a barrage, should it become necessary.

Three hundred men of the Signal Corps battalion would look after telephone and telegraph communications with the base at Coblenz. The Railway Engineers' Battalion, which is receiving constant practical training on a little branch line on the right bank of the Rhine, which they are operating, would, with the assistance of the Motor Transport Corps, attend to the service of supplies of the Expeditionary Force.

MEDICAL CORPS COMPLETE.

The Engineers' First Battalion would throw pontoon bridges over such streams as were traversed in the advance. Six ambulance companies, assisted by a Medical Corps of 600, establishing field hospitals, would give first help to the wounded before their evacuation to the base hospital.

Only one arm used in modern warfare is lacking—tanks. As one officer remarked facetiously: "We have no tanks of any sort in this army."

There is a machine-gun section with every company instead of one to every battalion as formerly.

Thus while the Army of Occupation in Germany numbers just a little more than half the effectives of one American division on a war footing, it is, nevertheless, a real army in the fullest sense of the term.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEEDY ARRANGED.

Salvation Army to Start Home Service Drive Early in Month of May.

May 8 has been named as the date for the inception of the annual Salvation Army home service campaign for Los Angeles, according to an announcement made last night by Brig. C. R. Boyd, local divisional commander. The objective this year is $145,000, every cent of which, and as much more as can be earned, will be spent in Los Angeles for the relief of needy men, women and children, and for the purchase of appliances necessary to give them relief.

"The Salvation Army has only one objective in the present campaign to raise the annual maintenance fund for the coming year," said Brig. Boyd, "and that is to provide the necessaries of life to those physical sufferers in Los Angeles for whom no other agency exists. Its work supplements that of various municipal agencies.

"The Army's distribution of milk to hungry babies is made under the supervision of the chief nurse of the city health department. Unwed girls, approaching motherhood, are received in the Truelove Maternity Home with the co-operation and approval of the juvenile authorities. The children of working mothers are sheltered in the Army's day nursery, under the approval and supervision of the health department, and scores of men out of work and in distress apply to the Army industrial home to avoid becoming objects of public charity or inmates of the city or county jails.

"So, you see that the Salvation Army makes an appeal to the public, both on humanitarian and economic grounds. The taxpayers of Los Angeles city and county are saved nearly every dollar expended by the Salation Army in this section."

BILLINGS MAY CONFESS PLOT.

life-termer's wish to air his purported grievances. Likewise, for an opposite reason, representatives of several San Francisco newspapers have importuned the Governor's office and the prison board for authority to get Billings's story.

The latest attempt of this nature occurred more than a week ago, when a San Francisco newspaper man accompanied former Asst. Dist.-Atty. James Brennan of San Francisco, who obtained Billings's conviction, to Folsom prison.

There, according to Warden Smith, the reporter was refused an opportunity to participate in the conversation between Billings and the former prosecutor. What transpired at the conference has not been disclosed, although it was the opinion of the prison warden that Billings, who had expressed a desire to see Brennan, failed to supply any important information.

BILLINGS RESENTFUL.

Persistency of the reports concerning Billings and his alleged resentment against unionite agitators for whom he is said to have been nursing an increasingly strong grudge, together with the refusal of the prison authorities to permit any disinterested person to talk to him may lead to an official investigation.

Billings, according to Warden Smith, has been a model prisoner since his imprisonment, which began in September, 1916.

The prisoner, however, has a bad record. He is believed to have been a ringleader in a plot to blow up the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in 1913.

He was arrested by the Sacramento police Sept. 13, 1913, and a quantity of dynamite was found in his possession. He was tried and sentenced to two years in Folsom. In April of the same year Billings was arrested in San Francisco on a charge of assault to commit murder, but escaped conviction because of insufficient evidence.

He was captured by the San Francisco police July 27, 1916, five days after the Mooney bomb explosion, the first of the terrorists responsible for the fiendish crime to be apprehended.

LOS ANGELES ASKS WATER POWER LICENSE

APPLICATION FILED FOR SAN FRANCISQUITO CANYON POWER-HOUSE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Application for a permit or license under the Federal Waterpower Commission was filed as follows:

Tunnel from Los Angeles-Owens River Aqueduct at a point in Section 7, T. 6 N., R. 15 W. S. B. M., to a power-house in Section 22, in San Francisquito Canyon, Los Angeles county, California; head 920 feet, average flow 200 cubic feet per second, maximum 1000 cubic feet per second. This plant already is constructed and is known as the San Francisquito Canyon power-house No. 1. A tunnel from the tail race of this power house is proposed leading to a second proposed power-house in Section 11, T. 5 N., R. 16 W., head 560 feet. The two projects will develop an average of 30,000 horsepower and a maximum of 70,000, proposed by the Department of Public Service of the city of Los Angeles.

Advertisement was issued for power-houses, reservoirs, conduits and transmission lines on Convict Creek, California, proposed by A. G. McDonald, Williams, Cal.

ONE MORE TECHNICALITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 25.—A plea that grand juries for which women have not been impaneled cannot return legal indictments was made by attorneys today in asking that an indictment against Thomas Devereaux, charged with robbery of $37, be quashed.

SCHOOL GIRL IN DEATH JUMP.

Leaps from Study Window to Yard, Twenty Feet Below, and Dies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OCEANSIDE (N. Y.) April 25.—In the quiet of a study hour in the high school here today, Miss Virginia Sisson, 17, walked to a window and jumped to the yard twenty feet below. She died a few minutes later from a fractured skull. School authorities expressed belief that she had suffered a mental breakdown from taking care of her four small brothers and sister, in the absence of her parents.

ROADS MAY FLOAT LARGE BOND ISSUE.

NORTHERN PACIFIC AND GREAT NORTHERN GRANTED PERMIT AT WASHINGTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today granted authority to the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railway companies to issue $230,000,000 joint fifteen-year convertible gold bonds at not less than 91.5 per cent and authorized the companies to issue and pledge $33,000,000 of other bonds to aid in securing the joint bonds.

The issue was authorized to enable the two roads to retire joint bonds amounting to $215,227,000 issued in 1901 for the purpose of purchasing the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad.

The commission said the actual rate paid by the roads on the bonds which will bear 6½ per cent interest would be about 7.5 per cent on account of the expense of marketing. It was estimated that they probably would sell to the public at 96½.

Each holder of the joint bonds will be entitled to convert them into Northern Pacific and Great Northern bonds.

This convertible feature, the commission said, will enable insurance companies, savings banks and trust companies which, in some States, are not permitted to invest in bonds secured by stock collateral, to invest in them.

I.W.W. SURRENDER AT CAPITAL OF STATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Three members of the Industrial Workers of the World, convicted at Sacramento in 1918 of conspiracy to obstruct the government's war activities, surrendered today to the United States Marshal to begin sentences of ten years each at McNeil Island penitentiary. They had failed to obtain relief from the United States Supreme Court from their conviction.

The trio, Phil McLaughlin, Edward Quigley and Caeser Pabit, were ordered to report to the United States District Court, at present in session at Sacramento.

BILL GIVES FEDERAL AID TO CATTLEMEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Government aid to live stock growers through loans by Federal Reserve and nonmember banks is proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Bursum, Republican, New Mexico. The bill would provide that profits of the Federal reserve banks should be set aside until the "live stock loan fund" of $500,000,000 is obtained for loans at 6 per cent on live stock paper.

WENATCHEE, DISABLED, NEARS PORT.

Exact Trouble Unknown; Carries Gen. Wood on Trip to Japan.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

YOKOHAMA (Japan) April 25.—The disabled United States Shipping Board steamer Wenatchee, with Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood and other prominent passengers on board on its maiden trip from the United States, is being towed here by the Admiral Line freighter Edmore, according to wireless advices received today.

The Edmore picked up the Wenatchee at 11 o'clock last night, 115 miles out of Yokohama.

The Wenatchee, in tow of the Edmore, is slowly approaching this port, where it is believed she will arrive tonight.

The serious mishap to the Wenatchee is absorbing public interest because of the presence of Gen. Wood aboard the vessel which is making its first voyage to this country. The exact trouble remains unexplained.

Maj. Nishihara, aide to Gen. Tanaka, the War Minister, and Secretary Iwate of the Foreign Office, have arrived here to greet Gen. Wood on behalf of the government. Meanwhile several hundred Americans in Tokio and Yokohama had been preparing to give Gen. Wood a dinner of welcome tonight which must be postponed as was the one planned for last Saturday night.

Quiet Day; Only One Bomb.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

FIUME, April 25.—The elections today for the choice of the new Fiume administration proceeded without disturbances of any moment, only one incident marring the day. This was the explosion of a bomb in Dante Square, which injured no one.

EARLY BUDGET ACTION LIKELY.

House, Senate Committee Report Measures.

Tentative Agreement Reached on the Bill.

Little Further Difficulty is Expected.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Early enactment of budget legislation appeared in prospect today when the special budget committee of the House reported out a revised budget bill and the Senate Committee on Expenditures of Executive Departments took similar action.

While the Good bill as reported by the House committee and the McCormick bill as reported from the Senate committee are slightly different a tentative agreement has been reached between the leaders of the two houses and it is expected there will be little further difficulty in putting the measure through.

The bill, as sponsored by Senator McCormick of Illinois embodies the compromise reached between Senate and House leaders relative to the location of the budget bureau.

BUDGET GOES TO CONGRESS.

This bill provides that the budget bureau shall be located in the Treasury Department and that both the director and assistant director shall be appointed by the President. The budget will be submitted to Congress by the President and the Secretary of the Treasury will have practically no hand in its preparation.

The bill as passed by Congress last session and vetoed by President Wilson provided that the budget bureau should be located in the Treasury Department, but made the Secretary of the Treasury director with an assistant director appointed by the President. The McCormick bill represents a compromise between those who favored placing the budget bureau directly under the President and those who wished the Secretary of the Treasury to be in direct charge of the preparation of the budget.

GOOD BILL PROVISIONS.

The Good bill as reported to the House from the special committee creates a budget bureau without placing it either in the Treasury Department or in any other executive department. This bill provides that both the director and assistant director shall be appointed by the President as is the case in the McCormick bill. The Good bill provides salaries of $10,000 and $7000 respectively, for these two officials, while the McCormick bill provides that the salaries shall be $10,000 and $9000 respectively.

BILL WOULD CONSERVE NATION'S GOLD SUPPLY.

PROVIDES REVENUE BY TAX ON MANUFACTURED ARTICLES; TO BE PAID MINERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—A bill to conserve the gold resources of the nation "being wasted through the continued shutting down of the gold mines," was introduced today by Chairman McFadden by the House Banking Committee.

"The bill provides revenue," said McFadden, "from an excise tax of 50 cents per pennyweight of fine gold contained in manufactured articles to be collected at the time of sale, and for a premium of 50 cents per pennyweight to be paid to the producers of newly mined gold in the United States and its possessions.

"The government is fully protected under the provisions of the bill from the presentation of other than newly mined gold to receive the premium. Exporters of articles containing gold have been exempted, as they were from the payment of the luxury tax, in order not to interfere with foreign competition. Revenue will be derived on all gold articles of foreign manufacture sold in this country."

FIVE INDICTMENTS IN BANK CASE QUASHED.

TACOMA COURT HOLDS THREE COUNTS VAGUE, TWO OTHERS NOT CRIMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA, April 25.—Five indictments returned by the grand jury in connection with the failure of the Scandinavian-American Bank were quashed today. Three of these were against Charles Drury, a director of the bank and two against Ole S. Larson, president.

The judge held that the three counts against Drury, charging excessive loans to a director of the bank, were vague and that the two against Larson, charging acceptance of a commission for selling bank stock, are not crimes under the State laws.

Two additional indictments remain against Drury and more than twenty against Larson.

TROOPS MAY GUARD CHICAGO POSTOFFICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 25.—Regular Army troops may be ordered to duty in guarding the Federal Building, the larger branches of the postoffice, railroad terminal loading platforms and branches of the Federal reserve bank, it was announced today by Postmaster William B. Carlile. The information was received in a letter from Postmaster-General Hays, he said.

Recently postal employees were ordered armed as a result of mail robberies of the last few months.

CHILDREN'S JUNK DRIVE PROTESTED AGAINST.

OAKLAND MAN DECLARES IT'S MAKING CRIMINALS OF THEM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 25.—F. H. Cole of Oakland, today filed with State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wood a protest against what he termed a "drive against drive for junk" by the children of the public schools of Oakland.

Cole declared that the practice was making criminals and beggars of the children, but that his principal complaint was that it was causing unfair competition for licensed junk dealers. He alleged that the children, in order to make a showing, often went out and stole junk.

Wood stated that he would ask Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of the Oakland city schools, to look into the matter.

DALMATIANS REFUSE RULE OF JUGO-SLAVS.

NATIVES OF ISLANDS LEAVE RATHER THAN LIVE UNDER HEREDITARY FOES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, April 25.—A dispatch to the Idea Nazionale from Sebenico says the passing of the Dalmatian Islands into Jugo-Slav control last week provoked heartrending scenes especially at Chittavecchia, Lesina.

Many of the people, the dispatch asserts, decided to leave rather than live under the rule of their hereditary foes. They carried with them even the coffins containing their dead and the tombstones.

The newspaper Messaggero today complains of lack of inclination on the part of the Jugo-Slav government to re-establish amicable relations with Italy.

STEADY DECLINE IN FRENCH H. C. OF L.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 25.—Steady declines in the cost of living in France are shown in figures made public here today. They were prepared by the French General Statistical Bureau.

A fall of 32 per cent from the maximum in September, 1920, was recorded in wholesale prices. Retail prices dropped only about 15 per cent.

BRIBES OFFERED FOR RAIN DANCE

Verde Farmers Want Indians to Break Drouth.

Redmen Adamant in Refusal to Woo Pluvius.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

JEROME (Ariz.) April 25.—The farmers of Verde Valley are trying to bribe medicine men of the Mohave-Apache tribe to hold a rain dance. About three weeks ago a successful rain dance was held.

Within twenty-four hours there was a respectable downpour though hardly enough to insure grass, for the ground was very dry.

Now a second rain is needed and the Indians are being asked to do their best toward the desired result.

But the Indians refuse to be cajoled and withstand all offers of bribes for the use of their influence upon Jupiter Pluvius, or his aboriginal prototype.

COMES TO EARTH.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

YUMA, April 25.—Near Picacho, on the desert north of Yuma, a fugitive balloon is reported to have come to earth a few days ago, after having been seen floating about for several days. It is believed that it is one of three reported to have been blown from their moorings recently at San Pedro.

By mysterious means a number of small boys learned of the presence in the local railroad yards, of a car loaded with wine, bound westward, for export. A long auger was secured and the hard car floor and an oak barrel head soon were penetrated, there being released a flood of wine that was caught in all manner of receptacles. Thirty youths were discovered about the car, drinking the liquor or carrying it away.

W. M. Winn, a member of the City Council, has been chosen by that body to be Mayor of Yuma, succeeding Hightower, resigned.

TO RESTORE MISSION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NOGALES, April 25.—The famous old mission of Tumacacori is to be restored in its original condition, as nearly as modern means will permit. The work has been started by Frank Pinkley, custodian of the Casa Grande ruins and representative in Arizona of the national park service. He will go into the near-by mountains and secure hand-hewn beams for the rafters, which he hopes to have carved in the same manner as were the beams that have decayed. As far as possible the roof will be the same as before. The walls will be reconstructed where needed, with adobe, strengthened wiht concrete.

Estimate has been made that the work will cost $2400. A third of this sum has been appropriated by the park service, Nogales has raised $300 more and it is expected that the Knights of Columbus will secure the remainder. The last legislative appropriation bill carried an item of $800 for the purpose, but the paragraph was cut out, as illegal, by Gov. Campbell.

Tumacacori was visited by Father Kino aven before 1700, but the present church, the second of the mission, was dedicated many years later.

MORE COIN NEEDED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

GLOBE, April 25.—Globe has a designated site for a public building, the ground paid for, and $100,000 is available in the national treasury for construction of a building that shall house the postoffice, Federal court and Federal offices.

Senator Cameron now wires that the sum has been found insufficient for the erection of a building such as desired by the supervising architect of the Treasury Department. All bids received have exceeded the sum of the appropriation.

TWO WOMEN DIE IN ESCAPE ATTEMPT.

OCCUPANTS OF ISOLATION WARD FALL WHEN ROPE BREAKS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Two women, Jean Davis, 30, and Eunice Badino, 28 years old, inmates of the isolation ward at the City and County Hospital, lost their lives in a concerted attempt by ten women occupants of the ward to escape last night.

A rope consisting of sheets tied together was suspended from one of the two unbarred windows of the ward, which is on the fourth floor. Jean Davis was halfway to the ground when Eunice Badino started to descend. The rope parted and the two women fell to the pavement below. None of the prisoners escaped.

COTTON STATES PLAN CO-OPERATIVE SALES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 25.—The entire cotton-producing South will cooperate with the representatives of the fifteen cotton-growing States, who meet in Memphis, Tenn., tomorrow to complete plans for a national co-operative sales organization, according to J. W. Coverdale, secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who has just returned from the South.

The conference, called by J. R. Howard, president of the federation, will conclude an intensive drive by State associations for the formation of State pools.

K. OF C. INITIATES CANDIDATE CLASS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BAKERSFIELD, April 25.—The Knights of Columbus initiated a class of fifty candidates here last night from Bakersfield, Taft, Lemoore and other points in the San Joaquin Valley.

The local council conferred the second degree, and the third degree was exemplified by State Deputy David F. Supple of San Francisco, assisted by Frank O'Neil of Los Angeles, M. E. Griffith of Fresno and the State degree team.

At the conclusion of the initiation a banquet was held and addresses were made by the visiting members and others.

MURDER SUSPECT IN BAY CITY RELEASED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Frank Gini, who was arrested here as a suspect in the killing of Miss Alice Byxbee of Fresno by a man who shot her while she was passing through a park, has been cleared of the charge, the police said today.

Efforts to identify him as the slayer were unavailing.

Achievement!

WE BUILD each day upon a series of yesterdays, each year upon the foundation of the years that are past; yet we build not upon periods of time but upon the accomplishments which lie within the past.

The history of the Citizens National Bank covers many years—vital years in the growth of this city, state and nation, and those years are filled with the record of its achievements. Growth, in a physical sense, it has had in full measure, but greater still has been the growth of its vision of service, of its far-sighted realization of the needs of this section in its ever broadening development.

The first bank in this city to establish, through a personal representative, connections in the great foreign ports of the world; the first in a similar manner to organize through its Economic Research Department a systematic co-ordination of the vital sources of information on national and world economic conditions; it has always led in the development of those broader facilities of sound banking necessary to the proper functioning and growth of the great interests of this section.

Tomorrow will record the equally important achievements of today in the history of the progress of this bank, which seeks its growth thru the development of the interests of its customers and its community.

Pass this news on to your mechanical men

Periodically Pierce-Arrow invites mechanical men in charge of trucks operated by Pierce-Arrow owners, to visit Buffalo—not only to see trucks made—but to learn what we know of how to care for and run them economically.

IT is the crux of Pierce-Arrow Policy, not only to make the best trucks possible, but to see that they keep running.

The only profitable truck is a truck at work. Trained men regularly inspect Pierce-Arrows to see that they are properly cared for.

The trucks are designed so that every part is accessible for easy inspection, frequent lubrication and ready, quick repairs.

48 of the FIRST FIFTY trucks were running after 9 years

To Executives

Yesterday, the exposition, which marks a new [illegible] of Business Efficiency for Southern California, opened its doors.

Were we to consider only the number or the caliber of the men and women who visited us, or who have requested reservations, we could truthfully claim an accomplished success now.

But we are not content. We believe this exposition to be a genuine Business Service Convention. It is an opportunity. You can profit by it. But to do so you must avail yourself of the various valuable services offered here.

We want you Business Leaders to look on this as your show. Come prepared to get the most out of it—and get it—it's here.

Make us tell you what we know, and what we can do for you. We'll be glad of the chance to work with you for the betterment of your business.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Country-Wide and Local Survey of Business Conditions.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Slow but substantial gains in business seem to be the order of the day. The great purchasing power of the public is being manifested in various lines, the latest being oil and leather; business has held its gains and is adding to them measurably each week; less unemployment is apparent, though scattered localities are exceptions, which prove the rule; public confidence apparently is being restored conservatively and the outlook continues to improve.

From almost every section come reports of a growing belief that prices have reached or nearly reached the bottom, with indications that upward revisions may be expected in foodstuffs and other commodities at least to some slight extent within the near future.

Unevenness marks the readjustment process in various lines, notably the building trades. Los Angeles, St. Paul and Minneapolis report building booms that promise to surpass all records. Pittsburg is working on plans for the construction of 2000 dwellings, with one big company declaring an open shop and a 20 per cent reduction in wages of carpenters, bricklayers, painters and plumbers.

Cleveland employers have declared a cut of 25 cents an hour in carpenters' wages—from $1.25 to 90 cents—while Philadelphia, seeking to effect a 20 per cent wage cut, anticipates a strike.

Boston reports an undeniable improvement in the credit situation, due largely to the reserve banks' cut from 7 to 6 per cent in the rediscount rate. The woolen mills of New England are active, the leather men are much more cheerful in the belief that prices have been stabilized, retail stores report business practically at last year's levels and the three months' building strike has been broken with the declaration by the employers of an open shop.

New York hears that the merchants of the country, convinced that retail prices have dropped as much as they are going to, are about to stimulate buying by convincing the public that such is the case. The cotton goods trade reports large orders for certain kinds of products, notably ginghams and percales. A healthy buying movement also has been experienced in broad silks.

Crop outlook is promising, with liquidation as to prices of farm products having been most thorough. Labor conditions are improving, with many idle men moving off to the farms.

Employment conditions also continue to improve in Detroit, an increase of 6440 being reported during the week by seventy-nine firms. The pulp industry at Cheboygan has resumed.

St. Louis stands out brightly as a revival center. Boots and shoes, clothing, groceries, woodenware, drugs and chemicals and furniture have picked up in volume of orders from 12 to 42 per cent.

GOLD RESERVE GROWS.

The comparative statement of the condition at the close of business April 22, issued yesterday by the Twelfth Federal Reserve Bank through the Los Angeles branch, shows another increase in gold reserves of about $2,000,000 over the preceding week. Other totals included in the report follow:

Total gold held by the bank, $55,-834,000; total gold reserves, $195,-030,000; bills on hand, $166,941,000; earnings assets, $179,372,000; total resources, $416,296,000. This compares with $426,243,000 for the preceding week, and with $402,000,000 for the corresponding week in 1920.

Government deposits, $3,907,000; due to members, reserve account, $107,121,000; total deposits, $120,-233,000; Federal reserve notes in actual circulation, $231,532,000.

TO PLAN CONVENTION.

W. D. Longyear, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank is on his way to Pinehurst, N. C., to attend the spring meeting of the executive council of the American Bankers' Association, of which he is a member. The council will consider matters of importance to the A. B. A., and complete arrangements for the national convention which is to be held in Los Angeles in October, and which will bring thousands of the leading financial men of the country to this city. A special train de luxe will be run from Chicago to Pinehurst for the accommodation of members of the council.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. F. Sartori, president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, accompanied by Mrs. Sartori, is planning to leave Los Angeles May 5 for a European tour which will include many points of interest and during which the Los Angeles banker expects to acquaint himself fully with the financial situation abroad.

GOLD ORE.

President Fernald of the Gold Ore Mining Company has returned from the mine and said yesterday that the cross-cut upon which development has been concentrated had been extended for 50 feet and had encountered a 9 1-2 foot ore body assaying $10. Drifting is now in progress in either direction.

OVER-BORDER NOTES.

Chihuahua, Mex., is planning a big commercial carnival for the ten days beginning May 22 during which time it is expected that large numbers of business men from the United States will visit northern Mexican cities and that trade between the two countries will be stimulated. Three hundred Texan bankers will make a tour of Mexico next month following the State convention which meets in San Antonio.

A recent issue of the Chihuahua Times declared that Mexico has become the best customer the United States has and that about 55 per cent of all the commodities used are purchased in this country. It is to this great field that the attention of Los Angeles manufacturers and exporters is being directed, and which holds potential possibilities for a tremendously augmented trade.

It is claimed on the authority of W.

Opening Steady; Scattered Sales; July Sells Up.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—A hopeful feeling as to prospects for a settlement of war reparations and the British coal strike, combined with more favorable reports from the cotton goods trade, the increase of foreign exchange, and reports of a cheerful tone in Wall street promoting an advance in the market today.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 1 point, with active months selling over 7 to 12 points net higher after the call on Wall street and local buying. Liverpool and the South sold, however, checking the advance around 12.75 cents for July and 13.37 cents for October, and later fluctuations were irregular.

Reports that a canvass of southern bankers pointed to a reduction of 0.24 per cent in acreage, contributed to the early advance. There was also scattered bearish on unsettled weather conditions in the South, with July consarcts selling up to 12.75, or about 12 points net higher.

Commission-house buying on this was a little more active on this advance, but there was continued southern selling, and the market eased off later under realizing.

Hired Money

CORPORATIONS borrow money for various purposes. We, as lenders, investigate those purposes very carefully before making loans. We count those the highest class of Loans where the Borrower, our Clients and ourselves all benefit.

Today we call the attention of the general Public, as well as Investors, to two such Loans—Good Bonds which benefit the Public, the Borrowing Corporations, Men with Money to Invest, and Working-men.

(1) $7,000,000 Unifying and Refunding Mortgage 7% Bonds of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation. The money goes to pay off other debts in part, and very largely to pay for more Power Houses, more Transmission Lines, more Facilities generally, in order to serve more Consumers with Light and Power for Factories, Homes, Ranches—Customers who are waiting for this additional service. This means to the Corporation more Assets, More Business, more Earnings. It means to Workmen more jobs, more pay, more contentment. It means to Investors more opportunities for safe, profitable, diversified and useful lending of their funds. It means to us one more opportunity to serve this Community, the great Corporation which hires men and money, and the men and women who have money to hire.

(2) $1,500,000 First and Refunding 7% Gold Bonds of the Southern California Gas Company. All that we have said above applies to these Bonds also. The Gas Company, like the Power Corporation, is engaged in Public Service. Its Business is steadily growing; its Earnings are steadily increasing. It borrows this money to take care of growth. The Security is a constantly growing Security, in Assets, in Earnings, in Customers.

Both these Companies are protected by Law—the wise and sane Laws of California governing Public Service Corporations. Behind each of these Good Bonds are the Physical Security, the Legal Security, the Moral Security that makes them just that: Good Bonds.

We offer these Good Bonds to Private Investors in amounts of $500, $1000 or more, at varying maturities, and at prices to yield more than 7%. Ask for our Circular on either or both of these Good Bonds.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—Further variable accessions to last week's belated advance were registered in the course of today's active and expansive stock market. Rails were almost the only important issues to derive little or no benefit.

Accompanied by a turnover of about 1,075,000 shares, the popular oils, motors, steels, coppers, shippings and various specialties scored extreme gains of 1 to 5 points. This advance was materially reduced before the close, however, on extensive selling for profits.

Reasons for the relative backwardness of rails were found in advices over the week-end from leading railway terminals. These in substance, reported another decrease of tonnage at western ports and marked decreases at eastern and southern centers.

Most other incidents were encouraging, notably the stronger domestic bank position and the trend of events abroad. Less tension was observed in the British industrial situation and the question of German reparations seemed to have entered upon a more satisfactory phase.

The foreign exchange strengthened perceptibly in connection with the latter development, bills on London rising to highest quotations since last July, the demand rate approximating $4.85. Stockholm and Christiania were the only noteworthy exceptions, even the German mark gaining materially.

Anomalous conditions prevailed in the money market, all demand loans holding at 6½ per cent on the exchange, although that was again shaded by a full 1 per cent in most outside negotiations.

Liberty issues, which comprised the bulk of the day's operations in the bond market, closed at nominal recessions and other bonds, domestic and foreign, were inclined to react moderately. Total sales, par value, $10,175,000.

Make Every $100 Work

Many of the best bonds are being sold in denominations of $100. There is no reason why you should wait for $500 or $1000 before investing. Take advantage of the baby bonds now being offered and make every $100 work.

We have several issues of public utility bonds offered in small denominations and protected by unusual earnings. These bonds yield nearly 8½% and possess every feature of security and earnings desirable in a high grade bond.

The cash article showed a drop of 50 cents per ton, while the transit and ten-day deliveries were 75 cents lower. Barley for fifteen days' shipments closed unchanged, and the twenty-day delivery showed a gain of 50 cents during the call. The May shipment moved up 25 cents. There were no sales recorded during the session.

EXTREME WEAKNESS IN WHEAT MARKET.

MUCH PRESSURE IS BROUGHT AGAINST MAY BY CASH INTERESTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 25.—Extreme weakness developed in the wheat market during the last half of the session. There was much pressure brought to bear against the May by cash interests. The selling was based on the 1 to 2-cent decline in cash wheat premiums and heavier offerings of wheat reported in the country from the Southwest. July sympathized partially with the May. Resting spots were 2¾ to 3 cents lower. Corn finished 1⅝ to 2 cents off and oats were 1¼ to 1⅛ cents lower. Rye declined 3¼ to 4 cents.

There was very little trade in the wheat market. Wire service was interrupted by the western storms, and this made business almost entirely local. The price trend was downward. Those were selling by houses who were identified with the long side of the market, while locals sold in spasms of the sharp break in Winnipeg. An eastern house bought May early. Aside from the Winnipeg slump, the news was favorable to the protective side of the market. Exporters solicited offers of wheat in this country. Unsettled and much colder weather was forecast with high winds and heavy snowfall reported in the West. The foreign situation was more bullish. The Germans were more disposed to settle the reparations squabble by meeting the allied terms, while labor troubles threatened shipping from Argentina's ports.

Corn eased off a fraction, but encountered support on the break. There was further buying of May by cash houses, which suggested further purchases of cash corn by exporters. Selling was based mainly on the break in wheat. Exporters were after cash corn early in the day, not making any outright bids, but they were asking local shippers to submit offers. Weather is unfavorable and corn planting is being delayed.

It was a quiet affair in oats. Prices averaged lower in sympathy with the declines recorded in wheat and corn. Commission houses sold a little for outside account and there was a light scattered demand in evidence. There was a better shipping inquiry reported in local circles and Doolittle (Ill.) advices stated that the South was after oats and farmers were inclined to meet this demand occasionally.

Rye was easier. Cash No. 2 sold at $1.31½ to $1.32. Receipts were eight cars.

PRODUCE MARKET FIRM DESPITE DULL BUYING.

FEW LINES IN DOWNWARD TURN; LETTUCE STRONGER IN SHIPPING MARKET.

There were few price changes on the local produce market yesterday, nearly all lines holding firm at the level of Saturdays market. Some of the offerings ruled slightly lower yesterday on account of liberal receipts from the country. Green beans dropped 2 cents per pound, the Kentucky Wonders selling at 20 to 25 cents per pound, while other varieties were bringing from 15 to 25 cents per pound. New potatoes were down to $2.15 and $2.20, with a few sales of the fancy stock at $2.40 per lug. Summer squash continued weak at $1 to $1.15. Strawberries were 20 cents per crate lower on account of the poorer quality of the offerings, and tomatoes from the Imperial Valley ruled 5 to 10 cents per lug below the level of the preceding day. The first crate of cantaloupes from the Imperial Valley was received by express yesterday morning.

Owing to the light buying demand, the earlier arrivals of potatoes during the past few days have been accumulating. The market is very dull for this commodity, although prices remain practically unchanged. Lettuce was again stronger in the shipping market, prices paid to growers ranging from $1 to $1.25 per crate. Carlot sales were made at prices practically unchanged, despite the fact that shipments were lighter. Cash sales ruled around $1.65 to $2 per crate, with some of the extra-fancy stock bringing as high as $2.25. Wire sales were reported at $2.25.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW.

F. Saunders, secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce of the City of Mexico, that there are 16,000,000 people in Mexico and of these 14,000 are Americans who control three-quarters of the oil and mining properties and a large number of factories in the City of Mexico and elsewhere throughout the republic.

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

The week started with a good volume of business which found expression in a more diversified trading than has been in evidence for some time. The trend was not decided enough to establish a definite basis for prognosis, although most of the oils showed encouraging signs of strength while the mines were in good shape with the exception of Tom Reed which broke par, and sold down to 99 cents. Globe Grain & Milling regained much of the ground lost last week and sold up to $50.00. Goodyear preferred was still rather weak around $61.50.

LA VERNE SCHOOL BONDS.

Drake, Riley and Thomas are offering an issue of $67,000 La Verne City School District 6 per cent bonds. The La Verne city school district is located in a rich citrus area about thirty miles from Los Angeles on the Foothill Boulevard. The assessed valuation of the property within the district in 1920 was $1,348,105, while the sole bonded indebtedness of the district will include only this issue. The bonds are to be sold at prices to yield from 5.40 to5.75, according to maturity. They are exempt from all taxation, including State taxes and the Federal income tax.

HOW IT WORKS.

The refinancing the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Akron, continues to interest the many preferred stockholders in Los Angeles and vicinity, especially in view of the fact that a considerable quantity of debt has been imposed ahead of this stock. In discussing this phase of the financing it was explained yesterday at the office of Cyrus Peirce & Co., that it should be borne in mind that the first mortgage bonds and debentures and prior preferred stock, which have been issued in connection with this financial readjustment, are in substitution for debt, and that except for the fact that the company sustained a substantial loss through shrinkage of value of inventories and materials under contract, the debt ahead of the old preferred stock is in the same amount as before, though in funded instead of current form.

While the interest and sinking fund charges on funded debt and dividends on prior preferred stock will amount annually to between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000, it must be kept in mind that as an offset to this, the company now has sufficient working capital to conduct its business practically without borrowing and that there will be a saving of between $2,500,000 and $4,500,000 per annum in interest on floating debt. Therefore, in the light of the earnings of past years, it is reasonable to expect that net earnings will justify a resumption of preferred stock dividends in the not-far distant future. It should also be borne in mind that the old preferred stock retains its cumulative feature, so that eventually those who have held the stock will receive dividends in full.

CHAFFEE COMPANY REPORT.

Hunter, Dulin & Co., who underwrote the issue of the Chaffee Company, 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock a year ago, reported yesterday that the net earnings of this company for the first quarter of 1921 amounted to $24,075.50. This is at the rate of almost five times the requirements of the preferred stock. A small amount of the preferred stock has been retired in accordance with the provisions of the sinking fund.

BRITISH COLUMBIA OFFERING.

A syndicate headed by Carstens and Earles, Inc., are offering a new issue of $3,000,000 Province of British Columbia five-year general obligation 6 per cent gold bonds. Principal and interest on these bonds is payable in the United States. The bonds are in $500 and $1000 denominations. The bonds and the interest thereon are a direct and primary obligation of the Province of British Columbia. The announcement of the offering syndicate contains the information that British Columbia is the third in size of the provinces in Canada. The natural resources of this province make it one of the wealthiest in the Dominion, the forests alone covering an area of about 180,000,000 acres. Great progress has been made in the development and production in the province as seen in comparing the value of the total production in 1901, which amounted to $3,037,280 with that of 1918 amounting to $237,104,696. Bonds are offered at 92.84, yielding 7.50 per cent.

Money Back Guarantee on Oil Leases

Oil Companies either own the land or own LEASES before drilling. In buying a lease you control your own money. The small investor is on an equal basis with the large one. If you owned a lot, every store built around it will enhance its value. Where LEASES are bought right, they advance in price as the wells are drilled around them. When pay oil is struck, LEASES ADVANCE ENORMOUSLY and YOU GET ALL the profit. You don't risk money in drilling to make money on leases. My leases are in a field of seven producing wells, where locations are made to drill thirty more and where new developments are taking place every week. This field approved by Banks and Chamber of Commerce. Investigate these unusual leases before the advance and while you can buy them with a GUARANTEE. A postal will bring additional information. T. The New Type of Oil Promotion

The days of the Fakir are numbered. He cannot exist in the glare of publicity, and even the most careless buyer wants more than a pretty stock certificate.

The new type is a sort of Purchasing Agent, representing a number of investors. He is a real constructive factor in the oil world in which OIL occupies a very prominent position.

He is out to make money; but he knows he cannot get it unless he makes it WELL WORTH WHILE for those who supply the capital.

I am going one step further! In organizing my Syndicate, I have arranged that UNIT-HOLDERS shall receive checks every thirty days direct from the trustee.

Safeguarded!!

It takes nerve, foresight and confidence to play the game, but I have persuaded my associates that no other way can succeed today, and THEY are so fully convinced we will go on, have invested heavily on this basis.

All monies will be handled by the Trust Company, so that you take only ONE risk—if you can call it a risk—WELL WORTH IT.

Now understand—I do not want your money until you understand my Syndicate in all its bearings. All I ask is the chance to explain it to you. Write, phone or call on me TODAY!

RETAIL PRICE CUTS NOT KEEPING PACE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Studies made by the Department of Commerce disclose that reductions in retail prices are not keeping pace with those in the wholesale trade, Secretary Hoover said today.

The inquiry is being continued, but Mr. Hoover said that so far as his department was concerned there was no apparent remedy for the situation.

TAX DECISION UPHELD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Decisions of Nevada courts upholding the State inheritance and transfer tax laws in the Miller estate case were affirmed today by the Supreme Court.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

Postpone Meeting.

The Tennessee Society has postponed its regular monthly meeting, which was to be held this evening at Bartel Hall, until May 21, when it will hold its annual picnic at Sycamore Grove.

Juvenile Dance.

A juvenile dance, at which all the participants will appear in children's clothes, is to be held at 8 p.m. today at the clubrooms of Los Angeles Post No. 8, American Legion, in the Washington Building, Third and Spring streets. A number of juvenile entertainers and platform performers will participate.

Change Dinner Place.

The dinner for foremen and superintendents of local industries will be held at the new Rosslyn Hotel, Fifth and Main streets, on the evening of May 2, instead of at the Mission Cafe, as formerly announced, according to R. L. McCourt, chairman of the special committee, Better American Federation of California.

Denby in Favor of More Planes to Guard Fleet.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Aviation has been given insufficient attention "by the people, the Congress and the Navy," Secretary Denby declared today before the House Naval Committee. He advocated enactment of Representative Hicks's bill to create a separate navy bureau of aeronautics as a first step toward remedying the deficiency.

"A modern fleet is blind unless it has air auxiliaries," he said, "and we hope that by working out present plans we can always be assured that an American fleet will never meet a hostile force which overmatches it in the air."

LABOR BOARD NAMES CONFIRMED BY SENATE

NOMINATIONS OF TWELVE MAJOR-GENERALS PRESENTED, BUT ACTION GOES OVER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The nominations of Ben V. Hooper of Tennessee, Walter M. McMenimen of Massachusetts, and Samuel Higgins of New York, to be members of the Railroad Labor Board, were confirmed today by the Senate.

The Senate also confirmed Washington Gardner of Michigan, as Commissioner of Pensions.

No opposition, it was said, developed against any of the railroad nominees, although several of the Senators announced receipt of telegrams and letters from minor unions of railroad employees opposing Mr. McMenimen.

The nominations of twelve major-generals headed by Big.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards and fourteen brigadiers were presented formally to the Senate by Chairman Wadsworth of the Military Committee, but action went over.

AGITATORS CLOSE MILLS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTERET (Mex.) April 25.—Labor troubles have caused all of the cotton mills in the Puebla district to suspend operations indefinitely, throwing more than 3000 operatives out of employment. For some time union labor agitators have been sowing seeds of dissension among the workers, it is asserted, with the result that they made demands upon the mill owners which the latter could not grant.

Go After Rheumatism Right

First of all, rheumatism must be treated internally. The blood should be purified and the stomach and kidneys made to do their work properly.

Massage the sore and swollen parts at least twice daily with an oil that will not irritate or inflame the skin.

Keep the bowels open to help the treatment.

You can get everything necessary in the complete Anti-Uric outfit. If your urine is discolored or has a bad odor, the effect of Anti-Uric Tonic will give you an early confidence in the treatment. The jar of Anti-Uric oil will help proper massage of the painful surfaces. A supply of the famous Fuliman Pills will furnish the correct laxative.

These three preparations contain only vegetable ingredients. All are in one generous, compact package. The price complete is $1.50 and there is a money back guarantee with every package. Get the Anti-Uric outfit today from all druggists.—[Advertisement.

Where Busy Men's Service Needs Are Attractively Shown.

Looking Down a Main Aisle of the First Los Angeles Business Show.

SHOW ATTRACTS THRONG.

Ten thousand people crowded the pavilion in Fraser Park yesterday for the opening day of the First Los Angeles Business Show.

The staging of the exposition, which will continue throughout the week, is attractive and at the same time practical in that it makes it easy and comfortable for the public to comprehend the exhibits, but does not force them on the passer-by in any way.

A feature of the opening day was the California State school typewriting championship contest last night in which 135 young people competed, the largest number in any similar contest held in the country. It was the second held in the State. The championship was won by Miss Helen Babson, 142 South Grand avenue, who averaged sixty-seven words a minute for fifteen minutes, which is ten words a minute higher than was written by Miss Stella D. Heyden of Sacramento, who won the championship last year at San Francisco. Miss Babson receives a cup, a medal and a desk. The other prize winners among commercial school contestants are: Miss Ruth A. Wright, Berkeley, sixty-six words; Miss Ruth Shoolbraid, Los Angeles, sixty-four words; Miss Olive Stultz, Berkeley, fifty-nine words; Miss Violet Hultquist, Los Angeles, fifty-eight words; Miss Edith Hansford, Berkeley, fifty-seven words. High school winners are: Miss Lydia Royce, Berkeley, fifty-nine words; Miss Mary Sutfin, Marysville, fifty-three words; Miss Celia Larson, Lindsay, fifty-three words; Miss Margaret Gleissner, Santa Ana, forty-eight words; Miss Helen Marie Baggot, San Jose, forty-eight words, and Miss Gladys Roland, Fullerton, forty-seven words.

Throughout the week admission to the show will be free, but by ticket only. Tomorrow and Friday have been designated as special days for the executives of the city. Prominent business men are expected to be present to examine the various cost-lowering devices and methods which are on display.

According to Nathan W. Tupper, president of the Business Exposition Company, which is putting on the business show, the interest already shown makes it clear that the Los Angeles show will break all records.

VICE CLEAN-UP IS PROMISED.

held responsible for policing the city. This responsibility cannot be delegated to another, therefore the election of a Mayor is paramount to all other elections before the people.

"I have considered the qualifications and claims of the several candidates and unhesitatingly indorse you for this office and confidently expect that you will be elected.

"If all who desire Los Angeles to be the best home city in the world will go to the polls and urge their friends to do so, I predict your election at the primaries, May 3. With this wish uppermost in my mind, I am very truly yours,

[Signed] "S. T. MONTGOMERY."

"P. S.—This indorsement is strictly personal." S. T. M.

Adding to his letter, Dr. Montgomery in an interview yesterday stated that he had been unable to secure co-operation from the Snyder administration and its law enforcement agents in suppressing vice conditions in Los Angeles.

A mass meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Retail Grocers' Association and the Distributors' Club tomorrow evening in the Auditorium at 328 South Hill street in the interest of George E. Cryer for Mayor and the seven candidates for the City Council who have been indorsed by the grocers' organization. The Councilmanic candidates whose election is being urged by the grocers are: Robert M. Allan, Benjamin Bosardus, Edward J. Delorey, Frederick C. Langdon, Mrs. Emma B. Swindell, R. S. Sparks and Col. F. K. True. Mr. Cryer and the Councilmanic candidates will be among the speakers.

Councilman Sanborn has been indorsed for re-election by Maynard McFie, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, who has written to Mr. Sanborn as follows: "Our industries, our foreign trade and the restoration of our back country are represented in the splendid work you have done in the City Council. Such evidences of civic consciousness on your part are typical of the manhood which has gone into the building of the Los Angeles of today."

George P. Mills, candidate for the City Council, will be the chief speaker at a meeting of the Monsta-Avenue Improvement Association tonight. He will speak on the necessity of a civic center and also in behalf of immediate relief for the disabled veterans. Mr. Mills has been indorsed by a number of organizations in the city, among which are the Anti-Vivisection Society, the United Veterans of All American Wars, and the County Chiropractic Association.

COURTS ARE UPHELD IN VICE CASES.

Failures to Convict Shown to be Only Seven Out of Hundred and Thirty-six.

Alida C. Bowler, field agent of the United States Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board, has addressed a second letter to the Police Commission in which she gives additional data to support the contention that the courts here function properly in suppressing vice, once arrests backed with proper evidence are made. The Times' exposition of a self-segregated district in Los Angeles and official explanation, but not denial, of its existence prompted the first letter from the social hygiene worker.

In the second communication a table is presented of cases disposed of from Jan. 1, 1920, to the 1st inst. Of 136 men and women arrested in fifteen rooming-houses and hotels in Los Angeles, 105 were sentenced.

"Seven cases dismissed or discharged by the court out of a total of 136 arrests does not seem such a bad record," she comments. "The fact is that in most of these cases men and women were arrested in pairs, the officers securing the necessary evidence without any suspicion of 'plants' or 'frame-ups.' This is the most desirable type of work, the sort most acceptable to fair-minded citizens (and especially women citizens,) and if one may judge by figures, most acceptable to the court. Moreover a persistent, aggressive, determined program of that sort can be effectively used by any intelligent police department that desires and is permitted to do so."

DRIVE FOR CLOTHING.

Red Cross to Start It Today With Mass Meeting.

The Red Cross drive for collecting sufficient clothing for millions of children of Central Europe will be launched today at 2 p.m. at a mass meeting at the Friday Morning clubhouse. Roy Jones, who has been one of the leaders of past Red Cross drives, will preside and plans for collecting these clothes will be made.

WORKMAN IS INDORSED BY CLUB WOMAN

Lauded by Ella P. True as of Absolute Integrity; Is Praised by Hookstratten.

Among the letters of indorsement received yesterday at Workman for Mayor campaign headquarters, 619-21 Washingtonbuilding, was one from Ella P. True, a clubwoman prominent in musical and literary circles, and one from R. C. Hookstratten, secretary-treasurer of the L. J. Christopher Company.

Miss True said: "Repeatedly I have been asked why I favor Boyle Workman for Mayor, and my answer is, because he is a man of absolute integrity, unimpeachable honesty, and has the courage of his convictions. He cannot be bought—either by money or influence.

"His record, as business man and official, shows that he carefully considers the best interests of Los Angeles, not only for the present, but for the future.

"He is capable and efficient and stands for what is highest and best in municipal government. We need such men in public office."

Mr. Hookstratten's letter follows: "I take pleasure in indorsing the candidate Boyle Workman for Mayor, and in so doing feel that it is not only a matter of personal interest but the making of Mr. Workman as Mayor of our City will be for the best interests of Los Angeles. With his years of experience both as a citizen and as a member of our various government bodies, I certainly feel that his vision is invaluable for the position for which he is running. Then too, his close touch with administrative affairs during the past five years of this city's growth gives him the inside viewpoint, and his representation of the people of Los Angeles gives him the viewpoint of the public as well."

Only Makes a Bad Matter Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics, like the old-fashioned cathartic and liver pills, make a bad matter worse, as they take too much water out of the system. Chamberlain's Tablets are much more mild and gentle in effect and when the proper dose is taken, their action is so natural that one can hardly realize that it is the effect of a medicine.—[Advertisement.

RUNS WELL.

Outside of Warren G. Harding this young Paddock person seems to be the best runner in the country.

SECTS AND INSECTS.

Our distinguished English visitor, Chesterton, profoundly remarks that in the world quest for a creedless creed each sectarian is more sectarian in his unsectarianism than he is in his sect. Possibly them are why, if not whom. When one becomes sectarian in his unsectarianism he is little better than an insect. Instead of boring after creedless creeds he might better grease his mandibles with bacon and joust with some lady bug. But maybe Gilbert is spoofing us.

PASSING THE PLATE.

Those who urge a blue Sunday declare that they do not object to pictures and pleasures so much as a commercialized Sabbath. They want no admission fee charged. It's the money-making they object to. There's a good opportunity for them to demonstrate their sincerity by stopping the church collections at the Sunday services. Doesn't the money taken in by the movie man go to the heathen? What's the difference? If the pictures are forbidden, the church collection would fall under the same ban.

PIE AND PROGRESS.

The regulation pie which has been selling at forty to sixty cents as the penalty of war has been put back to the old-time figure of twenty cents in some cities—notably Portland. The town had to do something to compete with Seattle and this is it. With luscious apple pies going at twenty cents per each Portland will soon regain her prestige and put Seattle off the map. If Los Angeles could get back to selling a full-fledged pie for a dime—as was done in the olden days—it would soon become the largest city west of Manhattan.

ONE-SIDED AFFAIR.

Every now and then the United States has to send a note to some nation telling it where to head in or get off. Uncle Sam is kept busy with his fountain pen explaining his objection to entangling alliances and his resolution to be an exclusive some body. At the same time his typewriter is violating the speed limit in grinding out notes setting forth our national views on mundane matters. For a country determined to keep out of a League of Nations we are behaving in rather eccentric fashion. We are everybody's brother-in-arms, but don't want our name in the directory. We want the privilege of chiding, but not the responsibility of association.

LOVE AND SPRINGTIME.

One can hardly expect a home to be heavenly without an angel, and the men folks are saying that there aren't angels enough to go 'round. However, this is the City of the Angels. There are plenty of them here and any man who is a good picker can almost find one with his eyes shut—in fact, the judge says that most of them do shut their eyes when they go a-picking. But it is fine to mingle with a galaxy of stunning angels—especially in the spring of the year, when every one of them has an ambition to start a heavenly little home of her own. No wonder this is becoming one of the champion marrying towns of America. The City of the Angels is presumed to be living up to the allurements of her name.

SHINING ONES.

What do our baldheads do for pastime? It used to be said of them that they hung over the brass rail for two hours every afternoon and filled the front rows at the musical shows every night. But now they are doing neither. The social hour around the mahogany is impossible and the chorus girl no longer finds her pathway brightened by the gleaming domes of her former admirers. What has become of them? Looks as if they were out on the golf links for the afternoon and in the darkness of the movies at night. At any rate, their shining brows are not so plentiful as they once were, so far as the public view is concerned. This is to be regretted, for the baldhead is a most lovable specimen, usually bubbling over with good spirits and ready to sacrifice himself on the altar of human levity. He is missed even if he is only a few hours late.

IDLENESS A DISEASE.

In Switzerland they are learning to treat men out of work as if they were suffering from disease. It is found that a man out of work is likely to get the habit. When a man begins to dodge and avoid employment or shirk his normal tasks he is infected with the germ of sloth. He has an ailment or disease that threatens to become chronic. So the authorities step in, much as a doctor would. They diagnose the case, study the symptoms and endeavor to place the man in some employment where his capacities can be of service to himself and his fellows. The germ of laziness is stunned with an ax and the patient is given a treatment in industry and thrift. A paternal government is not to be highly commended, but a country which could provide that all citizens should work—and at tasks to which they were best fitted—would never have to worry much about its future. Why not vaccinate against idleness?

TOUGH PROBLEMS.

Taxation and transportation are two tough nuts of internal policy for the new administration to crack. Transportation includes both the railroads and the shipping interests. Railroad finances are in a deplorable condition. Two-thirds of the roads of the country did not earn operating expenses in March, to say nothing of taxes or dividends. This condition exists in the face of freight and passenger rates which in many cases are greater than the traffic can bear. How to reduce rates and at the same time give to the railroads sufficient revenue to make railroad investments profitable is a problem of sufficient gravity to give brain fag to the ablest intellects in the government.

Shipping conditions are equally complicated. It is the general belief of those who have given unprejudiced study to the question that the government should not remain permanently in the business of operating ships. But how are we going to salvage the nearly $4,000,000,000 worth of ships built by the Shipping Board and realize even a small percentage of the cost of the ships? That is a question which those who are giving the subject serious consideration have not been able, apparently, to work out in their own minds. It is plain that the President did not take office with a fixed policy in his mind concerning our merchant marine; for there has been no declaration of policy in relation to Shipping Board affairs. While many within the government, as well as without, believe the Shipping Board should be abolished and its duties performed by the Department of Commerce, there has been no authoritative statement to indicate an early consummation of such a plan.

There seems to be no escaping the conclusion that a rigorous reduction in the operating expenses of the railroads must take place. As 80 per cent of those expenses are wage charges, it is apparent that no appreciable reduction can be accomplished until wages are lowered. But the railroad workers are well organized and they threaten to tie up all the transportation lines of the country if any considerable reduction is put into effect.

From the point of view of the employees the reductions should begin at the top; and in this view the public will probably support them. The men should receive a living wage. That is axiomatic. But $1000 a week is no more a "living" wage than is $10 a week. The public has a right to ask and, representing the public, the government has the right to know, whether it is absolutely essential to efficient service to pay high officials of the railroads $50,000 a year; whether it is an exercise of strict economy to pay lesser officials salaries of from $25,000 to $40,000 a year. When the wage reductions begin the public may well demand that the pruning shall not be limited to the lower branches. It is possible also that, if the men see the big salaries cut in half, they will accept with better grace reductions in their more modest pay envelopes.

The Times regrets that reduction in the pay of the railway employees is necessary; but there is no escaping the conclusion that the expenses of the railroads must be regulated by the earnings. A point has been reached where high freight rates are causing industrial depression. They are shutting the products of many communities out of the markets of the country. To increase rates now would be to reduce the volume of the traffic.

Getting back to normalcy in the railroad business is indeed a hard nut to crack. There are three interested parties, the owners, the employees and the public. The owners must safeguard their investments and must be able to show a profit in order to secure additional capital. About $1,000,000,000 a year of outside capital is necessary to enable the railroads to keep pace with the development of the country. If the roads cannot show a profit they cannot secure this money. Employees of the roads are actuated by a natural and human desire to sell their labor at the best price obtainable. But they make the mistake of threatening to use the strike as a weapon to compel payment of wages that economic conditions do not justify. Force is a more violent weapon than reason, but it is generally short-lived. Reason alone is indestructible. The wages of the men will be fixed, not by any association of workers or employers, but by the amount that the public is able and willing to pay for transportation service.

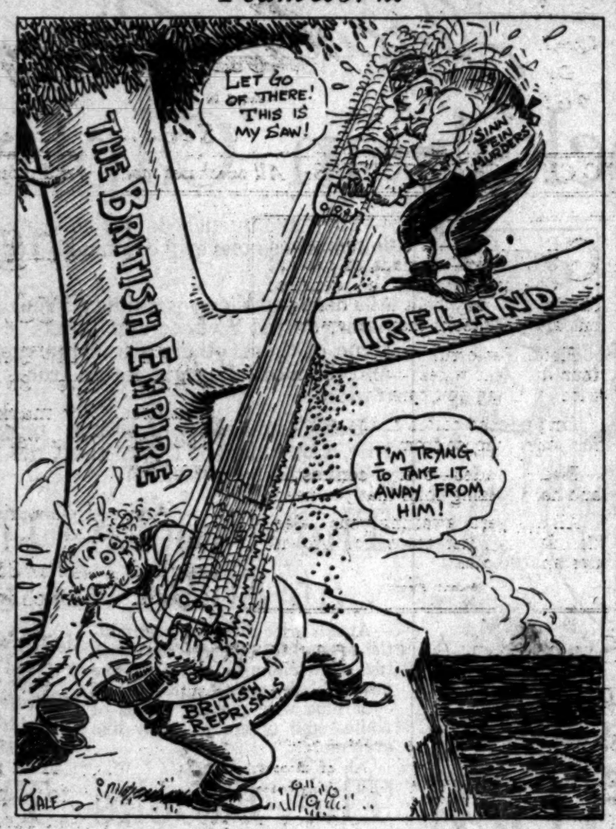
Now comes the general public. The people desire the best service possible; but they are not always either able or willing to pay for the best. High freight rates are a serious menace to the citrus industry of California. This is but one instance; a hundred such might be mentioned. The cost of transportation is a very essential figure in the market prices of all products. High freights have much to do with the high cost of living. The railroads are now handling only about 60 per cent of what might be considered a normal volume of freight. Such a condition, if not soon remedied, will lead to a production that will only be 60 per cent normal, which will mean 40 per cent of unemployment throughout the country. A general spirit of cooperation and compromise—more confidence and less suspicion among the three groups—will aid materially in the final solution.

Industry is beginning to lag in this country by reason of the continued unsatisfactory conditions of foreign trade. The European countries have paid out practically all their cash. They are now credit buyers and they are not producing enough to make an equal exchange of credits. The Department of Commerce is making superhuman efforts to aid American bankers to organize a foreign finance corporation which will deal with extended foreign credits. American industry cannot function normally until there is a foreign market for our products. But a foreign market, when there is no foreign money, is something of a problem. One thing is plain: many economies will have to be effected, not only by the government, but by industries and private individuals, before the ravages of the five years of World War can be repaired. Destruction is swift, but recuperation is a slow and tortuous labor.

HARD TASK.

The League to Enforce Peace might tackle Ireland if it feels strong enough, but it would be understood that anybody trying to enforce peace upon Erin would have his hands full.

Teamwork.



FIGURATIVELY SPEAKING.

There is a fine psychological drama being enacted in filmland just now, but it will never be filmed. It is this lofty literary passion between the eminent authors and the producers, now so tremendously enamored of each other, but having a deuce of a time settling down to staid and workable every-day domesticity.

It is a grand passion (figuratively speaking) based upon the noblest uplift ideals; they feel they ought to be soulmates, spiritual affinities and all that sort of thing, and both are swayed with superb motives and resolutions to "bear and forbear," but they both have emotional artistic temperaments and the going is hard, very hard.

The producers enjoy the traditional advantages of possession. They own the lares and penates, the bank accounts and accouterments of the menage. And they, as befits the male of the species, were the pursuers. They cast admiring glances towards the eminent authors and proceeded to court them with the good old-fashioned lures. The eminent authors were coy, held distractingly aloof for a time and finally succumbed to the producers' blandishments. Their dowry is their fame and their imaginative charm.

But the eminent authors, in the role of fair lady, are strong on the modern feminist craze for "self-expression," whereas, of course, modest submission would be infinitely more attractive to their producer swains.

"My dear," says producer, "I am much more experienced than you. You must be guided by my advice, accept my overlordship, submit to my greater wisdom as all brides should."

"I won't be a chattel," remarks the author-bride, "and I am sure you would not wish me to," she adds with an engaging pout. "Am I, then, to lose my individuality, assign my rights, forego my liberty and become a mere piece of furniture in your household? You are rich and influential, darling, handsome, generous, but—er—well, in these modern times wives and mothers, especially mothers, dearest, have rights as well as privileges. I am proud to be the mother of your scenarios, but, really, my dear, you must allow me to have a say in their upbringing—and—er—what did you say your views were on community property laws?"

"Oh, of course, adored one. But there must be a head in every family, don't you know. And business, you know—we must not do anything to 'disturb business.' And what does your pretty head know about business? A woman's place is in the home, rearing beautiful literary children. That is your job, beloved. You produce the film children, I'll do the rest. You will find me a generous and magnanimous spouse, never fear. I will always, for instance, be guided by your choice of a name—providing, of course, you select a name to my box-office taste. We must have plain, popular names, and not embarrass the brilliant youngsters with high-falutin cognomens. And while our children must be brilliant, of course, we must be careful not to educate them over the heads of their fellows. Highbrows are of no use in business, dear."

"In that case, darling," says the discomforted bride, "why didn't you choose an ordinary, mediocre wife without any individuality of her own? What do you want with a brainy, cultured person like me, with exceptional ideas on literary offspring? Really, darling, excuse me, I don't want to seem rude, but isn't there a possibility that you may sometimes be mistaken?"

"I don't think—I sincerely hope, I am sure, that I have not been mistaken in bestowing my affections upon you, my dear," answers proud husband stiffly. "I wanted a beautiful and brilliant wife, but, really, you know, I must be master in my own house. I hate to mention it, dear, but you know I have been married before and you must concede me the privileges of experience. I have always insisted upon my wives being submissive."

"I daresay, but they were very different wives from me. And I have my dowry, I am not exclusively dependent upon you, darling. Those former wives of yours were nonentities. I am famous. But I do love you, and if only you will allow me to be a good influence in your life, raise you to my level, help to erase the records of your dubious past, guide you into the serene paths of culture and intellectual uplift, you will find this marriage will vastly improve your social standing," says the yearnful author-bride with intriguing but anxious smiles.

"Now don't let us have so much argument," announces hubby-producer, slightly losing his temper. "Come along, be a good little wife and cut out this self-expression nonsense."

And this is the sort of drama—of course, this is all written in a figurative sense—that is going on in studios just now. It is a fine struggle in psychology. Some of the author-brides, like their prototypes in everyday, human life, are obviously submitting to their lords. Some of them are still struggling and once in so often the author-bride wins. The children of these unions are awaited with bated interest, so far the percentage of brilliant prodigies has been very small. Most of them might have been anybody's children. Ibanez's "Four Horsemen" justifies mama. But Gertrude Atherton's "Don't Neglect Your Wife" certainly does not justify papa.

And one rather surmises that the successful dramatic offspring arise in cases where the partnership was more equal, where author and producer worked together, saw eye to eye and pulled in the same direction, just as in ordinary, every-day marriages.

However, so far there has been no actual scandal and there is little evidence to back up rumors of divorce. But when the offspring is feeble-minded there is a marked tendency to recrimination on one side or the other and the usual snorts that the infant favors the other parent. But when it's a bright boy that makes his mark in the world—ah, then come the mutual congratulations—and close-up of papa and mama in each other's arms.

THE GREATEST NEED.

What is the greatest need in Los Angeles as well as in all of the other large cities of the United States? One would not be far wrong in declaring it to be a reduction in rentals. Many wage-earners in this city are still being compelled to pay $50 a month for houses or apartments which a few years ago brought $25, while many residences that rented for $40 or $50 in 1917 cannot now be retained for less than $100. Declines have been made in the prices of clothes, some groceries, bread, milk and candy—a large item that last; but rentals, as a general rule, are still firm, to use a stock-market word. This condition exists elsewhere. The best way to force rentals down is to build more houses. "There is opportunity for a vast amount of house-building over the country which would give employment to thousands of skilled mechanics in the building operations and thousands more in all of the building material industries and which would bring about a general reduction in rents and improvement in living conditions," says the National City Bank of New York in a review of general business conditions. It, however, declares that there can be no general revival of house-building upon the present level of costs because the public cannot pay rents based on that level. The bank believes there must be wage reductions in the building trades. When one takes into consideration that bricklayers back East are still demanding as high as $1.50 an hour and carpenters $1.25 it would seem that the bank is right.

LET'S PROTECT THE HEN.

Half a million Chinese eggs reached Minneapolis Monday after a three weeks' journey without the loss of an egg. Is the regal American rooster to go unprotected? Is the wealth-making American hen to be forced into direct competition with the coolie hen of China? Chinese eggs are produced by pauper chickens and roosters. They sold at Minneapolis for 52 cents a dozen—5 cents under the price for Minnesota eggs produced by well-fed, well-paid, patriotic and progressive American barnyard pets. Chinese are excluded from the United States. Now why should Chinese eggs be permitted?—[Arkansaw Thomas Cat.

PLAYING CONTINUOUS.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

"I see by the paper," remarked I to the Old Resident, as he casually winked at the nearest grass widow, "that you are listed among the distinguished citizens who are about to wear out their throats on behalf of another term for Mayor Snyder."

"Not me," answered the pioneer testily. "I think my voice is failing me. Anyhow, you mustn't believe all you see in the papers. It will make you dizzy."

"But you've been voting for him all your life," persisted I.

"Maybe that's why they think my mind is failing," retorted the veteran. "But if I do vote for a man a couple of times that's no sign he goes into continuous."

"But I should think it would be hard for one of your age to break a habit," continued I.

"I can break anything but six or seven of the commandments," countered the old-timer. "I'm not so blamed old but what I can learn to know better, either. I've lived in this town a good many years, but the list of Mayors we've had would make some folks think I'd been throwing my vote away. But I've done the best I could with the material we've had. I've calloused my hands voting for Snyder and now I want to try something else."

"You're wrong about that," asserted I. "Haven't you been reading the Snyder advertisements? He says that no man can learn to be Mayor in a term or two. You can't make a Mayor in two years any more than you can make a railroad president. When you've got a Mayor keep him on the job until he croaks. Make him King of Los Angeles and Grand Duke of San Pedro. Step up and laurel the brow of the Prince of Hollywood. Doesn't the Mayor's picture make him look like the Emperor of Boyle Heights?"

"He has 'em taken often enough," snorted the old man. "I can't go anywhere without seeing a picture of the Mayor shaking hands with himself. Maybe a crown would look better than that plug hat he wears when Lord Helpus comes to town. He keeps it in the safe at the City Hall and when somebody telephones that the King of Sardinia is on the next train he puts on his shiny lid and goes down to meet him, accompanied by a battery of camera men."

"What more do you want?" argued I. "Isn't that what Los Angeles needs—a man who will march fearlessly up to the camera at any hour of the day or night? There's a brave and hardy soul for you! He never dodged a photographer, even in the hour of gravest danger. In meeting peril of that form he not only stands ready to sacrifice himself, but his best friend. As the Mayor says: You can't make a Mayor in a minute—or a year. He has to be trained for it. And what is better than a camera training? We have a Mayor who is as fearless as Polly Moran and as experienced as Methuselah. But he can't build a buzz wagon. He admits it himself. His specialty is being a Mayor and at that he shines. His advertisement said that it took Henry Ford fifteen years to learn how to make a cheap automobile. And yet Henry is a smart man. According to the Mayor's logic, if he had fifteen years of steady practice he could learn how to be a cheap Mayor."

"I'm not so sure of that," grunted the veteran. "He might look cheap and yet be dear to the rest of us. He says he stands for economy, but how can he stand when he is always running?"

"That's how he keeps his balance," suggested I. "The Mayor's advertisements say that he is the best-balanced official the city ever had."

"Must be a slack-wire performer," interrupted the pioneer. "He thinks he can carry water on both shoulders. Wants to walk on buttered toast without making a dent. Let him try standing on his head on the City Hall steps and then see where his balance is. He'd have to go to the bank to get it."

"But when the city has a good balancer it should not let him go," persisted I. "The Snyder advertisement says that the Mayor cannot be rushed off his feet in an emergency. Hit him in the breast works with a steam roller and he will calmly dust off the impact with his handkerchief and return a smile of scorn. He doesn't become hysterical in the face of a crisis and it would require the explosion of a ton of dynamite to dislodge him from a position once taken. He wouldn't faint if he were to discover a crap game in the basement of the City Hall. Furthermore, the Snyder advertisement says that he is a Mayor of the people, from the people, for the people. His office door is always open to everyone. The man selling coat hangers and the party taking orders for enlarging photographs are alike welcome. The Mayor will listen patiently to the man who wants him to buy a saxophone and then confer with a delegation of movie queens who want the teddy bear used as the emblem on the city's seal. The Mayor says that he counsels with every interest affected, irrespective of whether they were for him or not. In that way he has so schooled himself that he can shake hands with a man who never even voted for him without bursting into tears. The city has trained and educated Snyder for Mayor. It should profit by him by keeping him on the job. He admits this himself with becoming modesty."

"Sure he's modest," retorted the old man. "Him and the violet shrunk together."

"And it was some shrink," added I.

"Take it from me," returned the veteran. "If Snyder isn't running for Mayor he'll be out for Congressman, Coroner or Supervisor. He's got to be candidating for something. He's got the itch in its wildest form."

"This would be a good time to scratch him," suggested I.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

READING BOOKS.

Read helpful books that fill the mind with gems of noble lore; in such great volumes you will find the world's sublimest store. But if you read them all the time your patience they'll exhaust, and you will think such books a crime and noble lore a frost. If you would keep an appetite for thoughts from noble domes you ought to read some fiction light between the stately tomes. Read Milton till his sounding verse no longer thrills your bones, then buy and read "The Tinker's Curse or Who Slugged Johnnie Jones?" Read Bacon's essays, one by one, until you're feeling bored, then buy and read "The Poisoned Bun or Who Swiped Henry's Ford?" The man who lives on pie alone will find that diet dire; 'twould do him good to gnaw a bone or chew a rubber tire. The modern pie's the greatest treat that science can produce, but it should go with beans and meat and prunes stewed in their juice. And so the works of guys inspired, like Milton and that bunch, as steady grub are not desired—they finish up a lunch. I always shun the student pale who says, with misfit pride, he never reads the trifling tale with vamps and gore supplied.

Not Right, But the Rule.

Oswald Garrison Villard was denouncing the profiteer in a public speech and told this one:

"A school-teacher said to one of her little pupils:

"'Now, then, Tommy Jones, your papa is a coal man; so suppose coal is selling at $20 a ton and I pay him $100, how many tons of coal will he deliver to me?'

"'About four, ma'am,' little Tommy Jones replied.

"'Four!' said the teacher. 'Why, that's not right.'

"'I know it ain't, ma'am,' said Tommy Jones, promptly, 'but we all do it these days.'"—[Unidentified.

Harry Lauder tells an amusing christening story. The mother had difficulty in removing the infant's rather complicated bonnet and became flustered and the clergyman finally growing impatient turned to the father and said rather curtly: "Can you hold the child?" The big collier gave the clergyman, who was rather diminutive, a disdainful glance. "Haud him?" he whispered fiercely. "Man, I could fling him o'er the kirk, and you, tae, if need be."—[Exchange.

Unfortunate Knowledge.

"I thought sure Jack and Miss Flyrtie would make a match of it. What caused the break?" said Smith.

"It was all due to Jack's unfortunate knowledge of Shakespeare. You see, when he proposed Miss Flyrtie said: 'Well, here's my hand and my heart with it. 'Twas mine; 'tis yours.'

"'And has been slave to thousands,' quoted Jack without thinking—and it was all off in the twinkling of an eye."—[Unidentified.

All Out of Luck.

The sad-looking young man walked down the garden path, somber and sorrowful. His sweetheart watched him with anxious eyes.

"How did father take it?" she asked, tremulously.

"He took it—well," came the reply.

"Oh, I'm so glad, George!" she cried, excitedly.

"Are you!" replied George. "Well, I can't say that I am, dearest. At first your father refused to listen to me."

"But didn't you tell him you had $500 in the bank?" she exclaimed.

"I did," came the dejected answer.

"And what did he do then?"

"Do?" echoed the young man, wearily. "Why, he borrowed it!"—[Boston Post.

A Knouting Incident.

A Jew in Russia was ordered twenty strokes with the knout. The man who had to apply the punishment was also a Jew and the two struck a bargain. For 20,000 rubles paid down the whipper agreed merely to crack his whip while the other screamed. This was done nineteen times, but the twentieth stroke was genuine.

"Why did you do that?" cried the victim.

"To let you realize what a bargain you got," replied the other.—[Boston Transcript.

THE MOUNTAIN'S BREATH.

It often comes all scented, sweet,
With cedar, fir and pine;
And gives a pure, ambrosial treat
And on Olympus dine.

Then chilly winds from off the snow
Come swirling fast and long;
And Boreas lifts his voice to blow,
As if the world were turned to woe

But May and June with fragrant

Bring back the happy hours,
When all the plants and bushes

Are kissed by many busy bees
In flight for mountain flowers.

The autumn hills are brown and sere,
No modest violets peeping;
The gentle zephyrs tiptoe near
And whisper words of hope and cheer:
"They are not dead, but sleeping."

So life is like a breath of air
From off the mountain high;
We catch a fragrance rich and rare
Or see the hills all brown and bare
And God alone knows why.

Sidelights on Banking

Believing that a great many people are not taking advantage of all the varied services of modern Departmental Banks, the Guaranty Bank presents this series of short articles on banking, intended to clear up many common misunderstandings and to point out ways in which your bank can be of greater benefit to you. The next of the series will appear in this paper at an early date.

NUMBER SIX

Bank Examinations

All banks in California are under the direct control of the State or National government or both. This control is expressed through the laws and regulations governing bank activities, through actual examinations by government officials, and by detailed reports of condition required at frequent intervals.

This Bank is subject to examination by four independent bodies—the State Banking Department, the Federal Reserve Bank, the Los Angeles Clearing House Association, and its own Board of Directors. Examinations are made at the will of the Examiners, and generally without warning to the Officers or employees of the Bank.

Determining Bank Assets

These examinations are thorough and complete, covering every department and activity of the Bank. The actual cash in the vaults is counted, and deposits in other banks verified. Bonds and securities are checked over and their real market value determined. Notes are examined closely, and the makers' financial responsibility investigated. If necessary a special appraisal of certain properties securing mortgages is made by the examiners. In a large city bank, this work requires the entire time of three or four examiners for as many weeks, the expense of which is borne by the bank, not the government.

Government control has stabilized banking and safeguarded it from the dangers of unsound practices and abnormal economic conditions. However, it has not been carried to such an extreme degree as to impair economy of management and efficiency of service, as has been true of attempts at government control in other lines of business.

TENTATIVE BOND APPROVAL GIVEN

Issue of Nearly Twenty-five Million Are Favored.

Grade-Crossing Elimination Securities Uncut.

Library, Proposal Made Two and Half Million.

Bonds of a total value of $24,800,000 were given tentative approval yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Special Bond Committee of the City Council. The committee was named by the Council for the purpose of selecting the bonds which will be placed on the ballot of June 7. Of the bonds tentatively agreed on, $17,000,000 are nonrevenue producing public improvement issues, and $7,800,000 are for revenue producing utilities of the city and for improvements.

All of the proposed bond issues were cut by the committee with the exception of that of $1,000,000 for the elimination of grade crossings by the constructions of viaducts. This bond proposal was submitted last Friday by Councilman Sanborn, and at the committee meeting Councilman Criswell urged that the entire amount requested be allowed.

The Board of Library Directors asked for a bond issue of $2,750,000 to erect and equip a library building. This was cut to $2,500,000. The fire department sought $2,000,000 for the erection of fire houses and installation of fire alarm system. This was cut to $1,250,000. The outfall sewer proponents wanted $14,000,000, but the committee allowed them $12,250,000.

Of the revenue producing bonds the Board of Harbor Commissioners will ask the voters to approve of an issue of $4,800,000, the money to be used for improvements and extensions at the harbor, which are declared to be vitally needed at this time. The water department want $3,000,000 to carry out the extensions advocated by Chief Engineer Mulholland.

The committee will hold another meeting this afternoon and will probably make the tentative plans of yesterday permanent, or make further additions or deductions from the proposed bond issues.

Bribery Charge in Liquor Case; Wine is Seized.

Prohibition Enforcement Agent Guswiler of San Diego reported yesterday to Asst. U. S. Atty. Green an asserted attempt on the part of Lorenzo Crangate, living near Escondido, to bribe him by offering $150 to escape arrest by the officers. At the winery of the accused, 2000 gallons of wine were captured that was being sold to all comers at the rate of 75 cents a quart, it is said. Crangate was held in a bond of $1500, on the charge of selling wine, maintaining a public place where liquor is sold, and having liquor in his possession.

The Illinois Club, located at 1064 Fourth street, San Diego, was raided by the prohibition officials, yesterday and the proprietor, Carl Vianelli, taken into custody. He gave bond for $1500 for violation of the Volstead Act.

At the ranch of Dominic Canterno and Dominic Morro, located south of Escondido, fifteen barrels of wine were captured by the prohibition enforcement officers, it was reported yesterday. The proprietors were released on bond.

RUNAWAYS RETURNING.

Youthful Sextet Nabbed in Stolen Car Homeward Bound.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, April 25.—The three Los Angeles high school girls and the three boys who ran away from Los Angeles last Thursday morning in a stolen automobile in which they were apprehended here, started on the return trip to their homes today.

The three girls, Cleo Innes, Ruth Hill and Lucille Berry, are being returned in automobiles by their fathers, H. G. Hill and S. O. Berry, while two of the boys, Manuel Mascerne and Mason Calvery, are returning in the stolen automobile, which is droven by a brother of John Cable, the third youth. Cable is returning with his mother, Mrs. Herbert A. Cable, deputy State Labor Commissioner.

Before leaving the County Jail, the party expressed joy at being able to return to the homes that last week they would have forsaken for the life in the Lake Tahoe districts, had the roads permitted their reaching that place.

The Dread Pyorrhea Begins With Bleeding Gums

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

Let the Other Fellow Rave, Says Wife of Long Experience.

BY JANE DIXON.

Talk in the way of wisdom.

One way to win an argument is to keep quiet and allow the other fellow to talk himself out of his claim.

A woman whose first marriage ended disastrously, though both parties to it loved each other deeply, in the beginning, stands sponsor for the success of the silent way.

She is using it advantageously in her second and present matrimonial venture. So far she has found unqualified happiness.

"I used to think it was smart to flare up with some sort of comeback when my husband delivered an opinion contrary to my views," she admits.

"Arguments started in jest often developed into ugly quarrels, punctuated with accusations, recriminations, caustic criticisms, threats, acts inspired by anger and the deadly get-even spirit.

"Discord so indulged is cumulative.

"The first argument brought to a heated finish may end in a smile for the folly of it, a pledge for a wiser and more forbearing future.

"The second argument ends in a smile not quite so spontaneous and a little less confidence in the promise for the future.

"The third omits the smile and contents itself with a desultory promise.

"So the poison goes on working until argument has become a disease ready to break out in hot words and untempered deeds at the slightest provocation.

"The end is the death of affection—a man and a woman living under the same roof in a bondage which becomes a disagreeable habit or a hateful duty.

"Then the divorce lawyer sharpens up his pencil and prepares to jot down the horrible details."

The woman responsible for the warning has profited by one unhappy experience.

"Today, when my husband crosses my wires, I ring off and ask for another and more pleasing number," is her solution.

When will wives learn that heated arguments never convinced even the most tractable of husbands?

Quiet reason, minus the evil sauce of temper, may accomplish its purpose.

Venom will blast the most worthy cause on earth.

Slip on the muzzle and let the other fellow rave.

THE OLD SWIMMIN' HOLE.

A letter from one boy to another, from a young American to the President of the United States.

The small boy knew the big boy would understand.

Read, and read again:

"My Dear John: I received your letter this morning saying that the boys were very much disappointed because they heard I could not attend the ball in the interest of your swimming pool fund. I am exceedingly glad you wrote to me about this, John, because I do not want the boys to think I am not interested in their getting a swimming pool. I have used swimming pools myself in my time, and there are one or two swimming pools in the creek out near Caledonia, O., that I would like to get into again right now if it were possible.

"You tell the boys that I hope the ball will raise all the money that is needed to provide the pool and that if some of you will come around to the White House with some tickets I will buy some, whether I can attend or not. Yours for the swimming pool.

"WARREN G. HARDING."

Does this mean anything to you, lucky parents?

Or have you forgotten how to play?

There was a time—

"Off with that blouse! Chuck those knickers! One, two, three—last one in teacher's dunce!"

"Down the bank, hold, splash! Away we go, and the fellow who's afraid gets ducked."

And the times you went wading in the mill stream, mother, with your old pinafore—donned for the occasion, dragging recklessly in the dimpling waters, your pink toes digging into the pebbly bottom.

'Member?

Long ago it was.

Yes, but the thrill of the water's cool caress is with you even unto this day.

Everything changes but the eternal spirit of youth.

The President knew—when he wrote to John about the swimming pool.

If your boys and girls have never known the joy of a swimming pool, find one for them, that they may carry it with them along the winding trail of memory.

Let's play hookey from work once in a while and find a grown-up swimming pool.

Wanna?

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Says They're Relics.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Lyster's letter in a recent issue of your paper seems to be peculiarly appropriate to the times and conditions. The cancerous growth of ecclesiastical tyranny has already embedded its tentacles in the body of our nation, and its malignant influence is nowhere so keenly felt as in our own God-favored State of California.

The modern minister is akin to the ancient witch doctor and medicine man, using, as Burton so aptly puts it, the argument of heaven and hell "to 'fright the fools his cunning blinds." A mendacious relic of superstition who has survived his usefulness. Civilization does not need him.

These moral scientists know more about the social anatomy of a pink rat or a scarlet heifer than they know about the teachings of Jesus Christ. Would Christ feel at ease in their company? We wonder. The Sermon on the Mount means nothing in their busy lives, but if you would know the location and accommodations of dives, dens and illicit love nooks, ask the minister. A fine shepherd, this, to lead mankind. More interested in seeking the wolves than succoring the sheep.

The local organization of ministers appears to be little else than an auxiliary of the police department, more concerned in the detection of crime than its prevention. An investigation of the activities of the various similar bodies throughout the country would undoubtedly reveal a record of deceit and duplicity rivaling the record that distinguished the reign of papal supremacy in Europe.

When these fellows are not meddling in the affairs of others, they are squabbling among themselves, creating a proposition in divinity out of the size and source of a marriage fee. It's a noisome mess, this ministerial interference, more disgusting to an honest man than the alleged conditions it pretends to correct. The public should know the extent of their operations and the source of their authority in civic affairs, whether bestowed or appropriated. Here's work for a Hercules, one equipped with the proper tools and a talent for the task.

Yours very truly,
LAWRENCE DEMPSEY.

The Library Can Wait.

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I notice a report in The Times stating that the Public Library wants a bond issue of $2,750,000 for the construction of a main building and four branch buildings, etc., which would necessitate a yearly tax of about 3 cents on every $100 worth of taxable property in Los Angeles. I am in favor of a public library, but, under the present conditions, the proposed purchase of grounds and construction of a large building should be delayed for a few years at least. The people must either stop putting up public buildings or shoveling out money for the "starving babies" and women of Armenia and numerous other countries, for they have been starving for the past three years, according to the collectors, and the aching void may not be filled for some time. Furthermore, it seems that the present building, or one of similar capacity, would suffice for a few years. The report states that the library owns 500,000 books, and that it buys between 20,000 and 40,000 a year. It has too many books. The number could be reduced at least 25 per cent, and without disadvantage to readers. There should be no fiction in a public library. Fiction is either a luxury or a drug. In either case the reader should buy his own dope. The object of a library is to instruct—not to entertain or amuse. There is enough fiction in most of the histories to afford light reading to the weak-minded. There should be no foreign-language books at all.

J. M. SCANLAND.

Make it Cheaper.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In this morning's issue of your paper I saw an article headed "Milk Drinking Drive." The same to be conducted by the California Milk Producers' Association in the public schools throughout the city. School principals and teachers are to be asked to co-operate. Prizes are to be offered for the highest records of milk consumption in one school.

It is claimed by the California Dairy Council that not enough children drink milk regularly. Very well, if there is so much milk to be consumed that the mass of children have to be appealed to through the schools, then why isn't the price of milk put at a figure where there would be no need to campaign for its consumption? Wouldn't every loving parent like to see his or her children have all the milk they want? But at the price it is (and has been for some time,) many children who would dearly love to have it, must be denied. And yet, the children of the rich and poor alike, will be solicited to drink more milk. The one could have it and perhaps does not want it—the other craves it, but the parents cannot afford it. There may be one or two children in the rich family while the poor family has five or six.

Why should such a one-sided proposition be brought into one public school simply to grapple funds to the milk producers' association? They don't need the money as much as more children need the milk.

MRS. E. H. SETTLAGE.

As He Sees It.

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I see by this morning's Times that Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon has arrived in town for the purpose of making a moving picture that will be in the nature of a "moral uplift." Now, it looks to a man up a tree, or elsewhere, that under the circumstances the reader should buy his own dope. The object of a library is to instruct—not to entertain or amuse. There is enough fiction in most of the histories to afford light reading to the weak-minded. There should be no foreign-language books at all.

J. M. SCANLAND.

Make it Cheaper.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In this morning's issue of your paper I saw an article headed "Milk Drinking Drive." The same to be conducted by the California Milk Producers' Association in the public schools throughout the city. School principals and teachers are to be asked to co-operate. Prizes are to be offered for the highest records of milk consumption in one school.

It is claimed by the California Dairy Council that not enough children drink milk regularly. Very well, if there is so much milk to be consumed that the mass of children have to be appealed to through the schools, then why isn't the price of milk put at a figure where there would be no need to campaign for its consumption? Wouldn't every loving parent like to see his or her

GASOLINE ALLEY—RACHEL IS A GOOD LISTENER

(Copyright, 1921, by The Tribune Company, Chicago, Ill.)

Turn On the Light.

REDONDO BEACH, April 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Among the good editorials in your excellent paper, the one this morning on the Vice Danger is most timely, courageous and forceful. Our people have been well aware of the fact that with the disappearance of the saloons, those dens of iniquity which they ever fostered are still with us and receiving a greater patronage since the saloon resorts are not available. Those tainted districts known as "Everyman's Land," have actually reached every part of our beloved Los Angeles and are a constant menace to every household. Your so-called "flappers" are everywhere plying their insidious avocation and infecting every home where possible until our physicians are becoming the chief beneficiaries. Many doctors are confining their entire practice to the pretense of curing these specific poisons which are known to be as incurable and ineradicable as cancer or tuberculosis.

Better for the future of our race that the schools, the churches and many other efforts for the betterment of mankind shall be closed if need be to raise the money and official and professional force to put an end to this greatest of all evils now afflicting mankind.

But, we may proceed vigorously against these vile dens of iniquity and drive the inmates hence and then settle down and smugly congratulate ourselves that we are now safe and our children free from temptation and danger. What of the communities to which they will assuredly flee? Have we cured the evil or simply spread it or transferred it to a new locality?

It is high time for some plain talk where it is most needed. It is time for instruction by our best physicians in the schools to be given to pupils at the proper age for receiving such knowledge, with the most telling and graphic illustrations for making it very plain to their receptive minds, the awful and deadly consequences of this form of physical and mental transgression. Let them know very positively that the wages of this kind of sin is surely death to all their bright hopes for a happy and successful future.

Take It In Time!

DO you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that is they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

DO you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

DO you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

If treated early, that is, within a reasonable time after the first warning symptoms appear, serious conditions may often be averted. Therefore, at the first appearance of such symptoms as periodic pains, irregularities, irritability and nervousness, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken. It is prepared with accuracy and cleanliness from medicinal plants. It contains no narcotics nor poisonous drugs, and can be taken with perfect safety.

The Vegetable Compound acts on the conditions which bring about these symptoms in a gentle and efficient manner. The persistent use of it shows itself in the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms. In a word, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts as a natural restorative, relieving the present distress and preventing more serious trouble.

Why not give a fair trial to this medicine

Value of Improvements on Contested Land Granted to Widow.

The fight of Mrs. Mary Frances Chevallier to recover from her father-in-law, Jeremie Chavallier, ten acres of land near Baldwin Park, valued at $20,000, which she declared he had deeded to her husband, Henry Chevallier, deceased, was determined by Judge Hewitt yesterday, partly in favor of the young widow. The court held she was entitled to $2000, the value of certain improvements made by her husband on the land involved.

A feature of the trial was a purported deed to the land, offered by Mrs. Chevallier, which she declared her father-in-law had signed. Mr. Chevallier declared it was a forgery.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Weds in Sacramento.

Pacific Coast society circles, and particularly Los Angeles and San Francisco folk, are keenly interested in the marriage at noon yesterday in Sacramento of Mrs. Barbara Stephens Zane and Dr. John N. Osburn.

The ceremony took place at noon in the Governor's mansion, where the bride has resided the past three years with her parents, Gov. and Mrs. Stephens. Very Rev. William Hall Moreland, Episcopal Bishop of Sacramento, read the marriage rites in the presence of relatives only.

The bride, who is noted for her beauty and charm of manner, was frocked in changeable taffeta in orchid shades. She wore a corsage bouquet of lavender orchids. Following the ceremony there was a buffet luncheon, after which the couple left for San Francisco for a brief honeymoon. She wore on the trip a gown of dark brown Canton crepe, with hat, shoes and gloves to match.

The couple, with little Marjorie Zane, the bride's daughter, will leave shortly for Minneapolis, where Dr. Osburn has a home at 2208 South Newton avenue. Before leaving, however, they will spend some time with Gov. and Mrs. Stephens.

Besides Gov. and Mrs. Stephens, those at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John K. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Oakley of Los Angeles, Marjorie Zane, Mr. and Mrs. Weston Stephens Wilson of Palo Alto and Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Adams of Sacramento. A few others were at the luncheon. The bride is the widow of Maj. Randolph T. Zane, who died from wounds received in action in the World War. She grew to young womanhood here, this long having been the home of the Stephens family.

At Buffet Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy are to entertain with a buffet supper party this evening in honor of Mrs. Estelle Heartt-Dreyfus following her concert. There are to be twenty-four guests.

A number of other society folk are giving dinner and concert parties, or else suppers after the concert. Among them are Mrs. Hugh Livingstone Macneil, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Becker, Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kimball Swarms, Mrs. Wesley Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Mudd, Mrs. Samuel Kridler and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kennedy.

Also Much Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Marshall of this city have been prominent visitors in Washington, D. C., at the Lafayette Hotel, and have been much entertained during the social season at the national capital.

Back from Bay City.

Mrs. Cameron Erskine Thom has returned from a visit in San Francisco.

Mrs. Ledbetter Here.

Mrs. Gertrude Ledbetter, a victim of the Ambassador fire at Santa Barbara, is here for a few days at the Ambassador, and she and her mother, Mrs. Owsley of New York, have taken the Elmer Gray home in Oak Knoll for several weeks. Mrs. Ledbetter was social director at the hotel and lost all her belongings.

To Honor Two.

Miss Cecile Boyd of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. Kelling Pulliam, who has just returned from Louisville, Ky., are sharing honors today at a jolly little luncheon and matinee party, at which Miss Winifred Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of Glendale, is hostess. The luncheon is at the Mary Louise Tea Shop, and the table is to be centered with a very French floral arrangement of flowers in all the pastel shades. Plates are to be set for Miss Boyd, Mrs. Pulliam, Miss Helen Worthington, Miss Mildred Kipp, Miss Walters, Miss Nanette Francisco, Miss Helen Iten, Miss Esther Rogers, Miss Annette Wallace, Miss Lois Finnigan and Miss Charlotte Grinnell. Miss Boyd, who has been here all winter with her uncle and aunt, Col. and Mrs. Oliver S. Hershman, is returning to Pittsburg with them tomorrow, and will go with them early next month to their summer home in Allanhurst, N. J. She also contemplates a trip abroad very shortly.

Back from Beach.

Mrs. Charles H. Sharp of 3142 Wilshire Boulevard has returned from a two weeks' stay at her summer home in Santa Monica. While there Mrs. Jaro Von Schmidt was her house guest.

By Mrs. Caswell.

Mrs. George A. Caswell is issuing invitations for a reception for the afternoon of Thursday, May 5, at the Marlborough School in honor of the Alumnae Association and the Marlborough Club.

Following the Zoellner Quartet concert last evening, George J. Birkey of Figueroa street gave a midnight supper party in honor of Joseph Zoellner, Miss Antoinette Zoellner, Amandus Zoellner and Joseph Zoellner, Jr. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jan Kubelik, Col. and Mrs. Oliver S. BATIK COLOR SCHEMES ARE THE LATEST.

New Vogue Spreads from Clothes to Interior Decorations of the Home.

It seems a year for batik color schemes. The prevalent epidemic for these, to the uninitiated, rather violent tint-eruptions had an origin, one remembers, in clothes. It has spread to house furnishings until at the present writing, you will know the woman who has, of late, haunted the habitat of the interior decorater by the blends and overtones of color in her floor cushions and window drapes. After one gets past the first vague impression of batik, i.e., that a paint brush has swept all the colors of the palette together and drawn the vivid mixture across the fabric to be decorated, one admits that the effect is good. The melting together of primal hues—red, yellow and purple—after a cleverly camouaged pattern, strikes a high-note, whether on toilette or in draperies, that is brilliantly arresting without lapsing into garishness. Batik coloring, as applied to fabrics of cotton and silk, comes to us of America and Europe from the island of Java. In its warmth and tropical suggestiveness of tone it stimulates the eye as do the surry and chutney-seasoned dishes common to this equatorial island of the South Seas the palate.

WANT AUTO WARNINGS.

Appropriation for Signs to Prevent Parking Near Fire Houses Asked.

In a communication addressed to the City Council yesterday the Board of Public Works asks for an appropriation of $150 to prepare signs to be placed at fire engine houses, prohibiting parking of automobiles. The request was made on recommendation of Fire Chief Scott. The Council recently submitted a list of such signs to the Fire Chief with the request that he prepare an estimate of the amount of money required.

The Daily Fun Hour.

BY HONOR WALSH.

THE MOVING PICTURE STORY.

One of the players is appointed to be the moving picture, and another is selected as the story teller, with forfeit penalty for refusal in either case. The story teller begins the tale—for choice—a detective story—and the moving picture illustrates by absurd gestures and grimaces. Neither must even smile, although all the other players try hard to make them laugh. This game must be played to see how screamingly funny it is.

Forfeits are imposed when either the moving picture or the story teller laughs. All the players take turns with the moving picture story, and a story, book or a picture may be awarded at the close of the game to the actors who have not given in to the temptation of laughing.

Good subjects for the moving picture are favorite scenes from storybooks, from history, from fairy lore or from real moving picture scenarios. If the story teller is clever he or she can make up a funny story introducing all the players, and telling their "fortunes" in this manner—"J— will always have a bone for the dog; M— is going to travel in circles; R— will earn all he gets by hard labor; for C— life will be one grand, sweet song," etc. The moving picture does "stunts" for every fortune told.

SEES ARGUMENT KNOCKED PRONE.

Woman's City Club Debate Has Unusual Ending.

Mitchell Bids All Vote for Bullock's Donation.

Fire Chief Finds Few Know How to Handle Alarm.

BY MYRA NYE.

With one prop after another knocked from beneath the foundation of his argument, John W. Mitchell, president of the Municipal Art Commission, after an hour's debate before the Woman's City Club yesterday, when he took the side of the selfish interests against Bullock's in the St. Vincent's Place fight, at last admitted that justice demands that everyone should vote "No" on Propositions Nos. 1 and 2 and "Yes" on Proposition No. 3 at the primary election, May 2.

In this admission he was agreeing with F. V. McComas, who upheld the Bullock's side of the argument and with smiling good nature throughout his presentation of the subject had reiterated "vote 'No' on Nos. 1 and 2; vote 'Yes' on No. 3." He explained clearly the propositions: Shall the ordinance passed by the City Council permitting Bullock's to build and maintain a structure over St. Vincent's Place be repealed; shall the permit to the Niles Pease Investment Company be repealed, and shall the city of Los Angeles accept $12,000 a year from Bullock's as a donation for the use of the space?

"It is not a newspaper fight, it is not a question of art altogether," said Mr. McComas, "it is purely and simply a question of business integrity. Shall we stand by your Council—whom we elect, in the decision they have made; shall we, as citizens, stand by a bargain that has been made, or shall we go back on our bargain?

"I am in no way connected personally with this fight," the speaker continued, "but as a merchant in this fair city of ours, I speak as a business man. I am planning with pleasure to erect a big business block for wholesale dry goods on the corner of Los Angeles and Eighth streets. I plan to begin very soon. But when I have complied with all the city ordinances as to building, it does not add to my pleasure to think that when the business in which I take such a pride, the block that has gone up is completed, the Municipal Art Commission will come to me and say, 'We don't like that building. We are going to bring an injunction and compel you to tear it down, or pay a big sum of money so that the Art Commission can put up a statue or something on Pershing Square.' That is not unlike the action brought against Bullock's. It imperils the business stability of our city."

In admitting that Mr. McComas was right Mr. Mitchell said: "I'd like to see the city get $1500 per month (from Bullock's,) but since we can't we shall have to be satisfied with $1000."

FIRE CHIEF SPEAKS.

"'Oh! Oh! Our house is afire. It's next door to the church. Come quick!' This is the kind of message we get at the fire department nine times out of ten," said Fire Chief Scott, speaking earlier in the day.

When he asked how many women in the audience of 300 women knew how to call the fire department only three raised their hands.

"You simple take down the receiver and say to central, distinctly, 'fire department' and when you get the department tell exactly where you live, what street and number, what is burning and how far advanced is the fire, and we'll be there double quick," said the Chief.

"The other day," continued the Chief, "I saw somebody tampering with a fire box and when I asked him what he was doing he said he was trying to mail a letter to Iowa, but he didn't know how to get into the thing."

About a third of his audience then indicated to the speaker that they knew how to use the fire box.

"Break glass, pull hook down, that's all," explained Mr. Scott briefly.

Chief Scott was speaking in behalf of Proposition No. 4 on the ballot, May 2, to permit the City Council to raise his salary.

"I am not in politics," said the Fire Chief, "but I live under the stroke of the gong twenty-four hours of the day and in addition am actually in the office or at fires from eight to twelve hours a day. "Last year in Los Angeles $1,500,000 worth of property was burned and eight people lost their lives. That is too much greater than in most cities in the United States, but equipment is inadequate and salaries too low. It is very critical now. Hollywood district has twelve square miles, where there are no fire alarms and three fire engine houses are closed now for lack of equipment. Bonds should be voted to increase the facilities to help the brave boys under me to save life and maintain their own."

EVICTION IS CHARGED.

Couple Declare Landlord Harassed Them Till They Left Premises.

Demanding $5948.20 for purported eviction from the premises at 387 South Marengo street, Pasadena, Sadie Malcolm and George E. Malcolm, in a suit filed yesterday, declare that the defendant, H. C. Cornblith, by systetmatic harassment and annoyance compelled the plaintiffs to leave the premises. The plaintiffs leased the property for $154 a month. Justice R. G. Thompson is joined as defendant in the suit.

MURDER CASE CONTINUED.

In order that additional medical testimony might be introduced, the hearing of Dr. F. N. Staples, accused of the murder of Mrs. Pauline Thomas, through an asserted illegal operation, on March 16, was continued yesterday by Justice Hinshaw until the 29th inst. Dr. A. F. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon, testified that Mrs. Thomas came to her death as the result of peritonitis, caused by the asserted illegal operation. H. L. Geisler is attorney for the defendant.

A HAPPY SOLUTION TO EVERY HOUSEWIFE'S PROBLEM

OHIO

How to clean house in the easiest, quickest and most efficient way is a problem that confronts every housewife.

The broom method is good but necessitates a thorough follow-up of dust and polishing cloths because brooms raise dust and DUST WILL SETTLE on everything in the room.

A carpet sweeper is a good house-cleaning aid but it only skims over the surface. To be effective it must of necessity be cumbersome and unwieldy.

To beat and pound your expensive rugs and carpets is bad practise because it subjects them to injury.

You can, however, keep your new rugs new and brighten up your old floor coverings with

New Street Car Transfer Gives More Change Privileges

The new street car transfer, which will be introduced by the Los Angeles Railway May 1, increases the number of points at which passengers may change cars.

The change may be made at ANY point where two lines join, cross or diverge, except the points specified on the back of the transfer. The exceptions are points which would bring the rider back to the district where the ride originated.

Heretofore, there has been only one point for changing from one line to another. The new plan gives passengers the privilege of changing at the most convenient point and will permit improved distribution of traffic.

Write to the Public Relations Dept. for new booklet on TRANSFER RULES, routes of lines, owl car service, etc.

Study the transfer of your line exhibited in the street cars.

HEAR TWO SIDES ON JAIL SCHEME.

City Club Members Listen to Booster and Opponent.

Municipal League Would Like Industrial Farm First.

City and County Structure Urged by Cogswell.

The City Club yesterday inaugurated its "open forum" discussions of the problem of overcrowded City and County Jail conditions, the speaker at the noon luncheon being Anthony Pratt, Executive Secretary of the Municipal League. Supervisor Cogswell will be the speaker next Monday at noon, and will give his reasons for believing, as do a majority of members of the Board of Supervisors, that a new Hall of Justice should be built at a cost of from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000 to be jointly used by the city police and Sheriff's administrative offices, by the criminal courts and as a jail. Under this plan, the city would pay as rent for the space it would occupy in the building an amount equal to 5 percent interest on the money used in building the sections required by the municipality.

At yesterday's meeting of the club Supervisor Cogswell in reply to statements made by Secretary Pratt said: "Our County Jail is overcrowded, but an industrial farm, as sponsored by the Municipal League would not do away with the necessity of building a Hall of Justice, such as is proposed. Only about one-fifth of the space in the proposed building would be used for jail purposes. It seems to me an economical and wise move for the county to build now a permanent Hall of Justice instead of spending the public money for temporary buildings."

Secretary Pratt declared that the Municipal League is opposed to the proposed Hall of Justice because the league members believed that the expenditure of a large sum for a building of this kind will indefinitely delay the establishment of an industrial farm to be worked by the prisoners.

DOUBLE DEATH REAL PUZZLE.

heard, it was learned that the woman's name is Margaret and that Dr. Durand told her he would come over at once. He left his own home a short time later. The investigators hope that the woman may be able to throw some light on the mental attitude of the men earlier in the night, even if she can not aid materially in solving the case.

Other strange features of this angle, however, are that the two young men were seen at 7:30 p.m. and again shortly before 9 p.m., and no one else was in their machine, according to witnesses. McCauley and Dr. Durand were intimate friends of many years' companionship, and according to friends of McCauley the latter planned to leave for a business venture in South America on May 7.

While the detectives were finding corroborative evidence of their theory of the double murder, Mrs. Charles Francis, 1039 East Forty-second street, a sister of Dr. Durand, who made his home at her house, was insistently confident that her brother and his friend were killed by highwaymen. She and her husband, who conducts the Central Branch Foundry, declare that they heard a high-powered automobile race through Forty-second street to Central avenue just a few minutes after the time of the shooting.

SCOUT QUARREL THEORY.

They are emphatic in their statements that Dr. Durand, who was graduated as a dentist in 1919 from the University of Southern California, has had no trouble with McCauley, who has been his close friend for several years. They also say that Dr. Durand has not been despondent or suffering ill health. They can assign no possible motive for a death pact or a quarrel, they say.

From Julius Noriega, 2957 Brighton street, room-mate of McCauley, came the statement that McCauley had said Dr. Durand was despondent and had threatened to commit suicide. To prevent this, Mr. Noriega said McCauley took a Colt automatic revolver from the young dentist and kept it in his own room. This is the revolver identified as the one found near the scene of the shooting, the detectives say.

BOTH GUNS F'RED.

A .38-caliber automatic Savage revolver also was found there. Both guns had been fired recently, according to the report of Detectives Slaten, Houston, Curtis, Thompson and Barnes of the flying squadron, who first investigated the case.

Mrs. Francis and Mrs. D. H. Weigert, the latter being the mother of McCauley, were prostrated by the shock yesterday.

The shooting was heard about 2:55 a.m. yesterday. Miss Lorene Snyder, 869 East Forty-second street, told the detectives she heard a shot and then a man cry out, "Jesus, Jesus!" This was followed by other shots, she said. After these came the crash of the automobile, which Dr. Durand had rented from the Stillwell Car and Supply Company, against a water hydrant at the street corner.

It was first believed the men had been killed by the accident, and they were taken into the home of D. J. Kelly, 842 East Forty-second street. The detectives found that each had been shot twice. Dr. Durand was wounded twice in the abdomen, the shots taking effect close together. Powder burns were evident, showing the revolver had been held close to him. McCauley was shot once under the left shoulder and once over the heart.

START LAST RIDE.

From Mr. and Mrs. Francis and friends of McCauley it was learned that the young men had started for a ride about 7:30 o'clock Sunday night. They went to McCauley's house, where an army blanket was obtained. McCauley is believed to have taken at this time the revolver he was keeping for his friend.

McCauley recently has been a scenario writer, his friends say, and Mr. Noriega declares he sold toy balloons in wholesale lots. He had been a close friend of Dr. Durand since they were boys, Mrs. Francis explained, and frequently visited the Francis home.

Dr. Durand was graduated from the McKinley public school, Los Angeles High School and the University of Southern California. For about one year he had offices at 5438 Central avenue. During the World War he was in the Medical Corps.

CITRUS SHIP TESTS CANAL.

The first commercial test of the Panama Canal as a connecting link between Pacific and Atlantic ports was proven successful by recent citrus fruit shipments, according to Lester W. Collins, refrigeration technologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, who arrived in Los Angeles from Washington yesterday. He was on board the steamers Charles Cramp and Liberator, which carried the first cargoes, making government tests.

That all shipments from this coast to Atlantic ports were commercially satisfactory, was the statement of Mr. Collins yesterday in a conference with officials of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

The government is satisfied with the tests, said it is merely a matter of working out devices and refrigeration systems for the boats which will measure up to the standards of the upheads," he stated yesterday. "The perishable fruit shipments by water have been successful, but there is still work to be done in order to minimize the loss in transit."

The Department of Agriculture kept close watch on the recent shipment of citrus fruits as a test of the commercial value of the canal, according to Mr. Collins.

Heavy tonnage producers on the Coast have been encouraged by the success of the citrus shipments and cargoes of apples, pears, grapes in drums and onions will be shipped in this manner, according to S. J. Arundel, ocean transportation manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Carrying twenty-one carloads of oranges and lemons, the Isthmian Line steamer Steel Ranger will sail tomorrow from Los Angeles Harbor to Boston.

The steamer Yalta of the North Atlantic and Western Line clears port at Los Angeles Harbor for New York on Thursday loaded with thirty cars of lemons and twenty cars of oranges, Mr. Arandel announced yesterday.

PORT NOTES.

John Edward Dixon and James Herbert Lovett, two stowaways who arrived here two weeks ago on the steamer Kolbeck from Liverpool, will be deported today on the Williams-Diamond freighter West Camak. Dixon and Lovett were refused entry here and at San Francisco on the Kolbeck and had to be taken back to England at the expense of the Williams-Diamond Company, operators of the Kolbeck.

The several score of purse seine fishing boats which have lined the docks along the main channel up to the present will have to be moored somewhere else in the future, according to the select of the port pilots and the harbor commission.

The port pilots complained that the boats often moored five and six deep out into the channel, made it dangerous for theorises and for large steamers entering and leaving the harbor. Arrangements are being made for the anchoring of the fishing boats in Watchorn's basin and in the outer harbor in the future.

The European-Pacific freighter West Camak, which arrived yesterday from San Francisco, is loading a heavy shipment of Southern California products at pier A, destined for Liverpool, London, Hamburg and Antwerp. She will sail today.

What Is ORANGE PEKOE Tea?

IT has nothing to do with oranges. It is simply an oriental term to denote one of the different gradings of tea. There are three gradings of Orange Pekoe Tea—

Broken Orange Pekoe } " " " choice "
Orange Pekoe } " " " average "

The first two are very much superior to ordinary Orange Pekoe. Ridgways (Gold Label) Orange Pekoe Tea is composed only of the Flowery and Broken Orange Pekoes—the finest teas procurable.

LINING UP FOR REDUCED RATES.

Fruit, Vegetable Men Start Compiling Facts, Figures.

Federal Official Coming for Conference Here in May.

Citrus League Directors to Hold Meeting Tomorrow.

Officials of the vegetable, citrus and deciduous fruit interests of Southern California yesterday began the task of compiling facts and figures concerning the effect that the present excessive rail freight rates have exerted upon the industries, for presentation at the rate conference to be conducted in this city May 3 by Henry J. Ford, special assistant to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The purpose of the conference, as announced in dispatches from Washington, is to secure information from both the producers and railroads relative to rates on fruits and vegetables. It is stated that the meeting is not for the purpose of taking evidence as to the reasonableness of existing rates, but is merely the gathering of facts for the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington. Petitions from virtually all of the heavy tonnage producing industries of the West for lower freight rates are now pending before the commission.

Thomas O'Neill, president of the California Vegetable Union, was in conference yesterday with other representatives of the vegetable industry in California, outlining the program for presentation at the conference.

A special meeting of the board of directors of the California Citrus League is scheduled for tomorrow, at which time the representatives of the citrus industry will discuss the preparation of data for the commission hearing.

The Citrus League represents about 95 per cent of the industry and is composed of directors from the California Fruit Growers' Exchange and from independent shipping organizations.

NEW TUNNEL CASE IS PARTLY ARGUED.

MRS. O'DONNELL RENEWS HER FIGHT AGAINST SECOND-STREET BORE.

An amended bill of complaint brought by Ann O'Donnell against City Treasurer Powell and the Board of Public Works to enjoin the issuance of bonds for the construction of the Second-street tunnel, was partially argued before U. S. District Judge Bledsoe yesterday, and will not be concluded until Wednesday, May 2, when Assistant City Attorney Mealey will finish his argument on behalf of the city, and Delphin M. Delmas will address the court for the plaintiff. Mrs. O'Donnell, accompanied by a number of women friends, was an interested auditor yesterday.

The complaint differs from those previously argued in that it sets out the charge that property owners inside the assessment district who will not be benefited by the tunnel have been heavily assessed, and that other property owners who will be benefited have escaped such assessment.

The argument on both sides largely follows that submitted in the other case in which the same plaintiff and defendants were parties, the present one being on the motion of the city to dismiss the amended bill. The plaintiff contends that the construction of the tunnel is not an "improvement" of that thoroughfare, while the city's attorneys argue the other end of the proposition.

AID FOR STARVING.

Arabian Nights Ball and Supper to Help Helpless in Armenia.

For the purpose of raising funds to carry food to the thousands of helpless babes in Armenia, the Near East Relief is giving an Arabian Nights ball and supper this evening at the Ambassador, under the direction of Mme. Norine Norkoff.

Mme. Norkoff, who is a house guest of Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, is a field worker for the national committee. She is a granddaughter of Henry Ward Beecher. In 1914 she joined the French camion service and drove an ambulance from the siege of Verdun to Nancy. She later traveled through the United States with the lecture bureau of the French high commission, and in 1919 gave her time and energies to the aid of the fatherless children of France.

The Arabian Nights ball and supper will be marked by many novel features, including a dance number by the Marion Morgan dancers and an auction in charge of Charlie Murray.

Elinor Glyn, the famous novelist, will be among the special guests attending the affair, while a number of officers from the Pacific Fleet and Balloon School will be present.

ASK HEALTH OFFICER.

Wilmington Chamber Wants Official for Full Time in District.

Upon request of the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, the City Council yesterday considered the appointment of a full-time health officer for the harbor district. The Council considered appointing one officer who will devote his entire time to San Pedro, Wilmington and Gardena. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Proper Treatment for Whooping Cough.

It is of interest to all and especially to the parents of young children to know what is best to be done for whooping cough. Mrs. Walter Beall, Pattonsburg, Mo., relates her experience. "A few years ago our children had whooping cough and the only medicine we gave them was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It kept their coughs' loose and expectoration easy. They were not sick very long and had a light attack of it. I give credit for their speedy cure to this medicine."—[Advertisement.

To Save American Industry

A fight against radical labor bosses

WE, Master Printers of Los Angeles, cannot emphasize too strongly that the future industrial welfare of Southern California is in jeopardy.

The fact that the Unions have made demands on us to cut the work-week from 48-hours to 44-hours, with no reduction in pay, is but one serious detail.

The big fact is this: should the printing unions gain their end, the shorter week—with the resultant decreased production and increased cost—will spread to every other industry.

But, this is not all.

The Unions are not after 44-hours as an ultimate end. Far worse than that. The American Federation of Labor, in convention in Montreal last June, decided to demand a 44-hour week this year and within two or three years demand a 36-hour week.

It is true that a large percentage of the good, sane American workers believe in the 48-hour week and do not favor these reductions. But the paid labor bosses, backed by the radical element, have mapped out this program and will stop at nothing—even to the wrecking of American industry—to put it through.

The time to stop this disastrous program is now. The public must arise—unite—and meet this situation with firm might.

We, whose names appear below, are united in the "48-hour League of California", to resist to the limit the demand made on us for a 44-hour week.

It is not our cause alone.

Give your loyal support to these firms.
